PREFACE.

SOME years ago, in the course of an investigation into the history of printing in Japan, I found that the earliest book printed with movable types in that country, under purely native management, bore a date corresponding to A.D. 1596, and from various evidence I came to the conclusion that the invention had been introduced about that time from Korea, where it had been in use for over two-and-a-half centuries. I was, however, unaware that there existed in various European libraries at least five separate works, all of earlier dates, printed in Japan with Roman type by the Jesuit missionaries. So that the art had been actually practised on Japanese soil by foreigners, for some years before its adoption by the people of the country. On the other hand, the earliest dated work from the local mission press in which the Japanese character is used belongs to 1598. A letter of 1594 speaks of devotional treatises in Japanese with Japanese characters, but these were probably engraved on blocks. It seems possible therefore, though perhaps not very probable, that the Japanese may have learnt the advantages of typography from the missionaries, and not from the Coreans.

From Bartoli we find that Valignani returned to Japan from Europe on July 21st, 1590, bringing with him a fount of European type, and that the first extant work produced at the new press was published the following year. It forms No. 1 of the present list.

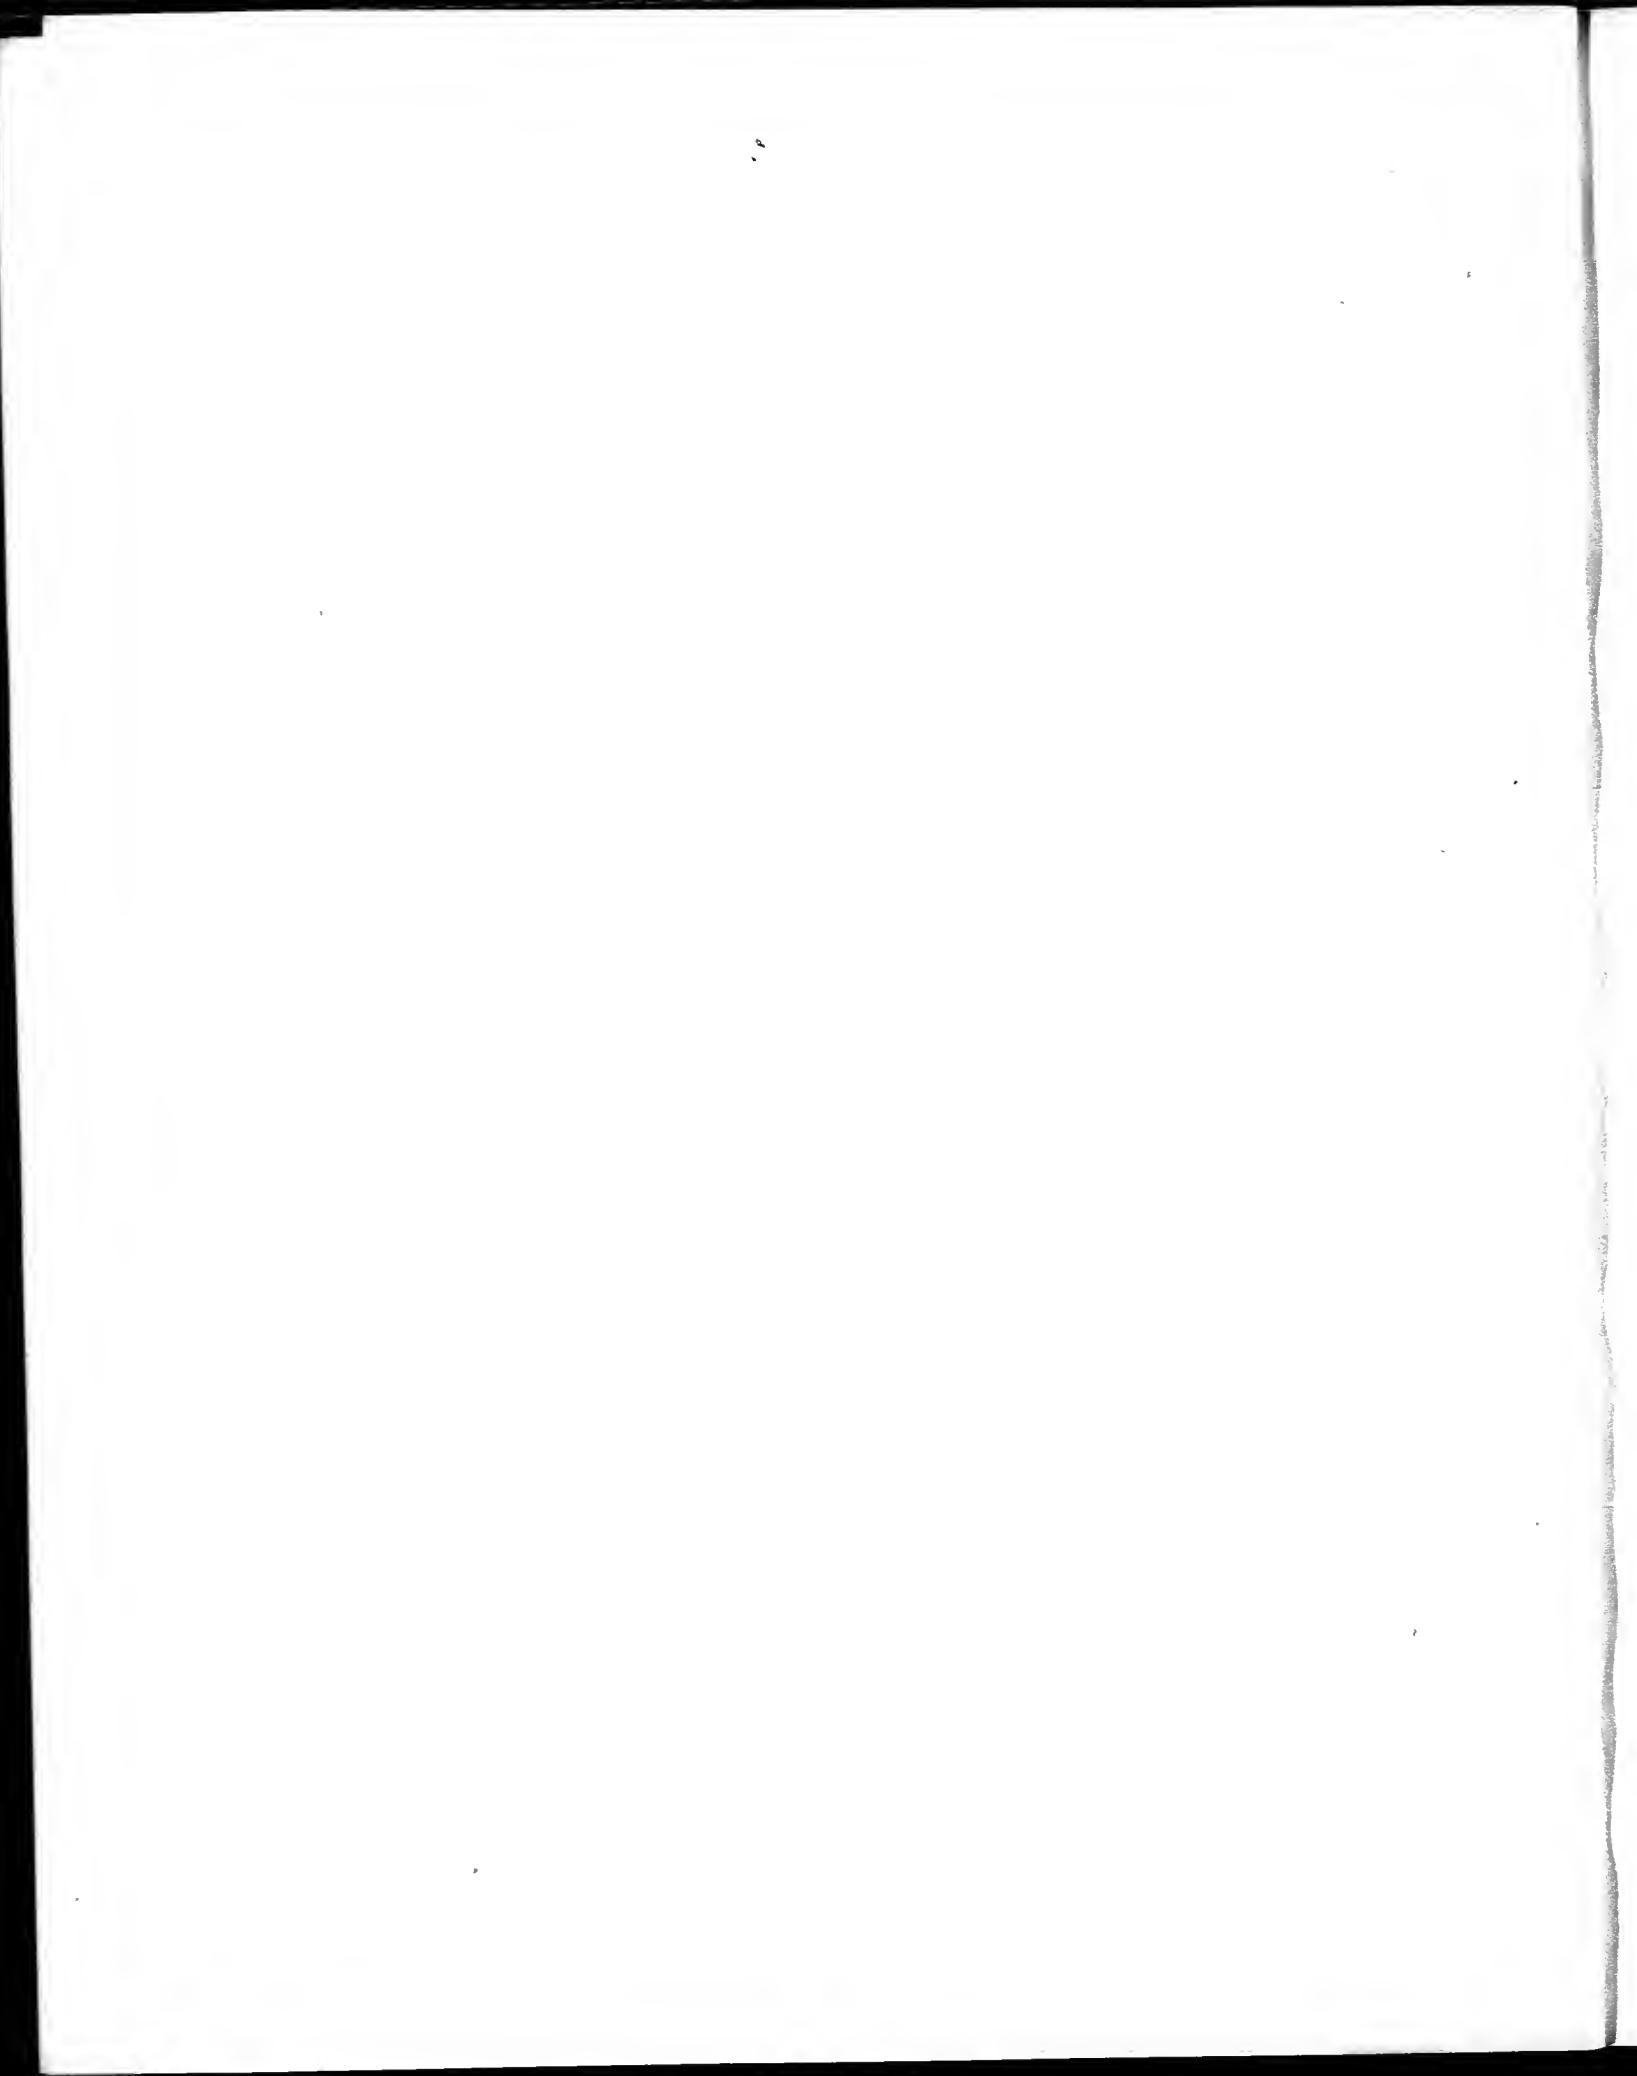

It is only fair to add that I was greatly aided in my searches by the Bibliographie Japonaise of M. Léon Pagès, although it was the "Bibliothèque Asiatique et Africaine" of Ternaux-Compans that first drew my attention to these books. To Bodley's Librarian, to the Authorities of the British Museum, as well as to those of the National Library and Library of the Institute in Paris, to the gentlemen in charge of the Biblioteca Angelica and Biblioteca Casanatense at Rome and to the Director of the Torre do Tombo at Lisbon, I am greatly indebted for their courteous aid in my investigations; as well as for permission to have facsimiles made of the title-pages of books under their control. I owe also a large debt of gratitude to a German friend in Rome who procured for me the opportunity of studying one work which was not to be found in any public library. Last and not least, my sincerest acknowledgments are due to the Authorities of the Leyden University Library, who in response to a request made on my behalf by Mr. Bullen, sent a rare and probably unique volume over to England, in order that it might remain long enough at the British Museum for its complete transcription.

The facsimile title-pages of the volumes in the Bodleian were executed at the University Press, Oxford, those of the British Museum books and of the Leyden volume by Mr. Praetorius and that of the Manuale of Cerqueira by Signor Martelli. My endeavours to procure facsimile-titles of other books in Rome have been unsuccessful, owing to that gentleman's inability to find time for taking the necessary negatives.

St. Peter, surrounded by other Saints. This plate, as well as the others used for several subsequent publications, was almost certainly engraved in Japan by a native artist who received his training in one of the Jesuit seminaries. In the "Lettera Annua del Giapone dal Marzo del 1593, sino al Marzo del 94,"* the writer says that some of the pupils had made great progress in painting, both in distemper and in oils, and in engraving on copper, copying the paintings and engravings which had been brought from Rome by the Ambassadors.† It is true that the pictures here spoken of were for hanging up in houses as objects of devotion, and that no special mention is made of such unimportant pieces of work as small plates for title-pages, but careful inspection of the prints leads to the conclusion that they are the work of natives.

