PREFACE TO VOL. XXXVI

Following is a synopsis of the documents contained in the present volume:

LXXIV. The main part of the Relation of 1649-50 is by Ragueneau, the new superior, supplemented by a letter from Jerome Lalemant, and, in the second edition, by another from the mother superior of the Hospital nuns. The first twelve chapters of Ragueneau's Relation were given in Vol. XXXV.; we now publish the thirteenth, and last, chapter by Ragueneau, and the two supplemental letters, thus concluding the document.

In his final chapter, Ragueneau narrates the experiences of an Iroquois who had been captured, in 1645, by a band of Hurons; they presented him to Montmagny, who sent him back to his own country. Having again been taken prisoner, he is sent to France, as mentioned in the Journal des Jésuites (October, 1649). His sojourn there is short; unused to the ways of civilization, he is carried away by a fever. But his devout behavior and desire for baptism are most edifying; and those who are present at his pious death "witness the felicity of a Hiroquois who had, perhaps, eaten his share of more than 50 men."

The Paris editor adds, as a postscript, an undated letter written to the provincial by Jerome Lalemant,—late superior in Canada, who goes to France to ask aid for their work, - giving a final review of the condition of the Jesuit missions there. He observes that at his coming to Canada, twelve years ago, he found "but one Christian Huron family, with two or three which composed the Algonquin and Montagnais Church;" and now "I leave in it hardly any family - Huron, Algonquin, or Montagnais - that is not thoroughly Christianized, - not to speak of the surrounding Nations . . . who, with time, bid fair to be no less teachable." The enforced curtailment of their labors, and the lack of sufficient support in this newly-settled country, have compelled part of the missionaries to return to France; about twenty remain, employed in the Algonkin missions and on the St. Lawrence. All, whether they stay here or cross the ocean, are devoted to this work, and ready to give their lives for its success. A new opening for missionary labor has appeared, - among the Abenakis, who have come to ask that Druillettes may go to their country. Albanel has gone to spend the winter with the Montagnais Indians; and the Attikamègues will be visited by a missionary in the spring, if not prevented by the Iroquois. Work is also being carried on among the tribes of the Saguenay,-a promising field. The nuns at Quebec, of both convents, are doing a most efficient work for the salvation of the Indians and the preservation of this infant colony. The new governor of Canada, D'Ailleboust, is well disposed toward the missions. All these things afford Lalemant great encouragement and hope.

The letter from Marie de St. Bonaventure, superioress of the Hospital nuns at Quebec, is written to a citizen of Paris, and dated September 29, 1650. She describes to this friend of the Canadian missions the overthrow and wretched condition of the Huron tribes. Four hundred of their refugees are encamped near the hospital, whither they come every day for mass and for food. She writes, "I have never before seen such poverty or such devotion," and closes with an appeal to their friends in France for aid to meet these great responsibilities.

LXXV. This is a letter (dated June, 1651) from the Company of New France to the Jesuit father general, stating their desire to have a bishop appointed for Canada, for which they have secured the approval of the queen. They propose that this bishop be selected from the Jesuit order, their choice being Charles Lalemant, now superior of the Jesuit residence at Paris; they urge the father general to accept their nomination.

LXXVI. This is a Latin letter by Druillettes (doubtless written in 1651) to John Winthrop, governor of Connecticut, imploring the English colonists to aid the Canadian authorities in subduing the hostile Mohawks, since the latter are harassing the Christians — not only French, but Indian — along the St. Lawrence, and even plan a massacre of the Abenakis, among whom Druillettes is engaged in Christian labor. He offers, in the name of the French governor, compensation for the expense of sending New England troops for the defense of the Christian Indians; and requests Winthrop to lay the matter before the colonial general assembly, which is to meet at Hartford in June following.

LXXVII. Druillettes makes a report (apparently written in the early summer of 1651) of the mission on which he was sent (September, 1650) by the governor of Canada, to ask aid against the Iroquois from the New England colonies. At the English settlement of Coussinoc, he meets John Winslow, Noel Negabamat, of Sillery-to Plymouth and Boston, and treats them with great kindness. Druillettes has audience from the authorities of both colonies, who are personally well inclined to aid the French against the Iroquois. The envoy visits several of the English settlements, and is everywhere received with kindly hospitality. In February, 1651, having accomplished his errand, he returns to continue his mission among the Abenakis of the Kennebec. In April, Winslow comes to the Kennebec, and visits Druillettes; he reports favorable action by the Plymouth magistrates on the French proposals. From various sources. Druillettes also learns that the people of Boston look on these with favor, and that many persons will volunteer on an expedition against the Iroquois, if allowed to do so.

On April 24, a Sokoki envoy brings Druillettes an answer to proposals made by the latter to various tribes between Saco River and the lower Hudson. These tribes are willing to fight against the Iroquois, and numerous allies will join them. Druillettes sums up the conclusions he has reached, after this journey, in regard to the attitude of these Indian tribes, and of the New England colonies. He is sanguine in his expectations of aid in both directions, especially on account of the advantage which Boston and Plymouth would derive from a freer and more extensive trade with Canada.

LXXVIII. The Journal des Jésuites for 1651 records that the Ursuline nuns move into their own house, January 21. Toward the end of March, Buteux goes on a mission to the Attikamègues. The Huron refugees are finally placed (March – April) on Orléans Island, where each receives an allotment of land; they are under the care of Father Chaumonot. Letters from Montreal report a fight with the Iroquois, March 1; also a raid of these marauders upon the Neutral tribes, in the preceding autumn, which latter had defeated the enemy in battle; to avenge their losses, another Iroquois army has been sent to the Neutral country.

Late in April came alarming news of Iroquois raids everywhere,—in the Huron country, against the Neutrals, and along the St. Lawrence. They cut off various Huron bands, and even attack settlers near Quebec and Montreal; and they besiege the fort on Christian Island, where they destroy a hundred men.

Druillettes returns, June 7, from his embassy to New England; on the 22nd, accompanied by Godefroy, he returns thither on a similar errand. Little of interest occurs during the summer, except frequent and often murderous raids by the Iroquois. The first ship from France arrives August 18. In September, tidings are brought that the Iroquois have destroyed the Neutral nation; and that the remnants of two Huron tribes have, according to savage custom, become incorporated with the Senecas, one of the Iroquois tribes who had conquered them. At the end of this same month, a considerable number of Huron refugees arrive.

October 13, there arrives in Quebec the new governor of Canada — Jean de Lauson, long a prominent member of the Hundred Associates. He is received with much ceremony, both civil and ecclesiastical. A few days afterward, he dines at the Jesuit residence; the school-boys receive him in the new chapel, "with a Latin oration, French verses, etc.," and the savages dance. In November, the ship Ste. Anne is lost by striking on rocks in the St. Lawrence. December 4, Corneille's Heraclius is represented.

LXXIX. The Relation of 1650-51 is a brief document consisting of three short chapters by Ragueneau, as superior,—in the main, a summary of the annual reports to him, from the several missions, followed by a journal and letter by Buteux. Ragueneau's introductory letter to his provincial, in Paris, is dated at Quebec, October 28, 1651. We have space in this volume only for the matter by Ragueneau—leaving Buteux's contribution to follow in Vol. XXXVII.

The date of the Relation (October 28) is but a fortnight after the arrival of Jean de Lauson, the new governor of Canada, with assistance for the little colony, which has been anxiously expected since the early summer. In his opening chapter, Ragueneau describes the condition of the French settlements. The wheat crop is excellent everywhere, this year, but especially at Montreal, "which would be an earthly Paradise for both the Savages and the French, were it not for the terror of the Iroquois." It has, on this account, been deserted by the savages, and only fifty French people remain there, who are incessantly harassed by the relentless foe. In one of their raids, they carry away a poor French woman, whom they burn to death, after cruel tortures, in revenge for the loss of some of their warriors. All the French settlements have suffered from the Iroquois, but especially that of Three Rivers, which "has existed only through a miracle," and through the care of the Virgin Mary, toward whom the inhabitants have shown extraordinary devotion.

The Hospital nuns are "more than ever necessarv to the country," and both their strength and their means are taxed to the utmost. The destruction of the Ursuline convent by fire is described. The good nuns, though no lives are lost, see all their earthly possessions "reduced to ashes, but looked upon it with pleasure, praising God because the fire performed his holv will." They are now erecting a new building, meanwhile lodging in a small and inconvenient house. The Jesuit church is not yet finished, but it is used for the celebration of mass. Next to this building is a seminary for boys, begun this year, where the children are boarded, and are taught "reading, writing, plain-chant, and the fear of God." Without it, "our French would become savages, and have less instruction than the Savages themselves."

During the past year, the hostilities of the Iroquois have been considerably diverted by their attacks upon the Neutral nation, upon which they have inflicted complete ruin and desolation, mercilessly slaughtering all who could not follow their homeward march. Two villages are thus destroyed, and the rest of the people abandon their homes and flee to remote lakes and forests, as the Hurons had done before them. The Hurons who remained in the southern villages, of their own accord, join one of the Iroquois tribes.

Those who remained on Christian Island narrowly escape being captured by Iroquois treachery, and finally retreat to Manitoulin Island. Later, many of these take refuge with their brethren at Quebec. This increases the burdens of the missionaries, but they trust in Divine provision for their needs. The Indian reduction at Sillery is an asylum for the persecuted Christians; and they will not suffer therein any apostates or any scandalous conduct. The Algonkins in the mission at Three Rivers have been under the special care of Providence, in their winter hunt. Various instances of their desire for baptism are related.

The Montreal mission serves as a temporary refuge for many Algonkins who come down the Ottawa for trade. Two Fathers have been in residence there, and have given instruction to various bands of these nomads - some of whom even remain there during most of the winter. The Huron colony have settled on Orleans Island, - called by the Jesuits St. Mary's Island, - where they have built cabins and tilled the land, although they had to be supported by the French during the first year. This has cost the Jesuits 8,000 livres, much of which has been sent them from France for this purpose. Only five of these refugees have died, and those most piously. Various instances of piety and devoutness among these Hurons are related; one of these has never been refused by the Virgin any favor, spiritual or temporal, which he has asked from her. When the Ursulines lose their home by fire, these Hurons give them a present of two porcelain collars, which are all their wealth

In the Tadoussac mission, Albanel has spent the winter with the Montagnais. Returning to Tadoussac, he finds a helper necessary, who is accordingly given to him,— there being over eight hundred persons there this year, and a great increase in the number of Christians. De Quen holds a "flying mission" among the Oumamiwek Indians, eighty leagues below Tadoussac. The Abenakis ask for Druillettes, who is sent (September, 1650) partly to minister to their needs, partly to solicit aid against the Iroquois from the English colonies. Returning from this journey (June, 1651) he is again sent to Boston, whence he has not yet returned. Buteux spends three months with the Attikamègues; his journal of that voyage will be given in our next volume.

[154] CHAPTER XIII.

OF THE ARRIVAL OF A HIROQUOIS IN FRANCE, AND OF HIS DEATH.

T seems very proper to say a word or two concerning the life of this Hiroquois, before speaking of his death. In the year 1645, a band of Hiroquois, on a foray along the great river Saint Lawrence, was espied by a small squad of our Savages, who were on the way to hunt down their enemies. The Captain of our Algonquins, named Simon Pieskaret, who was the first to perceive these Hiroquois Adventurers, prepared for them so timely an ambuscade that he routed them. The Hiroquois of whom we are speaking, and a comrade of his, were made prisoners in the fight. Pieskaret took them both alive.contrary to their custom, forbearing to mutilate them, - and presented them to Monsieur the Chevalier de Montmagny, then Governor of all the country. [155] As the Hurons had already given him a prisoner of the same nation, he wished to ascertain if, by means of these prisoners, the Hiroquois were amenable to a lasting treaty of peace, - so as to reunite all these nations, who tear one another in pieces, and prey upon one another after so strange a fashion. The result seemed very auspicious. One of the three prisoners was sent back to his own country with words, or rather presents, which invited that nation to peace. They sent two Ambassadors upon this matter, in that same year; and in the year following, 1646, ment concluë, & nos prifonniers renuoyez libres en leur païs. Celuy dont il s'agit homme d'efprit, & puiffant de corps ayant veu les prefens que Monfieur le Gouuerneur auoit fait pour fa deliurance remporta auec foy vn amour & vn defir de recognoiffance enuers les François, difant qu'il leur eftoit redeuable de fa vie, comme il eft veritable. Car fi Monfieur le Cheualier de Montmagni ne fe fut entremis dans cét affaire les Algonquins l'auroient bruflé & mis en pieces.

La mefme année 1646. qui vit la naiffance de la paix, en vit auffi la mort. Le Pere Ifaac Iogues estant allé au pays de [156] ces Barbares auec vn jeune François, y fut tué au mois d'Octobre; nostre Hiroquois voyant qu'on le vouloit mettre à mort s'y oppofa; il n'y gagna rien qu'vn coup de hache qu'il receut fur le bras, l'ayant presenté deuant le Pere pour le mettre à couuert. Ce coup receu par charité, fut peut-estre le coup de sa predestination; car il est bien croyable, que ce bon Pere estant au Ciel, a obtenu de nostre Seigneur le falut de fon ame, en reconnoiffance du falut qu'il auoit voulu conferuer à fon corps. La mort du Pere Iogues & la rupture de la paix fut cachée aux François & aux Algonquins tout l'Hyuer, mais au Prin-temps de l'année fuiuante 1647. la perfidie des Hiroquois éclata par le meurtre de quantité de nos Chreftiens furpris par ces traistres.

Noftre Hiroquois ne fut point de la partie, il ne vint point en guerre auec fes compatriotes, ne fe pouuant refoudre de combattre ceux qui luy auoient donné la vie; mais enfin eftant venu l'an 1648. affez proche de l'habitation des François nommée les Trois peace was fully concluded, and our prisoners were released and sent back to their own country. The one with whom we are concerned,—a man of intelligence, and of powerful build,—having seen the gifts which Monsieur the Governor had presented for his liberation, brought back with him a friendly feeling toward the French, and the desire to manifest his gratitude, declaring that he owed to them his life, as was true,— for if Monsieur the Chevalier de Montmagni had not interposed in the matter, the Algonquins would have burned him, and cut him in pieces.

The same year, 1646, which witnessed the birth of peace saw also its death. Father Isaac Jogues, having gone to the country of [156] those Barbarians with a young Frenchman, was murdered there in the month of October. Our Hiroquois, seeing their intention to put him to death, opposed it. He gained nothing by that but a blow from a hatchet upon his arm, while placing it before the Father to protect This blow, received through charity, was him. perhaps the stroke of his predestination, for it may certainly be believed that this good Father obtained from our Lord, in Heaven, the salvation of this man's soul, in return for his attempt to save the Father while in the body. The death of Father Jogues, and the rupture of the peace, were concealed from the French and the Algonquins during the entire Winter; but in the Spring of the following year, 1647, the perfidy of the Hiroquois was exposed through the murder of a large number of our Christians, who were surprised by these traitors.