Cotton (Typographical Gazetteer, p. 276) has the following note:—" Tacacum, or and Portuguese Vocabulary; the whole comprising about 700 pages. On the title-page of each part is a tolerably-executed engraving from a copper-plate, and both parts bear the date of 1591. Not professing myself to be intimately acquainted with the niceties of the Japanese tongue, I here submit to the reader the entire title-page and imprint of one part, literatim: "Sanctos nogosagueono uchinnuqigaqi quan dai ichi. FII en no cuni Tacacunogun Iesus no companhia no Collegio Cazzusa ni voite Superiores no von yuruxi no cō muri core uo fanto nasu mono nari. Goxxuxxe irai. 1591," which amiable morceau is commended to his best attention. Need I add a syllable on the degree of rarity of this curious volume, of which this copy, formerly belonging to the learned Selden, may, perhaps, be unique in Europe?" Where Cotton obtained the authority for his so-called town of Takagus in the island of Niphon, I have been unable to discover. It is clear that Tacacu is not the name of a town, but that of one of the subdivisions (gun or kōri) of the province of Hizen. FII EN is Fijen, the local pronunciation of what in the dialect of the capital becomes "Hizen." His mistake is the more curious, as he remarks that the book was printed "at the College of Cazzusa, a settlement three miles distant from the town of Arima," which, as every one knows, is in the island of Kiushiu, not in the larger one which Europeans used to call Niphon. Cazzusa is evidently identical with Katsusa, distant $4\frac{1}{2}$ miles from Minami Arima, and $6\frac{1}{2}$ from Kita Arima, on the peninsula formed by the county or department of Takaku.*

The seminary seems to have been removed to the island of Amakusa shortly after the date of this book. At p. 52 of the Literæ annuæ japonenses anni 1591 et 1592, there is a section entitled "De Collegio Canzucano, quod nunc est in Amacusa." At p. 56 of the same we read "P. Visitator [Valignani] tandem Canzucam reuertit," and at p. 57, "Hoc tempore, è principibus viris, qui venerūt salutatum patrem, fuit Dominus Joannes; qui (quoniam Meaco nunciabatur Quabacondonum non cogitare de Patribus restituēdis, foreque neceſſarium, vt Collegiū Canzucanū ob portus marinī celebritatem, è medio tollatur) operam suam offerebat pro conseruando Collegio, in ditione sua," and lastly, at p. 66, "maxima diligentia vñ sumus, tū in aptādo Seminario, in loco quodā dicto Fachirao, tribus paſſuū milibus ab Arima disiuncto, tū in locādo Collegio & Nouitiatu in vrbe Amakusana."

The "silk paper" on which the book is printed was probably manufactured from a mixture of gampi (Wikstrœmia canescens) and mitsumata (Edgeworthia papyrifera), and has no more to do with the produce of the silkworm than the so-called rice-paper, upon which Chinese artists are wont to paint for the delectation of the foreigner, has to do with the grain which furnishes the food of their countless millions of fellow-countrymen. Perhaps the earliest writers in Latin spoke of charta serica, i.e. Chinese paper, which later on was interpreted by its other meaning "silk paper."

† Or, Petrus de Natalibus, Bishop of Isola in the Venetian territory in 372. He completed a catalogue of saints, with their lives, first published at Vicenza in 1493, and again at Leyden in 1543

‡ The Lyons edition of the Chronicon, of 1586, has the following note

Haec S. Sebastiani vita in linguam Iaponicam translata singularem animi constantiam addidit cuidam adolescenti ex illis remotissimis regionibus Catholicae religionis neophyto. Cum enim ad eum à Catholica religione avocandum daemon suorum administratorum nervos omnes intenderet, & patrib. Societatis Iesu ad eum consolandum & confortandum omnis aditus interclusus esset, dederunt illi operam, ut haec D. Sebast. vita in manus illius veniret, qua ille confirmatus mirabilem de daemone eiusq. asseclis potentissimis victoriari reportauit, lege litteras Iaponicas P. Ludouici Froes sexto Iunij. a. 1577 scriptas.

This letter of Froes was published under the title of Brevis Iapaniae insulae descriptio, Col. Agrippa 1582, and the passage referred to will be found on f. 9 near the bottom of the page. But it does not refer by name to St. Antonino's life of St. Sebastian. Still the note in the Chronicon shows that before the introduction of Roman type into Japan there existed MS. Lives of the Saints, and the present collection may have circulated for years previous to its being printed.

From this list it would appear that the volume before us is no translation of a then existing compendium of the Lives of the Saints, but rather a compilation from various sources within reach of the writer or writers. The Chronicon of S. Antoninus, Archbishop of Florence (probably the Lyons edition of 1543), furnished the greater portion of the materials; and the next numerous are the lives by Simeon Metaphrastes, in the compilation of Lipomanus edited by Surius, the third in point of frequent reference being the Historia Ecclesiastica of Eusebius. The "Historia" of John of Damascus furnished the basis of the legend of Barlam and Josaphat, and the remaining lives were taken from Mellitus, Bishop of Laodicea, St. Bonaventura, St. Jerome, Petrus de Natalibus, and the Acts of the Apostles.

The following extracts will suffice as specimens of the style.—

TRANSLATION.—To-day the Holy Church celebrates the victory gained by St. Peter and St. Paul over the three enemies of the human race. These three enemies are the flesh, the world and the devil. To-day's is the most important of Christian celebrations, because it is the day on which the chief captains of Christianity gained the victory. It would be the natural course to celebrate separately the gaining of the victory by these Two, and the reason why they are celebrated together is, that on this day Christian joy and devotion were redoubled, and a double example was afforded. It is right that when the cause is doubled, the respect paid to God should be doubled also. Again, it was determined by God that these Two should be martyred together to-day. During their lifetime they were united in thought, and on this selfsame day they offered up their lives at the selfsame place, at the command of the selfsame wicked prince for the support of the selfsame faith. St. Paul was a Roman, and therefore, in accordance with an ancient law, was decapitated. St. Peter, being a descendant of Judah, was hung on the cross, following the precedent of Our Lord Jesus Christ. For these reasons the Church to-day solemnly celebrates their memory.

Some saints are celebrated solely because they obeyed God's will. Others because they died by reason of the manifold hardships they underwent for the purpose of spreading His Church. To-day's Saints are celebrated for both these reasons. These Two are not only the parents of all Christianity, but are also teachers. So, although no man has more than two flesh-and-blood parents, he has spiritual parents likewise. It was with reference to this that Jesus Christ said, "Whosoever shall do the will of my Father which is in heaven, the same is my brother, and sister and mother."

VITA BEATORUM BARLAAM ET IOSAPIAT CONFESSORVM, Et Sanctorum Monachorum agones & martyria ſub Auenniro rege Indiae paſſorum, per D. Ioannem Damascenum ſcripta, nuper e Graeco in Latinum versa . .

CAPVT I.

Cum cœpissent monasteria construi, ac monachorum cōgregari multitudines, & illorum virtutum, & angelicæ conuersationis fælix fama fines orbis occuparet, & vñque ad Indos perueniret, eodem ad similem zelum excitauit: ita quod multi eorum omnia desererent, ac peterent deserta, & in corpore mortali conuersationem susciperent angelorum. Rebus igitur sic bene se habentibus, & aureis (vt ita dicam) pennis, multis in celum volâtibus, surrexit quidam rex in eadem prouincia Auennir nomine: magnus quidem factus diuitijs, & potentia, & contrâ aduersarios suos victoriosus, & in bellis strenuus. Erat enim corporis magnitudine, pariterque vultus decore venerâdus, omniumq; mundâlium rerum citò marcescentium successibus gloriabatur: secundum verò animam vltima grauabatur inopia, multis malis suffocatus: Gentilis namque erat professionis, nimiumq; supersticio errori idolorum deditus. Cumq; in multis delitijs viueret, & delectationib; atque iucunditatibus præsentis vitæ deditus esset ex toto corde, nihilque quod vellet, atq; desideraret, ei deesset: vnum tamen videbatur esse quod lætitia illius minuebat, curisque ac solitudinibus ipsius animam affligebat, videlicet iteritatis malum: nam filios habere nō poterat, & idcirco multum solicitus erat quatenus tali vinculo solueretur, [ut] pater filiorum vocaretur: quæ res multis est optabilis. Talis itaque rex erat, & talè intentionem habebat.

Gloriosissimum verò genus Christianorum, & monachorum multitudines, regis cultum vilipendentes, & prorsus minas eius non formidantes, proficiebant Christi gratia, ad sermonis meliorem plenitudinem traditi, paruipendentes regem, regisque sermonem: ea verò quæ ad Dei cultum pertinebant, studiosius agebant. Et ideo multi qui monachicum suscepserant ordinem, omnes quidem æqualiter mundi delectationes à se repellebant: Ad vnius verò Dei cultum tota intentione se contulerant, & pro Christo mortem fitiebant, æternam desiderantes beatitudinem. Prædicabât ergo fine timore aliquo, & dilatione, & valde cōfidenter salutare Dei nomen, & nihil aliud nisi Christum in ore habebant. Fluidani verò & corruptibilem naturam præsentium rerum, & stabilitatem atq; incorruptionē futuræ vitæ, aperte cunctis demonstrabant, & se ipsos illis exemplū præbebât, & prædicationis semina spargebant, vt familiares illos Deo efficerent, quatenus, quæ in Christo abscondita est, vitam mererentur. Hinc multi dulcissimam illam doctrinam suscientes, amaras quidem deceptionis deserebant tenebras, clarissimoq; veritatis lumini iungebantur: adeò vt quidam nobilium atque senatoriū, omnia deponentes vitæ seculi onera, monachi fierent.

Rex autem vt hoc audiuit ira maxima repletus, atque furore succensus, edictum ilico posuit, omnem Christianum coarctari, vt negaret fidè Christi. Vnde nouas contra ipsos quidem Christianos species tormentorum excogitabat, & studiosè perquirebat, nouos mortium modos minabatur eis, & literas per vniuersas sibi subiectas prouincias delegabat principibus atq; ducibus, pœnas aduersus pios, & neces iniustas decernens: Præcipue verò aduersus monasterij [sic] ordinis præpositos furens, atrocissimum contra eos atq; ineffabile excitauit bellum. Tunc multi fideliū mente commouebantur: Alij verò tormenta sustinere non valentes, execrabilis illius obediebant præcepto. Monastici autem ordinis duces ac principes, palam quidem atque in facie regis impietatem redargentes, per martyrium, temporalem vitæ finem fortiebantur, & æternam acquirebant beatitudinem. Alij verò in solitudinibus & montibus abcondebantur, non quod tormëta metuerent, sed dispensatione quadam diuina hoc agebant.

verò ministris omnia tenentibus, cruoribus & nidoribus sacrificiorum etiam ipso iam aëre inquinato quidam regis Archisatrapa, qui dignitate, qui animi cōstantia, magnitudine, atque forma, & omnibus alijs, quibus pulchritudo corporis & fortitudo significari potest, ab alijs omnibus differebat, vt audijuit impium illud præceptum, valefaciens huic vanæ gloriæ deorsum trahenti, atque delitijs temporalibus, monachorū præpositis sēmetipsum commisicuit, montium deferta petens: ibique ieunij & vigilijs, ac diuinorum eloquiorum meditationi intentus, sensus suos vigilanter emundabat, & animam ab omni liberans paſſibili affectu, impassibilitatis lumine illustrabat. Rex autem hunc valde diligebat, & in honore maximo habebat: Qui postquam audijuit de eo talia, doluit quidem animo, quoniam amicum perdidera: contra monachos verò amplius exarsit in iram. Misit itaque vbiq; ad eius inquisitionem, & omnem lapidem, ac montium concaua, & spelūcas, vt inueniretur, perquiri fecit.

Post aliquantum verò temporis hi qui ad inquisitionem illius directi fuerant, vt fenserunt in desertis eum habitationem habere, perſcrutantes, inuenierunt eum. Quem comprehendentes, regis tribunali exhibuerunt. Videns autem rex sic in paupere & asperimo uestitu, illum videlicet, qui splendidis aliquando induebatur uestimentis, & multis affluebat delicijs: nunc verò maceratum dura anachoreſeos conuersatione, & eremiticae vitæ patieuter opertum uestimentis, tristitia ſimul & ira replebatur, & ex ambobus sermonē miscens, ait ad eum: O ſtulte & mentis perditæ, cuius rei gratia mutasti honorem in contumeliam, & ſplendentē gloriam in hunc ignominiosum ac vilem aspectum: es primus in regno meo, & mea archistrategos potentiae, Ludū puerorum temetipsum conſtituisti, non ſolum noſtræ amicitiae atque fiduciae oblitus, ſed & contra ipſam inſurrexiſti naturam, & neque propriorum filiorum miſertus, diuinitas & omnē vitæ gloriam pro nihil reputaſti, & tantam in honorationem inclytæ præposuſti gloriae: vt quid hoc feciſti? & quid hinc lucraberis quod omnibus dijs, videlicet & hominibus illum, qui dicitur Ieſus prætuliſti, duramq; etiam iſtā & ſuperficiofam conuerſationem delectationibus atq; iucūditatibus dulciſimam vitæ huius?

Haec audiens ille homo dei, hilariter ſimul ac planè reſpondit: Si rationem à me audire viſ, ô rex, inimicos tuos de medio prætorij tui ejice, & tunc reſpondebo tibi de quibuscumque interrogare volueris. Illis namque præſentibus nullus à me tibi fermo reddetur. Præter rationem verò, torque, occide, fac quod viſ. (Antverpiae, Apud Ioannem Bellerum. s. a.)