Our Hiroquois was not one of the party; he did not go with his fellow-countrymen to war, for he riuieres, pour chaffer aux Caftors, & ayant apperçeu vne chalouppe conduitte par des François, il fe [157] prefenta fur le bord du grand fleuue, il crie, il appelle, il fait figne qu'on le vienne querir, les François le voyant feul l'abordent & le reçoiuent dans leur vaiffeau; vn Huron pris en guerre & deuenu Hiroquois parmy eux, fortant du bois, & voyant qu'on emmenoit fon camarade, fait figne qu'il le veut fuiure, on l'embarque auec l'Hiroquois, & on les mene tous deux au Capitaine des Trois riuieres: Ils auoient trois autres compagnons qui parurent quelque temps apres, on tafcha bien de les furprendre, mais la defiance les fit éuader, excepté le plus foible qui ayant efté attrapé par vn Algonquin fut mis à mort fur la place.

Le Huron deuenu Hiroquois, interrogé par nos Truchemens, dit tout libremet, qu'il auoit deffein, fa chaffe aux Caftors eftant faite, de chaffer aux Algonquins, & qu'il en auroit pris ou tué quelqu'vn s'il en eut rencontré à fon auantage. Pour noftre Hiroquois il protefta que depuis le moment que les François luy auoient donné la vie, il auoit toufiours porté dans fon corps vn cœur François, qu'il s'eftoit opposé à ceux qui auoient tué le Pere Ifaac Iogues, qu'il auoit receu au bras le [158] premier coup qui fut déchargé fur ce bon Pere, il [en] monstroit la marque. I'ay tous jours eu la penfée, difoit-il, de vous donner auis de la trahyfon de mes compatriotes, ie ne l'ay pû faire qu'à prefent que ie me fuis jetté entre vos bras. Sa justification ne fut pas receuë, la fourbe des méchans rend les innocens coupables, on luy met les fers aux pieds comme à vn traistre.

Quelque temps apres, deux canots remplis d'Hyrocould not bring himself to fight against those who had spared his own life. But at length, having come in the year 1648, in order to hunt Beavers, quite near to the French settlement named Three rivers. and espying a shallop manned by some Frenchmen, he [157] came forward upon the shore of the great river, shouting, calling, and signaling to them to come to him. The Frenchmen, seeing that he was alone, approached him, and received him into their boat. A Huron, taken in war, who had become as one of the Hiroquois, coming out of the forest, and seeing that they were carrying off his comrade, made signs that he would like to go with him; he was taken on board with the Hiroquois, and both were conducted to the Commandant at Three rivers. They had three other companions, who were seen some time afterward; our men made every effort to surprise them, but their distrust led them to slip away, - except one, of less strength than the rest, who, having been captured by an Algonquin, was put to death upon the spot.

The Huron who had become a Hiroquois, when questioned by our Interpreters, admitted very frankly that he had intended, when his Beaver-hunt was over, to pursue the Algonquins; and that he would have taken or killed any one of these, had he met him at advantage. Our Hiroquois affirmed, for himself, that since the moment when the French had spared his life, he had always carried about in his body a French heart; that he had opposed himself to those who killed Father Isaac Jogues; and that he had received on his own arm the [158] first blow that was dealt at the good Father, of which he showed the scar. "I have always had it in my mind," said quois furent découuerts en pleine nuict fur la grande riuiere; la fentinelle en ayant donné auis au Caporal, on fit monter noftre Hyroquois fur vn baftion, il crie à pleine tefte, fes gens luy répondent, ils parlent enfemble en langue Hiroquoife; & pour conclusion, on enuoye vne chaloupe vers ces deux canots qui amena au fort vn autre Hiroquois; en voyla deux entre les mains des François, qui donnerent le nom de berger au premier venu pour le diftinguer des autres; il fut le lendemain enuoyé vers vne troupe de fes Gens qui estoient en armes au delà du grand fleuue, d'où il reuint accompagné de deux autres, aufquels on mit les fers aux pieds auffi bien qu'à leurs [159] camarades. Il est vray qu'on deliuera le berger de ces entraues, pource qu'on ne creut pas qu'ayant amené les autres, il ofast éuader sans eux. Ouelques iours apres, d'autres bandes d'Hiroquois paroiffant à tous momens, il fit si bien que deux de ses compatriotes fe vindrent encore jetter dedans les fers: ce procedé donnoit de l'estonnement, quelques-vns l'attribuoient à l'amour qu'il portoit aux François, d'autres le prenoient pour vne trahyfon fecrete qu'il pretendoit faire reüffir en fon temps; quoy qu'il en foit, ces oyfeaux s'ennuyans d'eftre fi long-temps en cage, trouuerent le moyen de s'enuoler nonobstant leurs fers, & leurs gardes; le feul berger dont nous parlons refta parmy les François, les autres s'eftans fauuez affez adroitement.

On fut bien en peine de ce qu'on feroit du pauure homme; les vns le vouloient faire mourir comme vn traiftre, d'autres difoient que s'eftant rendu à nous le bonne foy, on ne pouuoit pas le condamner à mort he, "to inform you of the treason of my fellowcountrymen; but I could not do so till now, when I have thrown myself into your arms." His selfvindication was not accepted; his feet were shackled, as a traitor.

Some time after, two canoes, filled with Hyroquois, were discovered in the middle of the night on the great river. The sentinel having reported this to the Corporal, our Hyroquois was made to mount upon a bastion. Shouting at the top of his voice, his people replied, and they conversed together in the Hiroquois language; and, in the end, a shallop was sent off to the two canoes which brought back to the fort another Hiroquois. There were now two in the hands of the French, who gave the name of berger to him who had first come, to distinguish him from the others. He was sent, next day, to a band of his People who were under arms on the other side of the great river; thence he returned, accompanied by two others, who were placed in irons as well as their [150] comrades. It is true that berger was freed from these fetters, as it was scarcely credible that, having enticed over the others, he would dare to make good his escape without them. During the following days, ever and anon, other bands of Hiroquois appeared. Berger played his part so well that two more of his fellow-countrymen came in, but only to be thrown into fetters. This proceeding caused astonishment; some attributed it to the love he bore toward the French; others regarded it as some secret treachery, which he purposed to make successful in However that might be, these birds, due time. weary of being so long caged, found means to fly away, despite their fetters and their guards. Berger, fur de fimples foupçons de trahyfon; enfin on jugea qu'il eftoit à propos de l'enuoyer en France, de peur que s'il venoit à fe fauuer, il n'emportaft auec foy [160] vne trop grande connoiffance du pays, & de l'eftat des François & des Algonquins. On le mit donc entre les mains d'vn Pere de noftre Compagnie qui repaffoit pour les affaires de ces nouuelles Eglifes.

Ils s'embarquerent à Kebek le dernier d'Octobre, de l'an paffé 1649. ils entrerent dans le port du Havre de Grace le 7. de Decembre; le Pere pendant cette trauerfée appelloit ce pauure Hiroquois de temps en temps, luy faifant reciter fes prieres qu'il fçauoit tres-bien, ayant efté inftruit pendant fon fejour parmy les François. Il auoit fouuent demandé le Baptefme, mais l'incertitude du futur l'auoit empefché de receuoir vn fi grand bien; veu mefme qu'on luy vouloit donner vne plus grande inftruction, & vne plus grande connoiffance de nos myfteres, & tirer de luy vne preuue plus affeurée de fa bonne volonté

Comme on l'enuoye de l'habitation des Trois riuieres au port de Kebek, où il fe deuoit embarquer, il luy arriua vne chofe tres-remarquable. Les foldats & les Matelots qui eftoient dans la barque, ayant peur qu'il ne fautât dans l'eau [161] pendant la nuict, pour fe fauuer à la nage, & puis à la courfe dans les bois, le lioient le foir fort eftroitement, & le lendemain matin on le trouuoit libre & tout delié; on le ferra dauantage, & on redoubla fes liens les autres nuicts, en forte qu'on ne croyoit pas qu'il fe puft en aucune façon dégager; on le trouua neanmoins encore tout libre & delié le lendemain matin: cela fit croire à ceux qui eftoient dans la barque, & qui ne l'enten-of whom we are speaking, alone remained among the French, the others having very adroitly escaped.

It was difficult to decide what should be done with the poor man. Some wished that he should be executed as a traitor; others said that, having surrendered himself to us in good faith, he should not be condemned to death on a mere suspicion of treachery. At length, it was decided that it would be best to send him to France,— for fear that, if he should come to make his escape, he might take away with him [160] a too thorough knowledge of the country, and of the condition of the French and the Algonquins. Accordingly, he was placed in the care of a Father of our Society, who was going across on business connected with these new Churches.

They embarked at Kebek, on the last day of October in the past year, 1649. They entered the port of Havre de Grace on the 7th of December. During that passage, the Father, from time to time, called to him this poor Hiroquois, making him recite his prayers, which he knew very well, having been instructed during his sojourn among the French. He had often asked for Baptism, but the uncertainty of the future had hindered him from receiving so great a benefit,— seeing, moreover, that we preferred to give him more thorough instruction and greater knowledge of our mysteries, and to gather from him some more certain proof of his good-will.

When he was sent from the settlement at Three rivers to the port of Kebek, where he was to embark, a very remarkable thing happened to him. The soldiers and Sailors who were in the ship, fearing lest he should leap into the water [161] during the night,— to make his escape by swimming, and then doient pas qu'il eftoit forcier. Or moy qui écris cecy, ayant appris ce qui s'eftoit paffé; ie priay vn jeune homme, grand amy de cét Hiroquois, de l'aller voir, & de luy demander confidemment de quelle industrie il se feruoit pour se dégager des liens dont il eftoit fi eftroitement & fi foigneusement garotté: l'Hiroquois luy répondit auec vne grande douceur & auec vne prefence d'esprit fort tranquille, que se vovant si mal traité des François, desquels il auoit appris quelque connoiffance de celuy qui a tout fait, il luy addreffoit ces parolles dans les peines & dans les douleurs que luy caufoient fes liens. Toy qui as tout fait, tu sçais bien que c'est à tort que les Francois me traitent fi rudement, me prenant pour vn [162] traistre, ie ne le fuis pas, tu le sçais bien, aye pitié de moy: Ayant fait cette priere mes liens, difoit-il, tomboient d'eux mesmes sans que j'y apportaffe aucune industrie. Dieu est affez bon pour faire vn miracle pour fauuer vne ame; quoy qu'il en foit, les foldats François, vn chirurgien qui eftoit dans la barque, & les matelots employerent leurs liens, leurs ligatures, & leur esprit à garotter cét homme, & on le trouua toufiours délié fans que les cordes fuffent en aucune facon endommagées, mais pourfuiuons noftre chemin.

Ce pauure Barbare eftant arriué au Havre de Grace, & voyant d'vn cofté tout le port fi remply de navires qu'ils fe touchoient l'vn l'autre, & de l'autre tant de maifons raffemblées en vn mefme lieu, & conferant dans fon efprit ces grands vaiffeaux auec leurs petits canots d'écorces, & ces maifons auec leurs cabanes, il demeura deux heures fans parler, tant il fut faifi d'eftonnement.

by running to the woods, -- bound him, at evening, very closely; but on the morning of the next day, they found him at liberty, and all unfettered. They tied him still more tightly, redoubling, on other nights, his bonds in such a manner that they did not believe he could in any way liberate himself; nevertheless they found him entirely free and unbound the next morning. This made those who were in the ship, and who did not understand it, believe that he was a sorcerer. Now, I who write this, having learned what took place, requested a young man, a great friend of the Hiroquois, to go and see him, and to ask him, in confidence, what ingenuity he employed to free himself from bonds by which he was so closely and carefully tied down. The Hiroquois answered him - with much gentleness, and with a presence of mind quite undisturbed — that, finding himself so maltreated by the French, from whom he had gathered some knowledge of him who made all things, he addressed to him, in the pains and sufferings which his bonds occasioned him, these words: "Thou, who hast made all things, thou knowest well that it is wrong for the French to treat me so roughly, taking me for a [162] traitor; I am not that, as thou well knowest; have pity on me." "Having made this prayer, my bonds," said he, "fell off of themselves, without my making any effort.'' God is good enough to work a miracle in order to save a soul. However that may be, the French soldiers, a surgeon who was in the ship, and the sailors, employed their ropes, their bands, and their wits to tie down this man; and they found him always unbound, without the cords being in any way damaged. But let us proceed.

Au fortir du Havre, le Pere le conduifit à Dieppe: il luy auoit donné des fouliers à la Françoife; mais comme ceux dont on fe fert en fon pays font fouples comme des chauffons de tripot, ou comme de gros gands de Cerf, il ne pouuoit s'accommoder [163] à noftre chauffure; il quitte fes bas & fes fouliers, & encore que le temps fut froid & humide, & les chemins tout rompus; car c'eftoit enuiron le 6. Decembre, il marchoit nuds pieds, & nuë tefte auffi leftement qu'au milieu d'vn Prin-temps ou d'vn Efté.

Vn rencontre en ce chemin accreut fon premier eftonnement, il fortit du Havre vn iour de marché, & paffa par diuers lieux és iours de Feftes, les chemins eftoient tous couuers de monde: Comment, difoit-il, les François font par tout; la campagne en eft pleine auffi bien que les villes? cela luy faifoit croire ce que quelques-vns difent par fois en riant aux Sauuages; qu'il y a autant d'hômes en Frãce que d'arbres dans leurs grandes forefts.

Les chemins eftans fort gliffans, ce pauure Hiroquois fe fit entorfe au pied, & fe foula le nerf, en forte qu'eftant arriué à Dieppe, le Pere le logea à l'Hofpital pour le faire penfer. Les Religieufes qui gouuernent cette maifon auec vne netteté, & vne charité rauiffante, le receurent & le firent penfer foigneufement: mais comme le mal eftoit affez fâcheux, le Pere voulant tirer droit à Paris, luy dit qu'il demeuraft en repos en cette maifon, ou [164] il eftoit aymé, & qu'il le feroit venir, quand il feroit guery, dans la ville ou demeuroit ordinairement le grand Capitaine des François. Ce Sauuage voyant le depart du Pere, qui eftoit fa feule & vnique The poor Barbarian, on his arrival at Havre de Grace,—seeing, on the one side, the port so full of ships that they touched one another; and, on the other, so many houses crowded together in one place,—comparing in his own mind those grand vessels with their little bark canoes, and those houses with their cabins, remained for two hours without speaking, so overcome was he with astonishment.

On leaving Havre, the Father took him to Dieppe. He had provided him with shoes after the French fashion; but — as those which are used in his own country are supple, like tennis slippers, or Buckskin gloves — he could not become used [163] to our mode of shoeing, and threw off both shoes and stockings; and, although the season was cold and damp, and the roads all broken up, for it was about the 6th of December, he walked barefooted, and bareheaded, as briskly as in the middle of Spring or Summer.

But what he encountered on the way increased his first astonishment. He went out of Havre, one marketday, and passed by various places on Festival days, the roads being crowded with people. "Why," said he, "the French are everywhere; the country, as well as the towns, is full of them." That made him believe what some say in jest to the Savages, that there are as many men in France as trees in their vast forests.