The endeavour now being made in Japan by the Society known as the Rōmaji Kai to introduce the Roman alphabet as the medium of communication in place of the Chinese characters and the native syllabaries is well-known to all those who are interested in Japanese matters, and its success is ardently desired by all those who wish to facilitate for the rising generation the acquisition of Western knowledge in all its branches. European students have for many years past devised various systems of transliteration, chiefly for foreign consumption, and the first modern attempt to popularize such a system for the use of the Japanese themselves was made only a few years back by Dr. J. C. Hepburn in the publication of the Romanized New Testament in Japauſe. But nearly three hundred years ago the Jesuit Fathers did the same thing for their converts, as well as for the use of the miſionaries themselves. The Sanctoſ no Gosagueo, the first book that issued from their presses, was directed towards this end. It was followed by several other works, some of which are described in this pamphlet, while of others the libraries of Europe do not, as far as I have been able to ascertain, possess any copies. And later on it would appear that the romanized style was partially abandoned in favour of a mixture of Chinese and syllabic characters, probably, as may be conjectured, with the object of obtaining for religious books a wider circulation among the people. The suppression of the Christian missions in the seventeenth century has, however, rendered it impossible for us to say with certainty whether romanization actually turned out a failure, and we cannot consequently predict failure or success for the efforts which are being made in the nineteenth century. It is, however, worth while to analyze the texts of which examples have been given above, in order to show what was the system then adopted. Mr. B. H. Chamberlain has already, in a paper read before the Asiatic Society of Japan on October 12th, 1887, done this for the Arte da lingoa de Japam, printed between 1604 and 1608, and I propose now to give an idea of what had preceded the transcription of Rodriguez, from which, however, it does not differ to any serious extent. An examination of the printed Cartas de Japão would enable me to carry it back to a still earlier date, as far as proper names are concerned, but I have none of them within reach at this moment.

In the following table the elements of the Japanese syllabary are arranged according to the so-called go-jū in, the sonants being in brackets:—

a	ca(ga)	sa (za)	ta (da)	na	fa (ba)	ma	ya	ra	{ua va}
y, i	qi (gui)	xi (ji)	chi (gi)	ni	fi (bi)	ri	—	ri	—
v	{cu qu} (gu)	su (zu)	t ç u (zzu)	nu	fu (bu)	mu	yu	ru	—
ye	qe (gue)	xe (je)	te (de)	ne	fe (be)	me	—	re	—
eo	co (go)	so (zo)	to (do)	no	fo (bo)	mo	yo	ro	no

The long o is represented by õ and ô. These were doubtless intended to be distinguished, but as far as I can see the first is chiefly employed in writing Japanese words, the second in words of Chinese origin. Long u is ü. nyo and nyu are rendered by nho and nhu, in accordance with the Portuguese method. xa, xu and xo represent the sha, shu and sho of the Rōmaji Kai, corresponding sonants being gia and ja, ju and gio, but jō of the modern system is jō. For jū the Portuguese missionaries had giū. For biō, they used both beō and biō, no doubt intending some distinction no longer recognized. Now and then an inconsistency may be observed, as quijite for kite, while ii is either yi or iy.

The romanized way of writing Japanese evidently facilitated the introduction and adoption of foreign words, spelt either as in Latin or Portuguese, but, as we learn from Rodriguez, to be pronounced in Japanese fashion. Thus in the extracts already given, we have Doutores, Sancta Ecclesia, Christian, Deus, Martyr, Fides, Iesu Christo, Cruz, Beato, Spiritual, Gentio and Anima. Rodriguez says, p. 179, "Of the manner of introducing some of our words into the Japanese language, in which they are wanting, and of how they should be pronounced:—

" Seeing that the Japanese tongue wants words to express numerous new things required by the holy Gospel, it is necessary either to invent such, which is difficult in Japanese, or to take them from our language, corrupting them as may best suit the Japanese pronunciation, so as to be, as it were, indigenous. And as the Portuguese language has much resemblance to that of Japan, both in many of the syllables and in pronunciation, they can usually be taken from it, although some have been taken from the Latin also. These words are solely such as relate to God, to the saints, to the virtues, and other things which they (the Japanese) have not got.

"For this purpose it should be noted that every Japanese word ends either in a vowel, or in one of two consonants, N and T. They are also without the liquids L, R, and other intermediary letters, as used in ipse, tactus, opto, &c. Also the syllables Di, Du, Ti, Tu, as has been said elsewhere; and conformably to this should be accommodated the names given to Christians, as well as other names."

"It should be observed that as the Japanese pronounce all their words as if consisting of simple syllables formed of a vowel and a consonant, they say Patere for Padre, Nataru for Natal, Yequerejia for Ecclesia, &c. Nevertheless, when such names are written with our alphabet, it is well to write them after our fashion, and not after the Japanese."

How this expedient was put into practice may be seen from a list of the Latin and Portuguese words which occur in the "Confessionarium" (No. 8 of this list), one of the earliest works printed in native type, of which a complete copy has been preserved in Europe.

"For this purpose it should be noted that every Japanese word ends either in a vowel, or in one of two consonants, N and T. They are also without the liquids L, R, and other intermediary letters, as used in ipse, tactus, opto, &c. Also the syllables Di, Du, Ti, Tu, as has been said elsewhere; and conformably to this should be accommodated the names given to Christians, as well as other names."

"It should be observed that as the Japanese pronounce all their words as if consisting of simple syllables formed of a vowel and a consonant, they say Patere for Padre, Nataru for Natal, Yequerejia for Ecclesia, &c. Nevertheless, when such names are written with our alphabet, it is well to write them after our fashion, and not after the Japanese."

How this expedient was put into practice may be seen from a list of the Latin and Portuguese words which occur in the "Confessionarium" (No. 8 of this list), one of the earliest works printed in native type, of which a complete copy has been preserved in Europe.

This volume, as far as I know, is not mentioned by any bibliographer, and the only preceding notice of it that has come in my way is in a little-known periodical entitled the Phoenix, published by the Rev. J. Summers, formerly Professor of Chinese at King's College, London. At p. 216 of Vol. II. (for 1871-2) a brief notice of Part I., (the Feiqe Monogatari) is given, together with an extract, containing as many as thirty misprints, besides numerous imperfectly marked accents. A translation (which I conjecture to be from the pen of my friend Professor A. Severini of Florence) will be found at p. 36 of Vol. III. of the same periodical.

TRANSLATION.

In this volume are printed the Japanese history called Heike Monogatari, some moral sentences, and the fables of Esop the European. The authors thereof being heathens, the subjects may appear not very recommendable, but it is not at all extraordinary for the Church to publish such books, whether for study or for the benefit of the world in general. Such a determination lies in aiming at God's service and in praying for his Glory. And just as the books hitherto printed at this college have been selected in accordance with the rules laid down with respect to such matters, so also as respects this volume it has been decided that it would be desirable that the persons whom the Superiors have deigned to fix on should select and publish the same. Amakusa, February 23rd, A.D. 1593.

ADDRESS TO THE READER.

on the soil of the Japanese Archipelago, to spread the Divine Law, and devote themselves to leading erring mankind in the right way. Bad and wicked as I am, and altogether without merit, I have taken these men for my teachers, and following after them, am filled with the same longing. This may be compared to a fly alighting on a tree. My teachers then said to me, "If a carpenter wishes to build a house he must first sharpen his tools. If the fisherman wishes to catch fish, he had better take time to make his nets. In order that coming to this country we may preach the Law, it is essential that we should be acquainted with its customs and speak the language. We propose, therefore, to copy out in our letters and print some Japanese book that may be of assistance to us in these two matters. Do you make choice of a book and prepare it." Being of slender skill and deficient in intelligence, I was greatly reluctant, seeing that it was a task beyond my strength, but complying with the obligation of Holy Obedience, I have obeyed their respected command without objecting further. There are many books which, while affording instruction in the language, investigate the past of Japan, but being of opinion that among them all there was none like the Heike Monogatari composed by Genye Höin, the abbot of Hiyeizan, so celebrated for his literary gifts, I made choice of it, and prepared to copy it out. Upon this my teachers said to me again: "Do not make this Heike like a book, but give it the style of a conversation between two persons, because it is the rule that in order to attain perfection one must learn the rudiments. You should not neglect the means in order to grasp the result. If you wish to be very clever, change your plan, and do not be obstinately unwise. It is not merely a question of grammar, but you must also avoid giving several names to the same person and calling him by his title, as is the Japanese custom. For as these only confuse the argument, they are great stumbling-blocks to beginners in learning a foreign language. The object of our learning the language is solely that we may spread abroad the gospel of our Blessed Lord Jesus Christ, and all words must be got rid of that are of no help in the attainment of this desire."

On applying my humble intelligence to the matter, I came to the conclusion that this view was grounded in reason, and that they were right in every particular. Consequently, in accordance with the object of their desire, and in obedience to the command of my teachers, while regardless of exposing myself to popular ridicule, I have written out this Monogatari, adhering to the language of the original, as far as my means would allow, and have made this abridgment. I humbly beg that all learned gentlemen who may read it will kindly abstain from mocking at my want of intelligence. 10, December, 1592 A.D. With profound respect, Fucan Fabian.

This is a translation of "El Sumario de la Introduccion del Symbolo de la Fe," which is most readily accessible in Vol. XIII. of the Obras del Venerable P. Maestro Fr. Luis de Granada de la orden de Santo Domingo . . . Madrid : Por Don Antonio de Sancha. Año de M.DCC.LXXXIX. But the edition used by the translator, in default of an earlier Portuguese version than that published at Lisbon in 1780, must have been one of those mentioned by Antonio, see below.

Cotton in the first series of the Typographical Gazetteer, p. 10, has the following remarks: "Chevillier, in his Origine de l'imprimerie,* notices a book which Scaliger had bequeathed to the university library of Leyden, written by F. Luis de Granada, and printed by the Jesuits in their College at Amacusa, in the language of Japan, but in European characters, in the year 1582. The book is set down, according to Chevillier's description, in page 313 of the Leyden university library catalogue (folio, 1716); yet still I cannot help suspecting some mistake of a figure, an 8 perhaps for a 9, inasmuch as in the account of the twenty-six martyrs crucified in Japan, which is to be found in the Acta Sanctorum (in the first volume for February, page 735), it is distinctly stated that this college of Amacusia was not founded until the year 1591. I much doubt whether there be a second copy of the work nearer to us than that at Leyden, by help of which this question might be set at rest."

What Chevillier says is this:—"Enfin, pour terminer la question, on voit à Paris de ces Livres imprimés à la China : le Roi en a dans sa Bibliotheque : il y en a même d'imprimez au Japon. Scaliger en avait deux, dont on rapporte les titres au Catalogue de la Bibliotheque de Leyden, page 250. Racuyoxu. Lingua & Charact. Japon. in Kollegio Japonico Soc. J. 1598. in fol. & page 258. Luis de Granada fides. no doxi to xite, edita à Patr. Soc. J. in Collegio Amacusano in Japoniâ 1582. Linguâ Japonicâ sed Lit. Europ. in 8°."

In the "Bibliotheca Hispana Nova" of Nicolaus Antonius, at p. 40 of Tom. I., there is a reference to this translation. In enumerating the works of Luis de Granada the author says:—"Introduccion al symbolo de la Fe ; quatuor primum partibus, quibus postea addidit quintam, quæ est antecedentium compendium, totidem & ipsam distinctam partibus. Salmanticae apud heredes Mathiæ Guas 1582. fol. Italice hoc opus prodiit venetis ex officina Francisci de Franciscis anno 1587. in 4. Sed lego & ibidem editum fuisse anno 1590, apud Damianum Zenarum, L'Epitome, o vero, compendio dell' Introduzione del Symbolo della Fede. Hanc in Latinum vertit Joannes Paulus Gallutius, Salodiensis, atque edita est Venetiis 1587. Coloniæque apud Calenium & heredes Quentelii 1589. Partem quoque ejus, quæ est de mirandis naturæ operibus, integrum fecit Gaspar Manzius, jurisconsultus, hujusmodi inscriptionis opus, Philosophia Christiana, de qua mox dicimus. Japonica lingua, sed charactere Europeo, edita est hæc pars, cum titulo Fides no doxi xite, a patribus societatis Jesu in collegio Araucusano [sic]. Extat in bibliotheca Lugduno-Batava, ut ex ejus catalogo constat, pag. 258," which looks like a mere blind following of Chevillier. Ternaux-Compans, in his Notice sur les imprimeries qui existent ou ont existé hors de l'Europe, Paris, A. Bertrand, 1842 (?), after having taken credit to himself for correcting the mistakes of Cotton, says (p. 4): "Amacusa.—Ville du Japon, dans l'île du même nom. C'était là que les jésuites avaient établi leur principale college. On trouve dans le catalogue de la bibliothèque de Leyde, l'indication d'un ouvrage du P. Louis de Grenade, traduit en langue japonaise, et imprimé dans cette ville, en 1582, en caractères européens ; mais je pense que c'est une indication erronée, car d'après les Acta Sanctorum (vol. de février, p. 1716), ce collège ne fut fondé qu'en 1594." Here there seems to be an error, namely, that in the "Literæ annuae japonenses anni 1591 et 1592," there is a section entitled "De Collegio Canzucano, quod nunc est in Amacusa," so that Cotton's conjecture of a 9 for an 8 was not only more carefully made than Ternaux-Compans', but also turned out to be actually correct.

Father Luis de Granada was born 1505 and died in 1588. See Bibliotheca Hispana Nova, tom. I., and Nouvelle Biographie Universelle. He lies buried in the church of S. Domingo at Lisbon.

The printing of this work is probably alluded to in the following passage from the "Lettera annua del Giapone dal Marzo del M.D.XCIII. sino al Marzo del XCIV. In Milano, 1597," at p. 13 :—" Si è compito anchora di stampare nella lingua Giaponesa il sommario della Dottrina, & Catechismo di Fra Luigi di Granata, & si son stampate anchora altri libri così per quelli ch' imparano la lingua, come per quelli ch' imparano latino, & anchora alcuni trattati diuoti nella lingua, con caratteri Giaponesi per li Christiani."

In the collected edition of the works of Luis de Granada there is nothing which resembles a catechism, properly so-called, but it is possible that the word may have been applied to an elementary treatise, such as the "Sumario del Introducción," not drawn up in the usual form of question and answer. The well-known Catechism of the Council of Trent is another instance of a work declaratory of doctrine in the form of a continuous treatise.

As specimens of the style of translation the following version of the brief of Pope Gregory XIII. to the author and two or three extracts from the body of the work will serve for comparison with the Latin original of the former, and the Spanish text of the latter.

DILECTE filj salutē & Apostolicā benedictionem. Diuturnus atque assiduus labor tuus in hominibus tum à vitijs deterrēdis, tū ad vitæ perfectionē vocandis, fuit semper nobis gratissimus: ijs vero ipsis qui suæ cæterorumque salutis & Dei gloriae desiderio tenentur, fructuofissimus, iucundissimusque. Multas olim conciones habuisti, libros præstanti doctrina, & pietate resertos edidisti, idem quotidie facis, nec vnquam cessas præsens, atque absens quam plurimos potes Christo acquirere. Gaudemus ito, tum aliorum, tum tuo ipsis tam præstanti bono, & fructu. Quot enim ex concionibus, scriptisque tuis profecerunt (profecisse autem permultos, quotidieque proficere certum est) totidem Christo filios genuisti, longeque illos maiori beneficio affecisti, quām si cæcis aspectum, aut mortuis à Deo vitam impetrasses: Præstat enim multò sempiternam illam lucem, & vitam beatissimam (quoad mortalibus datum est) nosse, & piè sancteque viuentem, ad eam aspirare, quām mortali hac vita & luce frui omni cum terrenarum rerum affluentia & voluptate: Tibi vero ipsi quammultas à Deo coronas comparasti, dum omni cum charitate in eo studio versaris, quod constat esse longe maximum. Perge igitur, ut facis, in istam curam toto pectore incumbere, quæque habes inchoata (habere enim te nonnulla accepimus) perficere, & proferre ad ægrorum salutem, debilium confirmationem, valentium, & robustorum lætitiam, vtriusque tum militatis, tum triumphantis Ecclesiæ gloriam. saber, que ay dos maneras de Fè: vna acquisia, y humana: y otra infusa, sobrenatural, y Diuina, que es la de los Christianos. Y dexada à parte aquella, y tratando de la nuestra, dezimos: que Fè es vna luimbre sobrenatural, que el Espiritu Santo infunde en nuestro entendimiento (que los Teologos llaman habitu de la Fè) elqual por virtud de Dios inclina nuestro entendimiento à creer los Articulos de Fè, y todo lo demás que Dios nos tiene reuelado sus Escrituras, con mucha mas firmeza, y certidumbre, que lo que se ve con los ojos, y toca con las manos. Porque así como el habitu de la caridad inclina nuestra voluntad à amar à Dios sobre todas las cosas, puesto caso que no le veamos: así el habitu de la Fè, inclina nuestro entendimiento à creer todos los Articulos de la Fè, puesto caso que con nuestra razon no lo comprehendamos. Esto se ve claramente en la Fè de los santos Martires, muchos de los cuales eran personas simples, y sin letras (como lo eran las mugeres) las quales sin saber Teologia, ni auer visto milagros, mouidos por este habitu de la Fè (que es por esta lumbre interior del Espiritu Santo) estauan tan certificados y tan firmes en el conocimiento desta verdad, que dexauan afar, y despedazar sus carnes por ella.

The chapters entitled in the original "Relacion de Siete Sacerdotes que padecieron por a Fè de la Iglesia Romana, el año de 1582 en Inglaterra," and "Relacion del Padre Campion de la Compañia de Iesus, y de los compañeros que con el padecieron," are omitted from the Japanese version, and the whole of Book IV. is greatly abridged in the translation. It should be noted further that sheets Ee and Ff have been transposed by the binder.

According to the Diccionario Bibliographicó Portuguez of Innocencio Francisco da Silva, the earliest edition of Alvarez's grammar is that published at Lisbon in 1572. There was another printed at Rome in 1574 by Sebaldus Mayer.

This volume of 170 leaves, including the title-page, numbered only on one side, sm. 4to., is on Japanese paper, probably made from gampi (see above). Besides the conjugations in Latin, Japanese and Portuguese, it gives a number of examples of Japanese sentences in illustration of the Latin rules of construction, the dialect of which reminds one strongly of the kiōgen, or farces, of the Middle Ages. There are also a few quotations from the Confucian Analects, the Heike Monogatari, and the Hiaku Monogatari. It was bound in Japan, as appears from the boards being made of sheets of a printed vocabulary pasted together. This is part of the vocabulary at the end of Vol. II. of the Guia do Pecador (see below No. 10).

The following are some examples of the style of Japanese used:—

Cōdono caxxenni sannin bacari vchijini itaitato mōsu fono vye xinazumba yocarōzu monouo.	Aiunt tres obiisse, vtinam non obierint plures.

Quest' anno si stampò il Catechismo del Concilio Tridentino in latino, il quale si legge nel Seminario; si stampò ancora il libro chiamato Contemptus mundi in lingua latina, e Giapponese, insieme con l'esercitij del nostro Padre Ignatio latino."

Copies of these editions of the Catechism of the Council of Trent, and of the Exercitia Spiritualia of Ignatius Loyola are not, so far as at present appears, extant in any European library, but the second one here mentioned seems without doubt to be the Contemptus Mundi of which there is a copy in the Bodleian. It was believed by the late M. Léon Pagès, on what authority I know not, that Senhor Merello, of Lisbon, a well-known collector, possessed a copy of the Catechism here referred to, but that gentleman has assured me that this is not the case, and that he has never even seen the edition in question.

In his "Bibliographie Japonaise," M. Pagès, under No. 59, has the following entry:—"Le Contemptus Mundi (Disprezzo del mundo) du P. Stella, imprimé au Japon en latin et en japonais en 1596." But it seems pretty evident that he is in error. It will be observed that he gives no place of impression, nor does he mention any library in which the book is to be found, as is his practice in the case of other rarities. It is consequently in the highest degree probable that he never saw a copy, and that he made this entry on the authority of the "Lettera annua" which I have already quoted. For his No. 57 is "Exercices de S. Ignace, en latin, imprimés au Japon en 1596," and No. 58 is "Catéchisme du Concile de Trente, imprimé en latin, en 1596," and to each of these entries the note "Ann. de 1596" is appended. Father Diego de Estella was either a native of Navarre, or a Portuguese of Navarrese parentage; he lived long in Algarve, and among other things wrote the "Libro de la vanidad del mundo" in three parts, which was published at Salamanca in 1574, and, translated into Italian by J. published at Florence in 1585. This Italian version very likely had the title of "Disprezzo del mundo." The identification of this with the book mentioned in the "Lettéra Annua" was consequently not unnatural. Still it is altogether different from the "De imitatione Christi," as M. Pagès no doubt knew. If he had referred to either Cotton or Ternaux-Compans, and had then taken the trouble to inspect the volume in the Bodleian which they both mention, he would have avoided the manifest mistake in his "Bibliographie."

The question is, how did the work of Thomas à Kempis, usually known under the title of De Imitatione Christi, come to be called "Contemptus Mundi" by the Jesuit missionaries in charge of the press in Japan. From the list of MSS. given at the end of Kettlewell's discussion of its authorship, it appears to have been at one time known in England as "De Musica Ecclesiastica." Many of the early printed copies are preceded by a page on which appear the headings of the first chapter of each of the four books into which it is usually divided. Now these headings are—De imitatione Christi et de contemptu omnium vanitatum mundi; De interna conversatione; De interna locutione Christi ad animum fidelem, and Cum quanta reverentia Christus sit suscipiendus. Some had no title-page at all, but simply began: "Incipit liber primus (.)* de Imitatione Christi et de contemptu omnium vanitatum mundi, capitulum I.", which was merely the heading of the first chapter, and had usually at the end a colophon running either "Fratri Thome de Kempis de imitatione Christi et de contemptu mundi devotum et utile opusculum finit feliciter," or "Johannis Gerson cancellarii parisiensis de contemptu mundi devotum et utile opusculum finit." The book thus came to be familiarly known as "Liber de imitatione Christi," in spite of the colophon (which was practically equivalent to a title-page), as is indeed remarked in the prefatory note to the reputed editio princeps, of which the British Museum possesses two copies. "Incipit libellus consolatorius ad instructionem devotorum Cujus primum capitulum est de imitatione Christi et contemptu danni vanitatum mundi. Et quidam totum libellum sic appellant scilicet libellum de imitatione Christi, sicut evangelium Mathei appellatur liber generacionis Iesu Christi, Eo quod in primo capitulo fit mentio de generacione Christi secundum carnem." Nevertheless the colophon runs: "Viri egregij Thome montis sancte Agnetis in Traiecto regularis canonici libri de xpi imitatiōe numero quatuor finiunt feliciter."

We see that the real title, if one was ever given to the book by the author himself, was neither De imitatione Christi, nor Contemptus mundi. A perusal might, however, readily cause the latter to be adopted instead of the former, as at any rate a more correct, though not entirely comprehensive description of the contents, and this, as we have seen, was in fact done in some colophons. It is a probable conjecture that the Japanese version was prepared from one of the editions which have a colophon in this form. *

Cotton says of the volume in the Bodleian: "Toquinum, qu. Tokis, or Tokoesi, a town of the island Niphon, in Japan? A book entitled Contemptus Mundi, in the language of Japan, was printed here by the Jesuits in 1596," and Ternaux-Compans in his Notice sur les imprimeries qui existent ou qui ont existé hors de l'Europe, p. 44, merely repeats this statement. It is, of course, evident that Toqini, instead of being the genitive case of a supposed place named

* Insert either "Johannis Gerson cancellarii parisiensis," or "fratris Thome de Kempis canonici regularis ordinis Sancti Augustini."

* Fray Luis de Granada, Obras, Madrid 1788, Tom. II p. 487 begins: "Comienza el libro primero del Contemptus Mundi ó Menosprecio del Mundo y Imitación de Cristo." The quotation in chap. I from St. John, Chap. VIII, is "El que me sigue no anda en tinieblas, mas tiene la lumbre de vida"; and the other is "1 Cor. 2. no se hasta el ojo de ver, ni la oreja de oír". This seems conclusive as to the use of his version in preparing the Japanese Toquinum, is nothing else than the Japanese for "at the time," or "when it was." Tokis or Tokoesi was perhaps suggested by Tokitsu near Nagasaki, but this place is in the island of Kiushiu, not in the main island, usually known to Europeans as Nippon.

Inside the cover there is a MS. note to the following effect: "Liber dictus CONTEMPTUS MUNDI, lingua Japonica, impensis Toquini 1596. Ex dono viri Reverendi ex India nuper reducis, D. Johannis Evans, S.T.D. 1695," from which Cotton got his "Toquinum." On the next page we find a MS. note: "Goxuxre iray xengofiacu sachijū gonen meni papa Sixto yori Nippon no Companhia no padre combō ni yotte sazzugetamō go curiqi no coto. Tarenitemo are cono qīo no vchi iccagiō uo yomu tabigoto ni jūnen no Indulgencias uo cōmuru nari: Beatissima Maria tattomare tamaye," which means "merit granted by Pope Sixtus in Anno Domini 1585, at the earnest request of the fathers of the society in Japan; whoever shall read a single chapter of this book shall on each occasion receive ten years' Indulgences. Hail Beatissima Maria." It is, no doubt, in the handwriting of the Japanese convert who owned the book.

A comparison of this volume with the "Dictionarium latino-lusitanicum ac japonicum" (No. 5) dated "In Amacusa in Collegio japonica societatis Jesu anno 1595," seems to show that the italic type used in the preface of the dictionary is the same as that employed for the text of the Contemptus Mundi, while the roman type of the former is identical with that in which the headings of the chapters in the latter are printed. Further, the ornaments, as Mr. W. H. Allnutt has pointed out to me, are the same in both. It may therefore safely be concluded that the Contemptus Mundi likewise issued from the Amakusa press.

TO THE READER.

This Contemptus Mundi is now impressed on paper, after having been exactly translated from the Latin original, at the instance of the Superiors of the Society of Jesus in Japan, several times revised, and its deeper meaning made easy. Since it is a matter of the greatest concernment to guide without stumbling those who desire to walk in God's way and to obtain salvation, the object aimed at has been to facilitate its perusal to those of the Society as well as to laymen. And whereas this book contains many things most profitable, those who may read with the desire of obtaining special profit thereby, should understand that, wherever they may open it, they will find truths most important to them there written. Lastly, as this gift has been bestowed by God, who is the fountain of infinite good, let this book be constantly delighted in with a joyful and jubilant heart, let it be read and read over and over again, and be revered as the teacher of the path of virtue.

The extract from Frois' letter above quoted speaks of the work as being printed in Japanese and Latin. This, however, is not necessarily to be understood as meaning that the whole of the Latin original was reproduced, but only certain important texts, as will be seen from the following specimens.