The roads being very slippery, the poor Hiroquois sprained his foot, and injured the tendon in such a way that, when he arrived at Dieppe, the Father lodged him at the Hospital, to have it cared for. The Nuns, who manage that house with a delightful neatness and charity, received him, and had him carefully attended to; but, as the injury was quite connoiffance, le voulut fuiure, difant, que fon pied ne luy faifoit plus de douleur. Il fe met donc en chemin, mais il n'auoit pas fait vn quart de lieuë que fon pied & fa jambe s'enflerent, en forte qu'il auoüa qu'il ne pouuoit marcher. Retourne, luy dit le Pere, en la maifon d'où tu és party, tu feras receu auec charité, & ie feray en forte qu'on te fasse venir au lieu où ie m'en vay quand tu pourras marcher. Ce bon homme craignant de prendre vne maison pour l'autre, & voyant de loin vn François qui tiroit vers la ville, pria le Pere de luy dire qu'il prift la peine de le conduire à l'Hofpital; car pour moy, difoit-il, ie fuis fourd & muet en France, j'ay laiffé ma langue & mes oreilles en mon pays. Le Pere le mit entre les mains de ce François qui le rendit en la maison de misericorde, où il fut pensé & secouru jusques à son entiere guerifon.

Il demeura plus d'vn mois dans cét Hofpital, où il donna vne telle édification aux bonnes Religieufes qui le gouuernent, [165] qu'elles en écriuirent en ces termes. Mon Reuerend Pere, voicy fincerement ce que nous auons remarqué dans les deportemens du Sauuage Hiroquois, que vous nous auez laiffé, & que nous vous auons renuoyé.

Il nous a donné des marques d'vne grande pieté, comme il n'eftoit que catechumene, il n'entendoit la Meffe que jufques à l'Euangile, mais en fe retirant de la Chapelle il fe mettoit à genoux en quelque petit coin, continuant fes prieres jufques à l'entier accompliffement du facrifice, & cela tous les iours.

Il prioit fouuent pendant le iour, mais il ne mãquoit point tous les matins à fon leuer de s'aller serious, the Father, desiring to go directly to Paris. told him to remain quiet in that house, where [164] he was loved; and that he would have him brought, as soon as he was well, to the city in which usually resided the great Captain of the French. The Savage, on witnessing the departure of the Father, who was his one and only acquaintance, wished to follow him, exclaiming that his foot no longer gave him any pain. He set out, then, on the way; but he had not gone a quarter of a league before his foot and leg began to swell to such a degree that he admitted his inability to walk. "Go back," the Father said to him, "to the house whence thou camest; thou wilt be received with charity, and I will make arrangements for bringing thee to the place whither I am going, so soon as thou canst walk." The worthy man, afraid of mistaking one house for another, and perceiving, in the distance, a Frenchman going toward the city, begged the Father to ask him to take the trouble of conducting him to the Hospital; "for," said he, "for my part, I am deaf and dumb in France; I have left my tongue and my ears in my own country." The Father placed him in the care of this Frenchman, who escorted him to the house of mercy, where he was nursed and cared for until he was completely cured.

He remained more than a month in that Hospital, where he so edified the good Nuns who had charge of it [165] that they wrote about him in these terms: "My Reverend Father, the following is a true statement of what we have observed in the behavior of the Hiroquois Savage whom you left with us, and whom we have sent back to you.

"He has given us evidences of great piety. Asprefenter à Dieu deuant l'autel, & d'y faire fes prieres; il manioit fi fouuent fon Chapelet que nous croyons qu'il le difoit plufieurs fois pendant le iour.

Lors qu'on portoit le Saint Sacrement aux malades de l'Hofpital, vous le voyiez auffi-toft à genoux, mais dans vne pofture fi deuote, qu'il touchoit les cœurs de tous ceux qui l'enuifageoient.

Enfin fi on le vouloit réjouyr, il luy falloit parler du Baptefme, au moindre figne qu'on luy en donnoit, fon vifage paroiffoit guay, il portoit des marques d'vn [166] efprit qui ne refpiroit que ce bon-heur.

Il nous refpectoit, difent les meres, auec vne modeftie qui ne reffentoit rien du Sauuage, il eftoit prompt à obeyr, tres-enclin à obliger, & à fecourir ceux qu'il voyoit defirer de luy quelque feruice. Le feu s'eftant mis dans quelque maifon voifine de l'Hofpital, il fit paroiftre fon courage, fa force, & fon adreffe, fe trouuant empefché dans les habits François, il fe mit en calçon & en vn moment grimpa fur les endroits les plus dangereux faifant plus luy feul que plufieurs ensẽble.

Il prenoit fon repas, non en Barbare, mais en homme temperant; car encore qu'il fut grand & puiffant, il mangeoit affez mediocrement, & receuoit ce qui luy eftoit prefenté, auec vne fi grande reconnoiffance, qu'on l'eut pris pour vne perfonne éleuée dans la ciuilité Françoife.

Il fe diuertiffoit quelquesfois auec les malades, ou auec les pauures de l'Hofpital, mais toufiours auec vne fi grande retenuë qu'il ne mécontentoit perfonne, & jamais on n'a apperçeu en luy la moindre indecence, non pas mefme l'ombre d'aucune liberté he was but a catechumen, he only heard Mass as far as the Gospel; but, on leaving the Chapel, he was in the habit of kneeling down in some obscure corner, and continuing his prayers until the completion of the entire sacrifice, and this every day.

"He was wont to pray often during the day; but he never failed, every morning when he rose, to present himself to God before the altar, and to offer there his prayers. His Rosary was so often in his hands that we believe he repeated it many times during the day.

"When the Blessed Sacrament was carried to the sick of the Hospital, you would see him immediately fall upon his knees,—but in a posture so devout, that he touched the hearts of all who beheld him.

"In short, any one who wished to gladden his heart would speak to him of Baptism. At the least allusion to it, his features would light up, betraying a [166] mind that yearned only for this happiness.

"He reverenced us," the mothers go on to say, "with a modesty that revealed nothing of the Savage. He was prompt to obey, and very ready to oblige and assist such as seemed to require any service at his hands. A house near the Hospital having taken fire, he showed his courage, endurance, and agility. Finding himself impeded by his French clothes, he stripped to his drawers, and in a moment was clambering over the most dangerous places, accomplishing more, by himself alone, than many others would together.

"He took his repast, not as a Barbarian, but as a temperate man; for, although he was tall and powerful, he ate rather sparingly; and he received what was brought to him with so much gratitude that he indigne d'vn Chreftien, quoy qu'il ne le fut pas encore. Eftant incommodé d'vn mal de gorge & d'eftomach, [167] on le fit voir au medecin qui ne jugea à propos d'y apporter aucun remede, veu que le mal fe gueriffoit petit à petit; mais fi-toft qu'il eut appris que le Reuerend Pere qui l'auoit amené en France, le demandoit à Paris, il ne parla plus de fon mal, fa joye fut fi grande qu'il ne fe mit guere en peine, ny de remedes, ny de medecin; il prit congé de nous & de nos malades, nous laiffant à tous vn regret de fon depart: tant il eftoit modefte & de bonne humeur.

Il arriua à Paris, enuiron le 20. Ianuier, le Pere qui l'auoit conduit fur mer le reçeut auec joye, & luy demanda s'il eftoit bien guery. Ie ne fçay fi la crainte d'eftre vn autre fois feparé de luy, n'altera point la fincerité qu'ont les Sauuages en leurs paroles; ou fi la joye de le voir ne luy déroboit point le fentiment de fon mal; quoy qu'il en foit, il témoigna qu'il eftoit en tres-bonne fanté, & cependant il auoit vne fievre qui luy a caufé la mort, il demandoit inceffamment à boire; le Pere croyant qu'il eftoit alteré pour la fatigue du chemin luy en faifoit donner, recommandant qu'on ne luy donnaft que de l'eau, mais les officiers des maifons où il le menoit le voulans careffer luy donnoient [168] du vin jettant de l'huyle dans vn brafier qui l'a confommé.

Il fut logé dans la maifon des nouueaux conuertis par la faueur de madame la Marquife d'Oft, où il trouua la vie & la mort quafi tout enfemble; voicy ce qu'en ont remarqué ceux qui gouuernent cette maifon de charité.

might have been taken for a person reared in French civilization.

"He would entertain himself sometimes among the sick or the poor of the Hospital, but always with so much discretion as to displease no one; and never was there perceived in him the least indelicacy, not even the shadow of any familiarity unbecoming a Christian, although he was not that yet. Being inconvenienced by an affection of the throat and stomach, [167] he was made to see a physician,who, however, did not deem it necessary to prescribe any remedy, as the disease was disappearing, little by little. But as soon as he had learned that the Reverend Father who had brought him to France required him at Paris, he spoke no more of his ailment; his joy was so great that he troubled himself about neither remedies nor physicians. He took leave of us and our sick people, leaving, with us all, regret at his departure, so unassuming and goodnatured was he."

He arrived at Paris about the 20th of January; the Father who had brought him across the sea received him gladly, inquiring if he had quite recovered. I do not know whether the fear of being again separated from him impaired the sincerity manifested by Savages in their words, or whether his joy at seeing him took away the feeling of his illness; however that may be, he declared that he was in the best of health, while he was nevertheless suffering from a fever which caused his death. He asked incessantly for something to drink; the Father, supposing him weakened by the fatigue of travel, gave it to him, recommending that nothing but water should be given him; but the stewards of the houses

Ceux [169] qui le visitoient ne luy pouuans parler que par signes formoient fur eux le figne de la Sainte Croix, éleuans par apres les mains au Ciel, pour luy donner fujet d'y porter fon cœur; il entendoit fort bien ce langage, faifant les mefmes chofes auec tant d'affection qu'il fembloit foulagé de fon mal.

Ce bon homme appelloit toufiours l'Ecclefiaftique de la maifon par le nom de Mõfieur qu'il auoit appris cõuerfant auec les Frãçois, fi quelque autre fe prefentoit pour luy rêdre quelque feruice, il détournoit fa face, repetãt céte parole Monfieur, & quand le Preftre l'abordoit il ne pouuoit exprimer fon defir, ny produire fa penfée. to which he took him, intending to do him a pleasure, gave him [168] wine, casting oil upon the fire which consumed him.

Through the kindness of madame the Marquise d'Ost, he was lodged in the house for recent converts, in which he found both life and death, almost at the same time. The following is what those who are in charge of that house of charity noticed about him:

"On the 22nd of January of this year, 1650, there was brought to us by the Jesuit Fathers a Hiroquois. aged, perhaps, about 35 years. Although indisposed, he never failed to be present at all the exercises of the house, and especially the prayers,- in which, it was evident, he had been instructed; because, from the first time at which he entered the Chapel, he took off his hat, and knelt down, drawing from his pocket a rosary, with which he made upon himself the sign of the Cross without any instruction. His modesty of demeanor betokened strongly the good feelings of his heart. It is a great misfortune when persons cannot understand each other; we could not ask him what it was that ailed him. At length, on the fourth day after he entered the house, it was plainly seen that he could no longer stand up. They placed him on a bed, felt his pulse, and detected a high fever which he had till then concealed. Those [169] who visited him, being unable to talk with him except by gestures, signed themselves with the Holy Cross, afterward uplifting their hands toward Heaven, so as to lead him to raise thither his heart; he understood this language very well, imitating their gestures with so much feeling that he seemed relieved in his suffering.

Le Pere qui l'auoit amené l'alloit vifiter de temps en temps, & l'affeuroit qu'il feroit baptifé, mais la crainte qu'il auoit de mourir fans ce bon-heur luy faifoit demãder l'Ecclefiaftique. Enfin le mal redoublat, ceux de la maison s'assebleret à l'entour de son lict pour voir si on luy accorderoit cette faueur, quelques-vns affeuroiet qu'il étoit teps; d'autres difoient que la force qu'il faifoit encore paroistre estoit vn indice qu'il n'estoit pas [170] voisin de la mort; on termina cette contestation par vn Veni Creator, pour demander lumiere au S. of the house by the name of 'Monsieur;' this he had learned in his intercourse with the French. If any one else came to render him any service, he would turn away his face, repeating the word 'Monsieur:' but, when the Priest drew near, he could neither express his wishes nor formulate his thoughts. All felt compassion for him. It has been thought since, and with reason, that he wished to ask for Baptism; but that, as he was not understood, he sent repeatedly for the Priest, thinking that, seeing him so low, he would baptize him. The Father who had brought him came to visit him from time to time, and assured him that he should be baptized; but the fear that he had of dying without this blessing made him ask the Chaplain. At last, the disease increasing, the inmates of the house assembled themselves round his bed to see if this boon should be conferred upon him. Some asserted that it was time; others said that the strength which he still manifested was an indication that he was not [170] near to his death. They finished the dispute by a Veni Creator, to ask from the Holy Ghost light as to what should be done. Hardly was the prayer ended, when he was seized with a convulsion so violent that they resolved to baptize him at once. It was thought that he had lost consciousness, but he showed plainly that it was not so; for, the violence of the convulsion having thrown him out of the bed, it was seen that he made efforts, notwithstanding his weakness, and despite his great sufferings, to cover his nakedness. And when he saw the Priest robed in Surplice and Stole, and with water in his hand, taking for granted that he was about to receive the accomplishment of his desires, he remained quiet, affiftans; il s'efforçoit de leuer les mains au Ciel, il baifoit le Crucifix; en vn mot on le baptifa fur les 8. heures du foir, & demie heure apres fon ame [171] purifiée dans le Sang de l'Agneau s'euola au Ciel, ce qui obligea ceux qui eftoient preses de reciter, non pas vn Libera, mais le Pfeaume, Laudate Dominum omnes Gentes, en action de graces d'vne faueur fi fignalée; voila ce qu'en ont écrit, & ce qu'en ont rapporté de bouche ceux qui ont efté témoins oculaires du bonheur d'vn Hiroquois, qui auoit peut-eftre mangé fa part de plus de 50. hommes.

Ie croyois que ce Chapitre concluëroit la Relation de cette année, mais le P. Hierôme Lallemant eftãt retourné de la nouuelle France par le dernier vaiffeau, & n'ayant pas rencontré à Paris noftre R. P. Prouincial, nous coucherons icy la lettre qu'il luy a enuoyée pour luy rendre compte des miffions qu'il a fi long-temps gouuernées en ce bout du monde.

holding in check the violence of his complaint, while his countenance beamed with joy. The Father who had charge of him had set down on paper a few acts of contrition, in the Hiroquois tongue, which might be suggested to him from time to time, especially if there were necessity for baptizing him in his ab-These words were pronounced to him with sence. the purpose of moving him to ask pardon of God; he repeated them with devotion and feeling,-also, of his own accord, reciting other prayers, which carried away all the bystanders; he strove to raise his hands to Heaven, and kissed the Crucifix. In short, he was baptized, toward 8 o'clock in the evening; and half an hour after, his soul, [171] purified in the Blood of the Lamb, took its flight to Heaven, constraining those who were present to recite, not a Libera, but the Psalm, Laudate Dominum omnes Gentes, as a thanksgiving for so signal a favor." Such is the report, both written and verbal, of those whose eyes witnessed the felicity of a Hiroquois who had, perhaps, eaten his share of more than 50 men.