DE IMITATIONE CHRISTI
LIBER FRIMUS.

CAPUT I.

De contemptu omnium vanitatum mundi.
Qui sequitur me, non ambulat in tenebris, sed habebit lumen vitæ, dicit Dominus. Hæc sunt verba Christi, quibus adnonemur, quatenus vitam eius et mores imitemur, si velimus veraciter illuminari, & ab omni cæcitate cordis liberari. Summum igitur studium nostrum sit in vita Iesu Christi meditari. Doctrina Christi omnes doctrinas Sanctorum præcellit; & qui Spiritum Christi haberet, absconditum ibi manna inueniret. Sed contingit, quod multi ex frequenti auditu Euangeli paruum desiderium sentiunt, quia spiritum Christi non habēt. Qui autem vult plenè & sapide Christi verba intelligere, oportet, ut totam vitam suam illi studeat conformare. Quid prodeſt tibi alta de Trinitate disputare, si careas humilitate, unde displiceas Trinitati? Verè alta verba nō faciūt sanctum et iustum, sed virtuosa vita efficit Deo charū. Opto magis sentire compunctionem, quam scire eius definitionem. Si teneres tota Biblia memoriter & omnium Philosophorū dicta: quid totum prodeſet fine charitate Dei & gratia? Vanitas vanitatum, & omnia vanitas, præter amare Deum, et illi soli seruire. Ista summa est sapientia, per contemptum mundi tendere ad cœlestia regna. Vanitas igitur est, diuitias perituras querere, & in illis sperare. Vanitas quoq; est, honores ambire, & in altum se extollere. Vanitas est, carnis desideria sequi, & illud desiderare, vnde postmodū grauiter oportet puniri. Vanitas est,

Vanitas est, præsentem vitam solū attendere,

The foregoing examples from the Japanese translation, when compared with the corresponding extracts taken from a printed text of the sixteenth century, sufficiently prove that the book is none other than the famous work of Thomas à Kempis. And if need be, the list of contents in both could be shown to be identical. The translation is much closer than in the case of either the Sumário or the Guia de Pecadores.

A dictionary of Chinese compound words (juku-ji), arranged according to the iroha order of the first component, the Japanese equivalent (kun) of the second component alone being given; 62 sheets on minogami paper, followed by 23 sheets of a dictionary of Japanese words and the corresponding Chinese characters, entitled iroha ji shū (this title is in Chinese cursive characters), or "Collection of characters in iroha order." Next comes a third title (also in Chinese characters), hyakkan narabi ni tōmyō no taigai, or, "Official titles with the corresponding Chinese terms." Then, also a Chinese title, Nihon rokujū yo shū, "the sixty and more provinces of Japan." Finally Ko Gyokuhen,† "Little Dictionary," the Chinese characters being mainly arranged under the radicals, which are first divided into categories, as temmon (celestial phenomena), chiri (terrestrial principles), and so on, 17 sheets. In all $62 + 23 + 17 = 102$ sheets.

This copy was purchased by me in Japan, and brought to England in 1883. The title-page is slightly damaged.

There is another copy in the University Library of Leyden, concerning which Dr. Serrurier says in a private letter:—"The Library number of the book is 847 B i. It is in an excellent condition of preservation, a most beautiful copy, and, according to a note inscribed on it, it has been acquired "ex legato Josephi Scaligeri." "

The Earl of Crawford is the owner of a third copy.

* Gyoku-hen (yü-pien) the title of a famous Chinese Dictionary, came to be a general name for all dictionaries, just as Calepinus, the name of the author of a Latin lexicon, was at one time used as a common noun meaning "vocabulary."

8. BIBLIOTECA CASANATENSE AT ROME.

(Also known as the Minerva Library. Pressmark, g. I. 9.)

SALVATOR MUNDI. [On the other side of the sheet] CONFESSIONARIVM. IN COLLEGIO IAPO | NICO SOCIETATIS | IESV. | Cum facultate Superiorum | ANNO M. D. XCVIII. | A small volume printed in a mixture of cursive Chinese characters, and hiragana on rather coarse paper of the kind known as hanshi, made from the bark of the Broussonetia papyrifera. There are 30 sheets of text. It is bound, or rather stitched, and covered in Japanese paper. On the inside of the first cover is part of the ten commandments in Japanese, printed, as seems to me, with movable kata-kana types, probably wooden. On the other end-paper is a portion of the Salve Regina in Japanese. These two fragments are from some earlier work which I have not been able to identify, and I do not know any complete copy of it.

The contents of this book are :

Konhisan wo yoku mōsu yō to mata zensa ni hi wo okurubeki gi wo oshiyuru koto,* or How to make a proper confession and to live a good life, divided into the following seven sections :

Dai ichi. Konhisan no tokugi no koto (1. The advantages of confession).

Dai ni. Konhisan wo mōsukeki hitobito tamotsu-beki jōjō (2. Things to be observed by those who are about to confess).

Dai san. Konshienhiya wo tadasu michi wo oshiyuru koto (3. How to examine the conscience).

Dai shi. Madamentos† no hajime no san kajō ni tsuite tadasubeki koto (4. Examination as to the first three commandments).

Dai go. Ai-nokoru shichi kajō no madamentosu no koto (5. The remaining seven commandments).

Dai roku. Shichi no morutaru toga ni tsuite konshienhiya wo tadasubeki jōjō (6. Rules for examining the conscience as to the seven deadly sins).

Doi shichi. Zensa ni hi wo okurubeki tame ni tamotsu beki jōjō (7. Rules to be observed in order to live a good life).

To this succeeds a glossary of theological terms used in the text. These are all adopted from the Portuguese or Latin languages. They are here transliterated according to the system of the Rōmaji Kai, as nearly as possible, the Portuguese or Latin equivalents being added, as the case may be.

Sonchiishima Chirindaade, Santissima Trindade Deusu Paatere, Deos Padre

* Here, as elsewhere, in transcribing from a Japanese text printed in the native character, I have endeavoured to conform to the practice of the Rōmaji Kai.

† This is a transcription of Mādamentos, the mark over the first a having been somehow neglected. It may, however, be that the Japanese d in the local dialect used by the missionaries was pronounced nd in the body of a word.

Finally a list is given of the Chinese characters, with their sinico-Japanese pronunciation and Japanese equivalents.

9. BARBERINI LIBRARY AT ROME.

A volume printed on Japanese paper known as mino-gami, sewn in Japanese fashion, in a kincob cover. There is an outer title, in Chinese characters, on a much-worn slip of paper, which would be read "Dochirina," and from other traces it may be guessed that the remainder must have been "Kirishitan," i.e. Doutrina Christam. Inside the cover are in MS. the words, "Dotrina Christiana fata a modo di dialogi fra il discepolo e in lingua Giaponesa." On the inner side of the first sheet is a copper engraving representing Christ with a globe on which is planted a cross, surrounded by the legend, EGO SVM VIA ET VERITAS ET VITA. By a mistake of the binder the list of contents has been placed at the end of the volume; instead of at the beginning. This volume is without date or place, but it is evidently earlier than No. 11, which is a later and somewhat enlarged edition of it. It is printed in cursive Chinese and hiragana, probably with movable types.

CONTENTS:

1. Dochiriina (Doctrine).
2. Kirishitan no shirushi to naru tattoki kurusu no koto (the blessed cross which is the sign of a Christian).
3. Haaterunôsuteru no koto (the Paternoster).
4. Abe Maria no koto (the Ave Maria).
5. Sarube rejina no koto (the Salve Regina).
6. Keredo no koto, tsuite Hidesu no aruchigo no koto (the Creed and the articles of faith).
7. Deusu no on okite no tō no madamento no koto (the Ten Commandments which are the law of God).
- 8 and 9. On haha Santa ekerejia no on okite no koto (the Laws of Holy Mother Church).
10. Nanatsu no morutaru toga no koto (the Seven Deadly Sins).

11. Santa Ekerejia no nanatsu no sakamento no koto (the Seven Sacraments of the Holy Church).

12. Kono hoka kirishitan ni ataru kanyō no jōjō (other important rules implied by the word "Christian").

NOTE.—Hidari ni kurusu no arubeki kotoba wa Rachin no kuchi to kokoro-u-beshi (the words below preceded by a cross are to be understood as belonging to the Latin language).

This work seems to be an original composition, and not a translation of any existing catechism, inasmuch as it is so arranged that the questions are put by the catechumen and the answers are given by the catechist. At least, I have not been able to find any catechism of that period constructed on such a model. In its main lines it, however, follows the smaller catechism of Bellarmine, which to this day is reprinted for use among Roman Catholics.

The following extracts from the two forms of the Catechism illustrate the preceding remarks. It will be observed that the version in the right-hand column is more detailed in one place, while in others it is better done. But for the most part the two are identical. Then, the second uses the monograms for Deus and Jesu Christo, which occur also in the Guia do Pecador (No. 10 of this list). These are, in all probability, an expedient to save trouble in writing those Names, and it may consequently be assumed that they are of later date than the syllabic spelling. While the first questions are asked by the Teacher and answered by the Catechumen, this order is soon reversed, and in No. 11 the latter arrangement prevails throughout.

COLLEGIO IAPONICO | SOCIETATIS IESV. | Cum facultate Ordinarij, & Superiorum. |
ANNO 1599. |

On the other side of the title-sheet of Vol. I. there is a title in Japanese, which reads from right to left Go shusse irai sen go hiaku ku-jū-ku nen (A.D. 1599).

Kiya to Hekatoru Zainin wo zen ni michibiku no gi nari (Guia do Pecador, i.e. guiding the wicked man into virtue).

Keichō yo nen shōgatsu gejun rōsai nari (engraved on wood third decade of the first moon of the 4th year of Keichō).

In Vol. II. the two titles are combined on one page.

Vol. I. Title-sheet.

List of contents, 2 sheets.

Translator's preface, 1 sheet.

Author's preface and text, sheets 2-107.

Glossary of Chinese characters explained in Japanese, 11 sheets.

Vol. II. Title-page and translator's preface, 1 sheet.

List of contents, 2 sheets.

Text, sheets 2-78.

Glossary of Chinese characters explained in Japanese, 10 sheets (second half of this sheet wanting in the British Museum copy).

The Bibliothèque Nationale at Paris possesses a copy of Vol. II., wanting the last three sheets of the text and the first sheet of the glossary.

The Barberini Library at Rome possesses a fragment of the glossary belonging to Vol. II., consisting of 12 sheets, but apparently from a later edition than the British Museum copy.

Printed on Japanese paper known as mino-gami (a finer kind manufactured from Broussonetia bark), in cursive Chinese characters and hiragana. In addition to the genuine Chinese characters, the printer has used four others of European contrivance, namely  for Deos,  for Christo,  for Jesus and  for Jesu Christo, as in No. 9.

This is a translation of the Guia de Pecadores of Fr. Luis de Granada, very likely from the Salamanca edition of 1573, of which the British Museum possesses a copy.

It is referred to more than once in the printed Annual Letters of the Missionaries. Thus, at p. 14 of the Lettera Annua di Giappone del M.DC.III, Scritta dal P. Gabriel de Matos, Roma 1605, "e nella Cafa della Misericordia due volte la settimana s'è radunata la Compagnia di essa, con molti altri principali di Nangasaki, leggēdosi e dichiarandosi loro la Guida de Peccatori stampata in carattere e lingua Giapponese;" and again in the Tre lettere annue del Giappone degli anni 1603, 1604, 1605 e parte del 1606. Mandate dal P. Francesco Pasio . . . Roma 1608, at

p. 165, "In tutto quel viaggio trouò in vna terra del Regno di Micaua, vn sol Christiano Medico antico, il quale con haner moglie, e figliuoli Gentili, e habitare in mezo di gente peruersa, si conferua nella purità della Fede, & effatta offeruanza de' Diuini commandamenti. Hauuea varij libri spirituali, & il catechismo, che gli seruiuano per aiutare i Fedeli di quel Regno, e conuincer i Gentili: Sei volte lesse la Guida de Peccatori stampata in lingua Giapponefse."

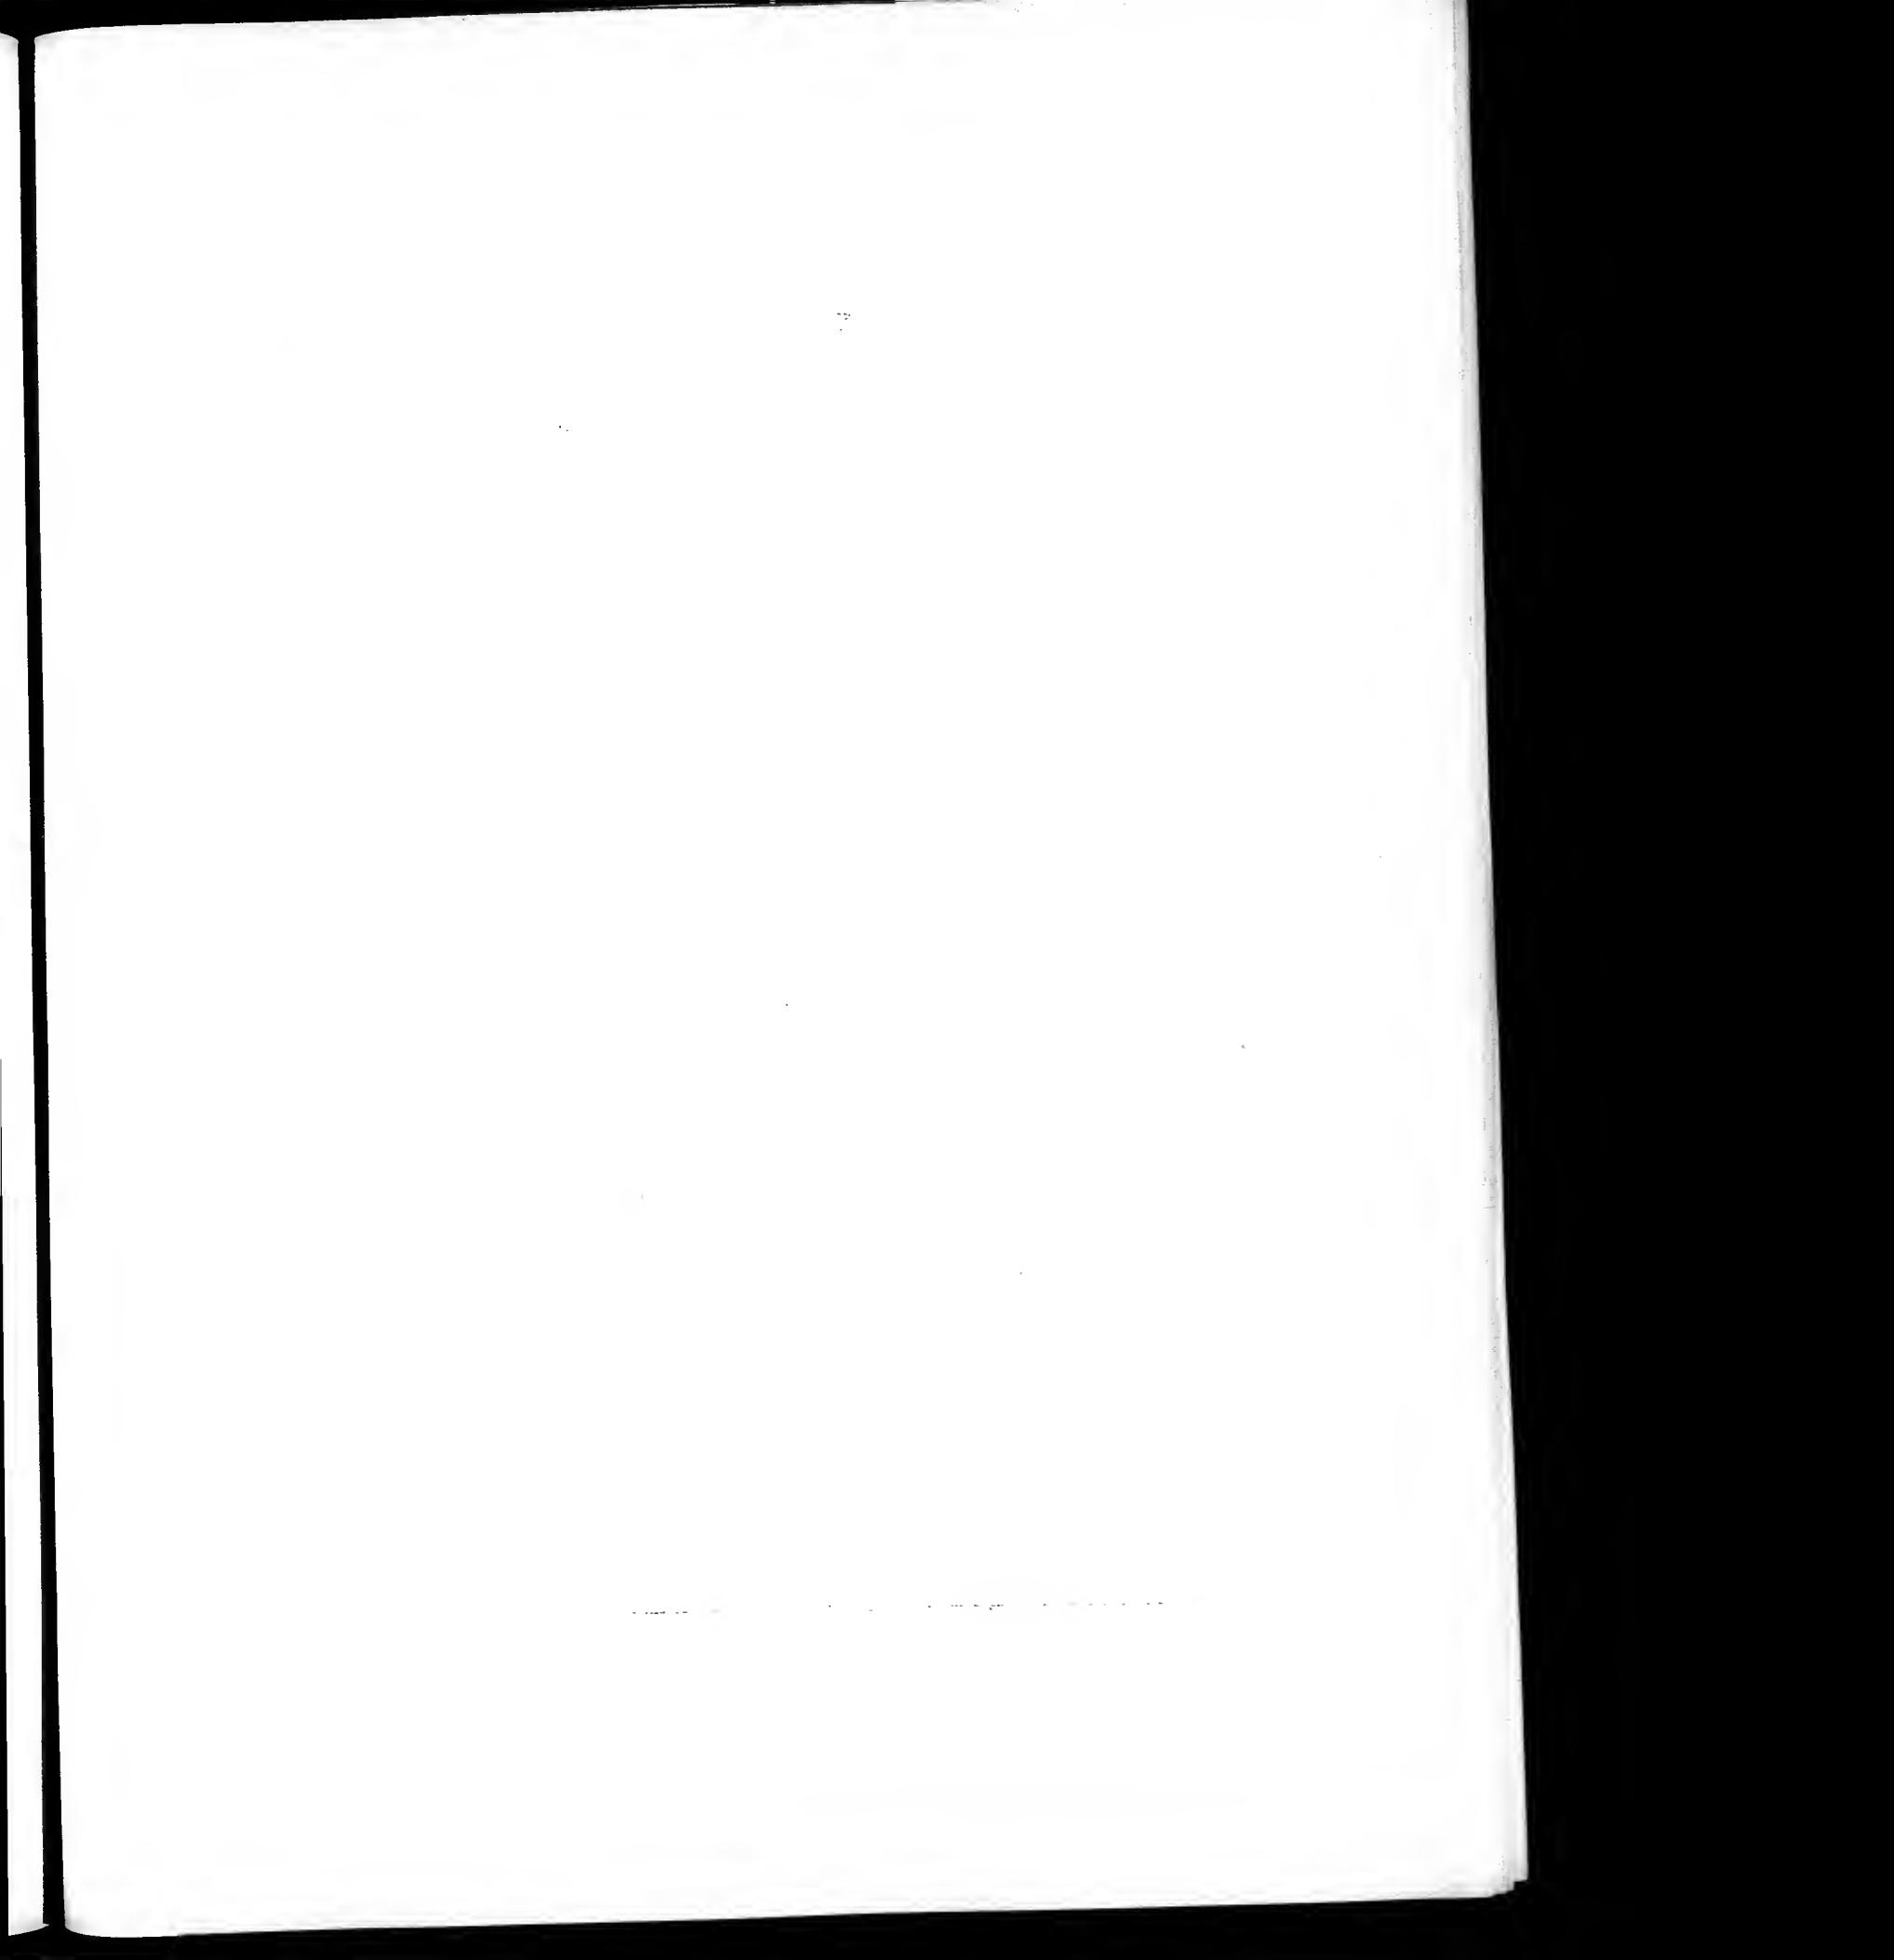

The Japanese version is to a certain extent an abridgment, for while the Spanish original contains altogether 53 chapters and 60 sub-sections, this has only 42 chapters and 45 sub-sections.

DOCTRINA CHRISTAM. | NAGASAQVI EX OFFICINA | Gotō Thome Sōin typographi Societatis IESV. | Cum facultate Ordinarij, & Superiorum. | Anno 1600. | Printed on Japanese paper (mino-gami) in cursive Chinese characters and hiragana, from the same type as the Guia do Pecador, and stitched in Japanese style. It is apparently a new and enlarged edition of the Doctrina Christam in the Barberini Library, and consists of fifty-five sheets, including the title-page, on the back of which is a short preface.

This book came from the Langlès sale, and cost 639 francs. The Bodleian copy, which is perfect, was bought in 1829 for 640 francs, according to Cotton. Of the Spanish translation, published at Manila in 1630 by Tomas Pinpin and Iacinto Magaurlua, a copy has been recently added to the Library of the British Museum. There is another copy of this in the Bodleian Library. The words contained in the supplement have been distributed in their proper places. A French edition, based on the imperfect copy in the Bibliothèque Nationale, was published in Paris in 1862-8 by the late M. Léon Pagès. The spelling of the Japanese words has been Frenchified, without the utility of the book being thereby increased to any important extent.

The Bibliothèque Nationale at Paris, (MS. department, N. F. So it was probably intended to reprint the book. Antonio Ribeiro dos Santos in Memorias de Litteratura Portugueza publicadas pela Academia Real das Sciencias de Lisboa (tom. VIII. p. 143), states that a printed copy of this work exists at the Palace of the Necessidades at Lisbon (according to Innocencio da Silva, tom. IV., p. 29), and there is a copy in the Marsden Library at King's College, London.

A P P E N D I X.

BESIDES the fourteen works above described, which are extant in European libraries, M. Léon Pagès, in that part of his Bibliographie Japonaise which is devoted to printed books, mentions several others of which up to the present I have been able to discover no existing copies. Such are his Nos. 57, 58 and 59, the Exercitia Spiritualia of S. Ignatius, the Catechism of the Council of Trent, and the Vanidad del Mundo of Father Estella, already mentioned on p. 28.

With regard to the last, I have given reasons for concluding that the Contemptus Mundi of 1596 is not Father Estella's, but that of Thomas à Kempis. I will now go through the remainder of his list.

"73. Opuscule du P. Pedro Gomez, sur l'Excellence du Martyre, imprimé en caractères japonais, à Amacusa, en 1598. Paez, lettre de 1598, Guerreiro, ann. de 1603."

The authority for this will be found in "Iaponica, Sinensis, Mogorana Leodii, Anno 1601," at p. 4 of a letter of P. Fr. Paez (Pasius): "P. V. Provincialis opusculum quoddam conscripsit, & lingua charactereque Iaponico excusum, diuulgauit, in quo quid, martyrium: quæ eius utilitas, & excellentia: quæ conditiones, quidque requirat: & maximè prepositum, affectioque, quæ tempore eiusmodi tempestatis habere conuenit tractatur, quod opus in Christianos sparsum erexit eorum animos iuuitque plurimum."

"97. Belchior Nunes Barreto. Traité des vertus et des vices. (En langue japonaise) Nangasaki, 1604. 4°."

I have been unable to trace the origin of this entry. The author would appear to have passed only three months in Japan, as appears from his letter dated Cochin iiiij Idus Ianua. 1558.