I thought that this Chapter would conclude the Relation for this year; but — Father Hierôme Lallemant having returned from new France by the last vessel, and not having met at Paris our Reverend Father Provincial — we will insert here the letter which he sent to the latter in order to render an account of the missions which he has for so long a time directed at this end of the world.

MON R. P. PAX CHRISTI. V. R. aura defia appris, par le retour des premiers vaiffeaux, la fuite des defaftres, & du débris de la Miffion Huronne, caufée enfin par la furie des Hiroquois. La Relation qu'en enuoye le P. Paul Ragueneau, groffie de quelques Chapitres des Miffions plus voifines de Kebec; fait voir le détail, & le particulier de ces mal-heurs. Nos yeux & nos cœurs, voyans & fentãs ces coups de la main de Dieu, n'ont que cette repartie. Il eft le fouuerain Seigneur de fes ouurages, & le Maiftre de nos petits deffeins conceus pour fa gloire, c'eft à nous d'agréer fes ordres, & de n'improuuer iamais ce qu'il fait.

Ie ne fçay comme il eft venu en la penfée de nos Peres, qu'il eftoit à propos que ie repaffaffe la mer pour contribuër au remede de nos mal-heurs; y ayant en France tant de perfonnes capables d'y trauailler fans moy; [173] s'il n'y eut eu autre confideration, j'euffe eu bien de la peine de quitter la nouuelle France: Mais leur defir joint aux intentions de V. [172] Letter of Father Hierosme Lallemant to Reverend Father Claude de Lingendes, Provincial of the Society of JESUS in the Province of France.

M^Y REVEREND FATHER, PAX CHRISTI.

Your Reverence will have already learned, by the return of the first vessels, the sequel of the disasters to, and the utter wreck of, the Huron Mission, which the fury of the Hiroquois has at last accomplished. The Relation of this, which Father Paul Ragueneau has sent, enlarged by some Chapters on the Missions nearer Kebec, gives us the circumstantial account of these misfortunes. Our eyes and hearts, seeing and feeling these blows from the hand of God, have but this reply to make: "He is the sovereign Lord of his works, and the Ruler of our insignificant projects conceived for his glory. It is for us to accept his decrees, and never to disapprove what he performs."

I do not know how it has come into the minds of our Fathers that it was expedient for me to cross the ocean in order to contribute to the retrieval of our misfortunes, since there are in France so many persons capable of carrying on that work without me. [173] If there had been no other reason, I would have left new France very reluctantly: but their wishes conjoined, as I presumed, with the intentions of Your Reverence — at last decided me to do so. I have left dans fes combats, & fauué fi à propos les reliques ou les reftes de cette pauure Miffion.

Ie fuis donc party de Kebec le 2. iour de Nouembre de la prefente année 1650. & fuis arriué au Havre de grace le 3. de Decembre, en la compagnie du P. François Breffany, & de noître Frere Iean Ligeois. C'eft à Dieu de donner les remedes que nous cherchons à nos miferes; & à nous de prier fa diuine Majefté que nos fautes & nos manquemens ne diuertifient point fa benediction dont nous auons fi grand befoin.

En attendant ce qu'il luy plaira d'en ordonner, ie croy que V. R. aura pour agreable que ie luy faffe part des fujets de confolation qui foulagerent vn petit mon ame au depart du pays, & que ie luy declare l'eftat auquel ie l'ay laiffé.

Arriuant au pays, il y a douze ans, ie n'y rencontray qu'vne feule famille Huronne Chreftienne; & deux ou trois qui compofoient l'Eglife Algonquine, & Montagnefe, [174] & voila qu'au bout de ce temps fortant du pays, à peine y laiffay-je aucune famille Huronne, Algonquine & Montagnefe qui ne foit entierement Chreftienne, fans parler des Nations circonuoifines qui abordent de toutes parts en ces contrées, & de celles que nous allons chercher dans leurs demeures qui n'en promettet pas moins auec le temps.

Voire mefme ie ne puis ofter de mon efprit que le temps n'eft pas loin que la porte s'ouurira derechef pour les Natiõs d'enhaut que nous auons quittées, & mon fondement eft d'autant plus certain qu'il me femble appuyé fur l'Euangile, qui nous affeure que deuãt le jour du Iugement il faut que toutes les Nations de la terre ayent cognoiffance de leur Redempteur, the helm in the hands of him who has so courageously guided the Huron Church through its struggles, and so opportunely saved the relics or remains of that poor Mission.

I left Kebec, then, on the 2nd day of November of the present year, 1650, and arrived at Havre de grace on the 3rd of December, in the company of Father François Bressany, and our Brother Jean Ligeois. It is for God to prescribe the remedies we are seeking for our miseries, and for us to pray his divine Majesty that our faults and shortcomings may not turn away from us the blessing of which we stand in so great need.

Awaiting whatsoever it shall please him to decree, I think that Your Reverence will permit me to make known to you the grounds of consolation which have, in some degree, comforted my soul on leaving the country; and to inform you of the condition in which I have left it.

On arriving in the country, twelve years ago, I met with only a single Christian Huron family, with two or three which composed the Algonquin and Montagnais Church; [174] and behold, at the end of that time, going out of the country, I leave in it hardly any family — Huron, Algonquin, or Montagnais — that is not thoroughly Christianized, — not to speak of the surrounding Nations, who come to these countries from every quarter, or of those whom we go to seek in their own abodes, and who, with time, bid fair to be no less teachable.

Indeed, I cannot drive from my mind the feeling that the time is not far off when the door will be again opened for the upper Nations whom we have left; and my trust is all the more settled because it & que fes Loix leur foient fuffifamment publiées, & felon le fentiment de plufieurs Docteurs par elles approuuées, & acceptées; de plus, comme Dieu ne fait pas ordinairement des miracles fans neceffité, il eft croyable qu'il fe feruira des perfonnes qui ont defia la connoiffance & l'habitude auec ces peuples, & l'vfage & le commerce de leur langue, come autant d'inftrumens proportionez à fon ouurage: cela nous doit eftre vne grade confolation, & vn grand renfort de patience pour attendre les temps & les momens ordonnez par la diuine [175] fageffe, & par la diuine bonté.

Vn grand Sainct difoit autresfois que l'efperance d'vne vie immortelle, eftoit la vie d'vne vie mortelle; & ie puis dire ce me femble auec quelque raifon, & à fon imitation que l'efperance de donner vne vie immortelle, eft la vie de la vie mortelle des pauures Miffionnaires, qui ont goufté combien il eft doux de voir fortir de cette vie des ames qui leur doiuent en quelque façon leur bon-heur eternel.

Il me femble que ce qui s'eft paffé aux Hurons n'a efté qu'vne petite commiffion de la part du Ciel pour la conuerfion & pour le Baptefme de dix ou douze mille ames; laquelle acheuée on nous donne vn peu de relafche pour attendre auec quelque repos de nouueaux ordres.