"99. Relação da morte que VI Christãos Japões padeceram pela fe de Christo, escripta e enviada a el Rey aos 20 de janeiro de 1604 (par D. Luis de Cerqueira év. du Japon). Impression chinoise d'un seul côté. 40ff. 4°. Torre do Tombo. Voir Fig., 146o." b.

Figanière (Bibliographia Historica Portugueza, Lisboa, 1851) 's entry is as follows:—
"D. Luiz de Cerqueira, bispo do Japão, natural de Alrito. E. Relação da morte que seis christãos Japões padeceram pela Fé de Christo. Escreta e enviada a Elrei aos 25 de Janeiro de 1604. É impressa em folhas coladas, segundo o uso das impressões da China, e não declara o nome do Impressor. Consta de quarenta paginas. 4. D'ella existe um exemplar no Archivio Nacional da Torre do Tombo."

The same statement is repeated almost word for word by Innocencio da Silva (Tom. V. p. 280, of his Diccionario Bibliographico Portuguez). It is probable that he copied from Figanière, without attempting to verify the description given by him.

The courteous director of the Torre do Tombo assured me that no printed book with such a title existed in the archives under his charge, nor was there any indication of it in the catalogue. But he showed me a manuscript, which bears the following title:—

"Relação da morte q̄ seis christãos Iappões pádeceraõ polla fee de Christo. Escrita E enuiaada à el Rei Nosso ſ̄ por dom Luis cerqueira Bispo de Iappão aos vinte E cinco de Jani de 1604." It is signed

"O Bſpo de Jappaō
de Nangassaqui quinze de Nouembro de mil e seis centos e cuatro anos."

There are forty pages, of an ordinary quarto size, and if my memory serves me right, they are pasted (coladas) by the inner margin on to a backing, provided for the purpose of binding the separate sheets into a volume. The paper is probably Japanese, similar to that used for the books printed with Roman type at the Jesuit press, as well as for many of the original missionary reports. There seems hardly room to doubt that this MS. is what Figanière and others after him have described as a printed book.

"100 bis. Le même prélat a fait imprimer : Manuale casuum conscientiae, Japonice versum (typis editum in parochorum usum)."

The earliest authority for this which I have found is Sotvellus' edition of the Bibliotheca Scriptorum Societatis Iesu, 1676, p. 561, where it is said of Cerqueira, "Scripsit . . . Manuale Casuum Conscientia, quod Iaponice redditum, typis vulgatum est in usum Parochorum."

"116. Le livre de l'Imitation de J. C. (désigné alors sous le titre de Gersen), traduit et publié en japonais vers l'an 1609, par Jean Canaya, qui fut martyr."

There is no indication to show where this statement came from. Considering that a translation into Japanese had already been published in 1596, the need of a new version does not appear self-evident.

"139. Manuel du saint Rosaire, en japonais, imprimé en 1616. Minerve."

With the courteous assistance of the officials of the Minerva Library (Biblioteca Casanatense) at Rome, I have examined the catalogue of that collection, but failed to find any indication of this book. Perhaps it may have been in the possession of the convent of the Minerva. The library, which has long been a public institution, on being searched, yielded the "Confessionarium" and "Doctrina Christam," which form Nos. 8 and 11 of the preceding pages.

"139 bis. Sommaire de la Confrérie du saint Rosaire et ses indulgences, mis en japonais par les Pères dominicains. Probablement le même ouvrage. Une image fut dessinée d'après les idées du P. Navarrete : c'était Notre-Dame avec le divin Enfant entre ses bras. Elle et le divin Enfant répartissaient le saint Rosaire à des pontifes, cardinaux, rois, etc.—Pour bordure étaient les mystères du Rosaire, et au bas il était écrit que saint Dominique avait institué la confrérie du Rosaire.—L'image fut fondu, et on en tira des empreintes."

I have not been able to trace this entry. See Organel, 164. Also Adurante, BR II, p. 181, where they are attributed to padre Francisco de Rueda in 1619.

"158. Le P. Navarro (Pedro Paulo) traduisit en japonais l'ouvrage du P. Pietro Antonio Spinelli, Thronus Dei, Maria Deipara, publié à Naples, en 1613.—A Nagasaki, s. d. (av. 1622).

"159. Le même Pere publia aussi en japonais une Apologie de la Foi contre les calomnies des gentils. A Nagasaki . s. d. (av. 1622)."

These entries are, perhaps, derived from Sotvellus, who says (p. 689), "Scripsit . . . Multos libros in usum Iaponum Christianorum. Item Apologiam Fidei Christianæ adversus calumnias Gentilium. Traduxit vero Iaponicè librum Petri Antonij Spinelli nostri, qui inscribitur Thronus Dei Mariae Deipara." There is here no assertion that these works were ever printed. M. Pagès' "(av. 1622)" refers, of course, to the date of this missionary's martyrdom.

"168. Le P. Fr. Francesco Galve, dominicain, traduisit en japonais trois vol. in-fol. espagnols : Les Fleurs des Saints et une Doctrine chrétienne (D'après Diego de S. Francesco qui les a vus) (av. 1623)."

The authority for this is apparently the Bibliotheca Franciscana of Fr. Juan de S. Antonio Tom. I., p. 388. "Franciscus Galve . . . Proditus enim à falso Christiano, foris fideli intus idolatra, in carcerem dejectus est, cum P. Hieronymo ab Angelis, Societatis Jesu, & aliis quinquaginta, & uno fidelibus, die 4. Decembris, anno 1623. ignis combustione in odorem suavitatis Deo oblatus est. Hic primus volumina tria in fol. Hispanicè conscripta De Vitis Sanctorum, sub titulo Flos Sanctorum in Japponicum sermonem transtulit. Pariter libellos alias : De doctrina Christiana. Ex oculato teste V. Fr. Didaco à S. Francisco in Relatione Martyrum Japonens. Manilæ impressa 1625." But whether these two works were ever printed, and if so, when and where, does not appear.

"257. Michael de Preces (le P.) écrivit un Arte japonais et des catéchismes en japonais et en tagale (avant 1639)."

This notice is perhaps derived from the Bibliotheca Franciscana of Fr. Juan de S. Antonio, Tom. II., f. 376. "In insulas Philippinas, opprobriis saciatus, reversus ; ut etiam atramento Christi fidem prædicaret, Japponico, aliisque peregrinis idiomatibus, scripsit : Artem, etiam Synarum caracteribus. Catechismum Christianum, idiomate Japponico, & Tagalo. Utroque opere passim utuntur Missionarii nostri.

Michael de Preces is apparently the missionary who is called Miguel Perez by Father Huerta (Estado geográfico, etc. p. 507). There is nothing to show that these works were ever printed, but even if they were, it must have been in the Philippines, and not in Japan.

To the foregoing should be added from Sotvellus (p. 188) "Emmanuel Barreto . . . Colligit, & edidit Latine Flosculos de virtutibus, & vitiis, ex veteris, ac novi Testamenti, & Sanctorum Doctorum, & Philosophorum Floribus selectos ordine alphabeticò Nangasachi typis Collegii Iaponici Societatis Iesu 1610, in 4." I do not know of any existing copy.

Bartoli in the second volume of his history of the Society of Jesus in Japan (Rome, 1660) at p. 279, gives the following information as to the books printed by the Missionaries : "Poi un monte di libri, che già n'era pieno ogni cosa, per le stamperie dell' uno e l'altro carattere, e nostrale e Giapponese, aperte dalla Compagnia in Macao e in Nangasaki, con incomparabile giouamento, così a dar cognitione della Fede nostra a gl' idolatri, e convincere le lor Sette, come a mantenere e crescere la pietà ne' Fedeli : tali erano, i misterij della vita e passione di Christo, divisati in piu maniere ; e de' pregi, e della divotione di Nostra Signora ; e le vite de' Santi,*

耶穌會の宣教師が我國に渡來して基督教を傳へたのは、鹿兒島の僧アンセイ Ansey が天文十六年（一五四七年）マラツカに渡り、バードレ・フランシスコ・ザビエルに就いて教を受け、其勸めに従ひ、印度ゴア市のサンタ・フエーのコレジヨに入學してキリストとなり、ザビエル等を案内して天文十八年七月鹿兒島に歸つた以來の事であるが、布教の第一義は宗教書類の翻譯で、ザビエルは一五四八年一月即ち天文十六年十二月コチンからローマの耶穌會本部に贈つた書翰に、アンセイは日本文が上手であるがら、完全にポルトガル語を學んだ上、教義問答、基督一代記等の翻譯をさせるであらうと述べ、又一五五一年七月即ち天文二十年六月山口から出した書翰には、鹿兒島滯在中の基督一代記を翻譯させ、「我等の文字」で認め、平戸に移つて説教をするに當り右の「平日本」即ちローマ字綴日本語の書を用ひたと云つてゐる。

耶穌會宣教師中最も早く日本語に熟達したのはザビエルと共に渡來し、山口に到るまで常に隨行したイルマン・ジョアン・フェルナンデズであつた。同人はケレド、バーテル・ノステル、アベ・マリヤ等の釋義、一年の各日曜日の説教等を日本語に譯して所持してゐたが、永祿七年（一五六四年）平戸領度島の會堂が火災に罹つた時皆焼失したこと、又良い日本語の文法書が無い爲め、宣教師は從來語學修業上大に困難を感じたので、イルマン・ジョアン其頃少しく閑暇を得て編纂に従事し、六七ヶ月を費して、ラテン語の文法書に倣つて動詞變化、文章構成法其他の規則を載せたものを完成し、尙アルファベット順に排列した葡和、和葡語彙を附録したことが、一五六四年十月三日附、平戸發のバードレ・ルイス・フロイスの書翰に出てゐる。

此の如き貴重な翻譯書類が、忽ち鳥有に歸する如き變災も度々起り、又天正八年にバードレ二十人、イルマン三十人、内日

近年に至つて日本吉利支丹文献の蒐集編輯刊行研究などが盛になつて來たのは、その淵源はサトウ氏の日本耶蘇會刊行書志に出でることは今更いふまでもない。然もこの書が元來私版書であつたため、夙に稀観書に屬してゐて、容易に手に入らなかつたものが、今度篤志家の努力によつて複製せられ非常な廉價を以て發賣せられるやうになつたのは、斯道の人々の大なる歓喜である。私の如きも後馳せに明治四十二年（一九〇八年）及び九年）に牛津と倫敦と巴里との三ヶ所に於て、次に大正十一年（一九二一年）には再び牛津と倫敦とに於ての外、ライデンに於て、専らサトウ氏の書志によつて著錄の古版本を訪書して謄寫本抄錄また撮影をいたし、歸朝後はそれによつて紹介や翻字や出版を試みたことは一々こゝに擧げる要はない。大正十年には東京大學の植松安氏に勧めて倫敦の平家および伊曾保の物語の撮影と羅馬の諸文庫に於ける吉利支丹版の撮影とを了する

ことが出来たのも、私たちがサトウ氏の先蹟に隨つたものに外ならない。一高の龜井高孝氏はそれによつて平家の翻字に從事せられて本年三月以降の藝文の誌上に續載せられ、東洋文庫よりは橋本進吉氏の校勘されたドチリナ・キリシタンの出版があらはれんとしてゐる。つゞいて東北大學の村岡教授も渡歐中に牛津の基督模倣の羅馬字版や巴里の罪人勸善鈔の國字版本等を抄錄して歸られ、精緻な考證を悉くされ、近ごろ吉利支丹文學抄と題する此種の文献考證中に於ける我國空前の業績をあらはされた。いづれもサトウ氏の書志に負うてゐることは、それぞれ認められてゐる通りである。名古屋醫科大學の太田教授（木下杏太郎氏）が佛國及び西葡兩國に於ける訪書記等も既にしばしば世に出てゐる所で私の擧げるを要せざる所である。

サトウ氏の書志の複製本には日本亞細亞協會報告第二十七卷（明治三十三年、西紀一八九九年）所載の補遺の抄出にまで及ん

い寶永五年に、屋久島に渡來して捕へられ、長崎を經由して江戸に護送された、バードレ・シドチがキリストン屋敷で訊問を

受けた時、不十分ながら日本語で應答して、新井白石を驚かせ、西洋紀聞、采覽異言を著はして蘭學の端緒を開くに至らせたのも、同バードレがローマ出發前から耶蘇會刊行のローマ字本を用ひて獨學した結果であつて、同人は來朝の節もサントスの御作業と和蘭辭書とを携帶してゐたのである。

サー・アーネスト・サトウ氏が疾く耶蘇會の此事業に着目し、苦心採訪の結果本書を公にせられた功は實に没すべからず、我國に存してゐたローマ字及び日本文字の耶蘇會刊行書が續々發見せらるゝに至つたのも、全く本書が出た爲めである。

予が歐洲留學中明治三十五年七月リスボン市に立寄つた時、一夜國立圖書館長の私宅を訪問し、一五九二年天草のコレジョ刊行のローマ字本ドチリナを見て、新發見の愉快を感じたが、同書は轉々して、今東洋文庫の藏書となつてゐる。

當時同書の卷首に、サントスの御作業中、サン・イグナショの御作業七枚と、ラテン文數枚及び白紙七枚、卷末に白紙八枚とサン・フランシスコの御作業、サン・イグナショの御作業、サンタ・フェプロニヤの御作業、サンチャゴのマルチル、サンタ・ユーゼニヤの御作業、合せて五枚とラテン文數枚あつて、

右反故は表紙の心に用ひたものと思はれたが、今は無く、新しい表紙が附いてゐる。

本書は當初印刷の部數が少かつたので、今は誠に得難い珍書となつてゐるが、今回警醒社書店で之を再版せられたのは、近來勃興して來たキリストン研究を更に促進するものとして、我學界の爲め最も歡迎する所である。

要するにサトウ氏の書志が後進の徒を刺戟した如く、今度出る複製本が更にこの側の知識を普及して日本吉利支丹文學の蒐集なり保存なり研究なり利用なりに資することが出来るのはまことにころこぼしいことであるので一言感想を錄して蛇足を加へた。

宿縁あつてかサトウ氏の舊藏本であつた日本吉利支丹教父の年々の報告書が百有餘冊蘭國書肆ネイホフから京都大學に購入されたのは十年前であつた。私も大正十年倫敦の古本屋で氏のエクスリブリスのはつてあるヴァレニウスの日遅志を買つて珍重してゐる。以前たび／＼林若樹氏のお宅で薩道氏の書一幅を見たことがあるが、實に立派なものである。近ごろ或るところ

で氏が勝海舟にてた日本書の手紙を見たが、この方はそんな出來ではなかつた。また私の亡養父が將軍慶喜公に扈從して大阪城かにゐたとき、英國公使バークスの通譯としてサトウ氏を見たさうであるが、そのをり城中の壁間に懸けてあつた三十六歌仙の歌をよんではバークスに説明してゐたと父が私に語つたことを記憶する。さういふ風に早くから日本の語學や文學に達し、日本の舊事に通じてゐた同氏の業績は明治以降夥しくあるがいつかはそれらの著述書目をも編輯する篤志家があらはれるにちがひない。日遅關係史も有用であるが、これは譯本もある程だが、一八八八年(明治二十一年)に出た私版本の日本耶蘇會刊行書志が約四十年後はじめて公刊されるやうになつたのも誠に有難い機縁である。況んや大正十二年九月の東京震火災にも林氏の本は申すに及ばず、内野氏の太平記抜書も、水戸家の小梅のキリストン物を納めてあつた御庫も、無事であつたのである。林氏は震後あの本を暫く郊外の安全地帯に移されたといふことであるが、内野氏の住宅は日本橋區から山の手に轉宅された後であつたので無難であつたさうである。水戸家のキリストン物が危いところで災を免れたのは奇蹟のやうに思はれる。三百年間の迫害と苛責は大正の昌代にあつて神の加護によつて報いられたのであらう。

〔増補〕 抽題は初め日本耶蘇會刊行書志とせしを反響本年七月號の編者之を改題せること同號六八頁に註せるが如し。ひでの經のこと同號の書志第四冊岡本良知氏の文に明かり。一九〇七年の伯林古書肆の目録に出でしといへるが、同年(明治四十年)には予伯林に留學したりしものを、いご遺憾なり。珠冠のマヌアルと題せる書のこと村岡石田橋本諸氏の考説あり又松崎氏の異論あるを知る。今姑く修業書とせり、便宜に從ふのみ。(大正十五年九月六日)

であるか否かを知らぬ。該補遺には太平記抜書の紹介と水戸の徳川侯爵家のドチリナ・キリシタンの全文とが掲載せられてゐるが、後者は明年大阪毎日新聞社より發行の吉利支丹叢書中に收められて複製される筈で、その考證は、未だ世にこそあらはないが、東京大學史料編纂官の岩橋小彌太氏が古く手をつくされてゐたのを知つてゐる。太平記抜書は舊友内野五郎三氏の有に屬し、東北大學の山田孝雄氏が古く藝文に於てその解題を誌されたところである。その後東京の林若吉氏がコンテムツス・ムンデ即ち基督模倣の國字本然も京都版を手に入れられて、その一部分を複製して世に頒たれたのは人の知るところであるがこの書物こそはサトウ氏の目に觸れなかつた所のもので、けだし世界の珍寶であらう。

古くブチヤン師から長崎大浦の天主堂に寄贈されてあつた慶長十二年長崎版の修業書の如きも世にあらはれるやうになり、慶長十年長崎版の祕蹟書が慶長十五年版の聖教精華や慶長五年版のドチリナ羅馬字本と前後して東洋文庫に入るやうになつた。これは同文庫の石田幹之助氏の力によるもので、それは同文庫の上田白鳥兩博士も大に意をつくされ、白鳥博士は大正十一年に一六三〇年マニラ版の日西辭典すなはち一六〇八年長崎版の日葡辭典の西譯本を英國に得て同文庫に持ち歸られた

やうなことがある。尤もこれは日本耶蘇會刊行本ではなく、フランシスコ組合の出版であるけれども、長崎版の原本が日本にならざり不完全なバジエス佛譯本の缺點を補うてあまりある得物といはなければならない。因みにいふが、メキシコ版の日本文典は京都大學に、また羅馬版の日本文典辭典懺悔錄は我國に少くとも二三部存するけれども、日本吉利支丹版に比すれば價值は下る。

最近刊行の吉利支丹文學抄に見えた村岡氏の報告によれば、所藏者不明の慶長十六年（一六一一）ヒデスの經といふ長崎の後藤登明の出版にかかる國字本があらはれたといふ。この最近の發見を除くときは、サトウ氏が正續二編の書志に著録せられた十六部の日本刊行書の外に、四部を加へて、總計二十部になるわけである。原本が存するが如くしてその翻刻本のみが残れる二種のことゝ、前記の新發見本のことゝは別とし、以上二十部のうち五部だけが日本に見存するわけで、そのうち一部だけが日本に殘存したもの、他の四部は明治大正期に佚存本を海外から回収したものである。向後日本の内外から漸次新發見やら回収やらがあれかしこ念願して止まない。往年芥川氏のレゲンタ・オレアの鳥有本の如きが時にあらはれるのも退屈まざれに一興となるであらう。

サトウ卿の『日本耶穌會刊行書志』に就いて

石田幹之助

今度吉野博士其他の御盡力でサトウ卿の「日本耶穌會刊行書志」の覆刻が上梓される事になつた事ですが、誠に結構な事であります。それに就いて諸名家のサトウ卿に關する考説を集めたものを附刊せられる事であります。これが大へん結構なものであります。所がわたくしにもその中に入れる爲何か一篇を書けといふ御註文ですが、これは少々わたくしの柄にならぬや一應は御断りを致しました。然し、そんなら「耶穌會刊行書志」の紹介でもいゝから書けといふ木村毅君の嚴命に已むを得ず、以下少しく同書の内容の一斑を御傳へする事へ致します。勿論専門大家の一粲を博せんとするものではあります。

「日本耶穌會刊行書志」(The Jesuit Mission Press in Japan 1591-1610 by Ernest Mason Satow) まだ卿が Sir になられる前一八八年(明治二十二年)に知人の間に頒たれる目的で百部を限り附

印せられた私版本で、日本に於ける文祿慶長前後の耶穌教史、特に耶穌會の活動に關する史實を調べる人々には無くてならぬ参考書であり、別しては當時の刊書史、殊に所謂切支丹版なるもののお研究される方々には是非共案頭になければならぬ書物であらう。その續篇(Transactions of the Asiatic Society of Japan, Vol. XXVII, Pt. 2, 1900)の方は少しも珍しいはあらねやんが、正編の方は今では稀観書に屬してあり、本邦にも東京帝大(ライシン文庫本)・京都帝大・長崎圖書館・東洋文庫等の藏本の外個人に幾人かの所蔵者があるだけだらうと存じます。サトウ卿はこの書を著はされる數年前から日本に於ける印刷の歴史、乃至書籍刊行の歴史を研究しておられ、現に "On the Early History of Printing in Japan" (Transactions of the Asiatic Society of Japan, Vol.X, Pt. 2, pp. 48-83) もかく "Further Notes on movable types in Korea and Early Japanese Printed Books" (Ibid., Vol. X, Pt. 2, 18

本を基としたことへの不満足な點がある。これに綴字法を

一冊。羅馬、某々家藏。(サトウ卿その名を明示せず、單に In private hands も記してあるだけで詳しいことは分りません)。又一本大英博物館藏。數年前英京の書肆 Quaritch の古書目録にこの書一部を擧げ、之に註して「歐洲に存するもの三、四部を出でじ」とありましたが、これ亦その所蔵家を明記してありません。右の一本は今東洋文庫の藏に歸してをりますが、この本は處々に損傷があつて文の讀めない處のあるのは遺憾であります。(序に申します、サトウ卿に據りますと「屢々本文中に refer してある日本譯の部を缺く」ごあります、愚案に據ればこれはさうであるまと思ひます。即ちこれで完全なので日本譯の部は別になるものと思ひます。といふのはこの日本譯は實は本文中に拉丁文や葡萄牙文に交つて存してゐるのでそれを卿は氣づかれずに別に免められた結果ではないかと思ひます。前記クーリッヂの目録に「日本譯の部は歐洲に存せず、恐らくは日本より送られざりしなるべし」を附言してあります
が、これがサトウ卿の所記に基いた記載かどうかは分りませんが鄙見に従へばこれも誤解かと思ひます)。 以上が本書に解題せられてをります書物の全部であります
が、この書志の刊行に依つて我が學界は全く新たな研究の資料

を境地を示されたのでありました。今でこそ、この書などが一つの動力となつて我が切支丹の研究、特に所謂切支丹文學の研究が大いに興り、右に列記しました書物のうち或物などは、サトウ卿の解題以上に詳しい紹介が試みられ、その著者譯者などの傳記・著述などに就いても更に立入った調べが行はれ、又その本文のかなり多くの部分が抄出されて版に附せられるといふやうな氣運になつて來ましたが、この書の出版當時は全くこれららの書の存在そのことすらが、少數の専門家を除いては既に空谷の跫音として聞かれたのでありました。(以上の中で其後に一層詳しく解題紹介された書には「平家物語」「伊曾保物語」「金句集」「あや・き・べからず」「落葉集」「サンントスの御作業」「コンテントウス・ムンディ」などを數へることが出来ますが、これらは主として新村博士、近くは村岡典嗣氏・龜井高孝氏などの力に依ることであります。〔南蠻記〕、「南蠻廣記」、「吉利支丹文學抄」、「藝文」大正十五年など参照])。

然し日本に於いて當時耶蘇會の手で刊行された書物はサトウ卿の記載せられた右の十四種に盡きるわけではありません。既に明治以前に(一七八九年(安政六年)バデエス師に依つてその「日本書志」のうちに著錄されてゐる切支丹文献のうちにも、右の十四種以外のものがちよい／＼見てゐるのであります

さういふやうな次第で益々佚書の再び現はれてくるものが増して参りました。これらはそれ／＼新村博士・山田孝雄氏・林若吉氏・姉崎博士等に依つて紹介せられ、又岡本氏や橋本進吉氏などもその或るものに就いて近く詳細な解題なり研究なりを發表せられるさうであります。斯界のため誠に慶祝に堪へない次第であります。——以上は甚だとりごめのない記事であります。木村君の命に依りサトウ卿の書を解題すると同時に、それに附け加へて二三關係のあることを記したもので、燕雑などころは幾重にも御寛怒を願ひます。申すまでもありませんが、上文中に闡説しました書は日本耶穌會の手に成る出版物のみなのであります。これ以外に寫本・刊本をとり交せて所謂切支丹本は色々あつたのであります。例へば古く既にロドリゲーズ師の日本文典のうちに文例として引用されたものゝうちに多くのこの種の書物が存してゐたことでもあります（新村博士、「吉利支丹文學斷片」「南蠻更紗所收」参考）、又明治二年の頃長崎・横濱等で石印に附した覆刊又は新編（？）の同種の書もあるのであります。これらに就いては村岡氏の書、永山時英氏の「對外史料寶鑑」第一集、新村博士の南蠻關係の書物兩三種、京都大學の考古學報告第七冊、姉崎博士の近業中切支丹迫害に關するもの（二種）、太田正雄博士の「ぼるつがる記」（「思想」大正

右に言及しました「ひですの經」に關する岡本君の紹介は一枚のファクシミールを添へて「書誌」第四冊に掲出されました。又橋本氏の研究は東洋文庫より出版される文祿元年版ローマ字本「ドチリイナ・キリシタン」の玻璃版複製に伴つて公にされる筈で、本年の末には「文祿元年天草版吉利支丹教義」と題して世に出ることゝ思ひます。最後に明治初年に出版された切支丹書に就いてはなほ「新舊時代」第二年第七冊に出た渡邊庫輔君の「明治初年の切支丹書二三」と「藝文」（第三年第九號所掲上田敏博士の記事、第六年第十一號所載伊藤小三郎氏の記事）を參看せられ度い。

す。たゞその記述に明確を缺く箇所がないでもないので、之を更に批評的に追補・訂正したものが即ちサトウ卿の「書志」の Appendix 細字四頁に外ならぬものであります。これはバ師の挙げました書物のうち、その名のみ傳はつていま傳本の存在を詳にしないものなどに對して詳細な按語を加へ、又バ師所説の典據を附加したりなどして、原書の記載を修訂増補した所が少くありません。即ちバ師が有りと記したもので今佚したらしいもの、バ師が刊本と考へたもので實は鈔寫に係るもの、バ師の全く知らなかつたもので古書に據つて新に著録したもの等がいくらかづゝあるのであります。

然しどもかくサトウ卿がこの「書志」を編まれる時に自ら書を撫し、親しくその頁を繰られた實存のものは右の十四種より外になかつたのでありました。所が其後暫くにして卿は自ら「太平記抜書」(慶長の末、長崎?刊、邦字本)と水戸侯の所蔵に係る別本「ドチリイナ・キリシタン」(羅馬字本、一六〇〇年)と慶長五年、長崎刊)とを發見せられ、その解説と後者にあつてはその全文の覆刊とを公にせられました。これが「書志」の續篇でありまして、前に記しました「日本亞細亞協會雑誌」第廿七卷第二號に載せられたものであります。それからいま林氏の藏に歸した邦字本の「こんてむつす・むんぢ」が發見され(こ