La feconde chofe qui m'a extrémement confolé, eft la belle difposition dans laquelle i'ay laissé nos Peres & nos Freres, & mesme nos domestiques qui ne m'ont demãdé autre faueur pour tous les trauaux & pour les dangers du passé qu'vne permission & vne assertance de retourner dans les mesmes emplois & dans les mesmes occasions, lorsque Dieu en auroit seems to me to be supported by the Gospel,— which assures us that, before the day of Judgment, it must be that all Nations of the earth have a knowledge of their Redeemer; and that his Laws be adequately proclaimed to them, and, in the opinion of many Doctors, approved and accepted by them. Moreover, as God does not ordinarily work miracles without necessity, it is credible that he will make use of persons who already have acquaintance and familiarity with these peoples, and ability to understand and speak their language, as so many instruments adapted to his work. This alone should be to us a great consolation, and greatly strengthen our patience to await the times and moments ordained by the divine [175] wisdom and goodness.

A great Saint once remarked that the hope of an immortal life was the life of the life that is mortal; and methinks I have some ground for saying also, in imitation of him, that the hope of conferring an immortal life is the life of the mortal life of poor Missionaries, who have tasted how sweet it is to see souls depart this life who owe to them, in a certain sense, their eternal happiness.

It seems to me that what has taken place among the Hurons has been but a small commission on the part of Heaven for the conversion and Baptism of ten or twelve thousand souls; that achieved, there is given us a slight respite while tranquilly awaiting fresh commands.

The second thing that has been to me a source of extreme consolation is the admirable state of mind in which I have left our Fathers and Brethren, and even our domestics; they have asked from me no favor for all the labors and dangers they have rendu le chemin libre: l'aduouë que l'air & la generofité auec laquelle ils me l'ont demandée m'a touché, & m'a fait conceuoir [176] que Dieu auoit quelque deffein qui caufoit ces belles difpositios qu'ils ont fignalées & scellées de leur propre fang; qu'il en foit loué à iamais, & qu'il luy plaife auancer ces heureux momens qui feront des Martyrs & des Confeffeurs nouueaux das l'Eglife de Dieu: les Peres que i'ay laiffé pour les emplois des Miffions & fonctions de Kebec, & de fes appartenances, font au nombre de 19. ou 20. le refte a repassé en France par les premiers vaisseaux, & par ce dernier au nombre de huict, tous bien refolus de retourner au combat au premier fignal de la trompette, n'y ayant pas pour le prefent de viures ny d'employ fuffisant pour eux dans le pays.

La 3. eft l'ouuerture que Dieu nous a fait dés à prefent des Miffions nouuelles d'icy bas: le P. Gabriel Druilletes apres auoir paffé quatre Hyuers en diuerfes miffions auec les Sauuages, eft allé paffer le cinquiéme auec les Abnaquiois qui le font venus querir auec beaucoup de témoignages d'affection enuers leur Patriarche (comme ils l'appellent) & enuers fa doctrine: Dieu peut-eftre tirera plus de bien de ce voyage que nous ne penfons pas; nous auons receu lettres de luy depuis qu'il y eft arriué qui nous donnent fujet d'en beaucoup efperer.

Le P. Charles Albanel femble vouloir aller [177] fur fes pas & fur fes veftiges, eftant party deuant mon depart pour fon premier hyuernement auec les Sauuages montagnets.

Les Atticamegues ou Poiffons blancs qui font vne nation du Nord des plus confiderables, ne ceffent de undergone, other than a permission and assurance of returning to the same employment, and the same opportunities, as soon as God shall have made the way open to them. I confess that the manner and the generous spirit in which they made this request touched my heart, and led me to think [176] that God had some purpose which had given rise to these edifying dispositions, which they have signed and sealed with their own blood. May he be forever praised for this, and may it please him to hasten the blessed moments that shall create fresh Martyrs and Confessors in the Church of God. The Fathers whom I left behind, to be employed in the Missions, and in duties at Kebec and its dependencies, are in number 19 or 20; the remainder crossed over to France by the first vessels, and by this last one, to the number of eight. All are firmly bent on returning to the battle at the first blast of the trumpet,there not being, for the present, either sufficient means of livelihood, or employment for them, in the country.

The 3rd is the opening which God has made for us at this very time, for new Missions here below. Father Gabriel Druilletes, after having passed four Winters in various missions among the Savages, has gone to pass the fifth with the Abnaquiois, who came for him with many tokens of affection for their Patriarch (as they call him), and for his teaching.¹ God, perhaps, will cause more good to result from that journey than we think. We are in receipt of letters from the Father, since he arrived, which afford us ground for much hope.

Father Charles Albanel seems to wish to follow [177] in his steps and footprints,—having set out, preffer qu'on les aille voir en leur pays, ce que ne leur a pû eftre accordé par le paffé faute de monde, maintenant que nous en auons à fuffifance, on ne manquera pas d'y aller au premier Prin-temps, fi l'Hiroquois ne fe jette à la trauerfe.

Ceux du Saguené, autre nation du Nort, font dans la mefme affection, on y a defia fait trois voyages; j'en efpere beaucoup auec le temps, & ainfi voila dequoy nous occuper, attendant les temps & les momens de la diuine Majefté pour de nouuelles conqueftes.

Le quatriéme fujet de confolation que ie voyois dans ce pauure pays defolé eft le courage, & la generofité de nos Religieuses, tant Hospitalieres qu'Vrfulines, qui jouyfant de nos débris par l'eftabliffement de la Colonie Hurone proche de leurs Monasteres, qui leur feruent de Paroisse & de retraite, tant pour les malades que pour les fains, fe trouuent heureufes de jouvr de la plus haute fonction & du plus precieux exercice de leur vocation: c'est vne des esperances [187 i.e., 178] que j'ay de la coferuation du pays, ne pouuant penser que Dieu abandonne des ames de cette nature fi faintes & fi charitables: il me femble que tous les Anges du Paradis viendroient pluftoft à leur secours, fi tant est, que les hommes de la terre manquaffent de procurer leur conferuation en ce nouueau monde.

Le cinquiéme fujet de confolation, est la bone difposition dans laquelle j'ay laissé M. d'Ailleboust, nôtre Gouuerneur, de faire son possible pour obuier aux maux qui nous enuironnent, & pour contribuer à l'auancemet de toutes ces belles esperances. Ie prie Dieu de benir le tout, & de faire en sorte que la before my departure, for his first wintering with the montagnais Savages.

The Atticamegues, or "white Fish," a Northern nation of considerable importance, do not cease to urge us to visit them in their own country,—a favor which, for lack of men, could not be granted them in the past. Now that we have enough of these, we shall not fail to go thither in the early Spring, if the Hiroquois do not bar the way.

Those of the Saguené, another nation of the North, manifest the same friendliness; we have already made three voyages thither. I expect much from them, in time; and in this way we shall be kept busy, awaiting the times and moments of the divine Majesty for new conquests.

The fourth matter for consolation that I see in this poor devastated country is the courage and devotion of our Religious women, both Hospital and Ursuline,-who, having come into the enjoyment of what remains to us through the establishment of the Huron Colony close to their Monasteries, --- which serve the Indians for Parish church, and for an asylum for both the sick and the well,-are happy in the discharge of the highest duties and most precious exercises of their vocation. This is one of the hopes [187 i.e., 178] which I have of the preservation of the country, since I cannot believe that God will abandon souls of a character so saintly and so charitable; it seems to me that all the Angels in Paradise would come to their assistance, if dwellers on earth should prove remiss in securing their preservation in this new world.

The fifth ground for consolation is the kind inclination in which I left Monsieur d'Ailleboust, our France foit en eftat de faire vn echo qui multiplie nos vœux & nos efperances au delà de toutes nos attentes Voila mon R. P. ce que j'auois à dire pour le prefent à voître Reuerence; refte que ie la prie que nous ayant affifté jufques icy de fes faints facrifices & de fes prieres & de celles de toute la Prouince, il lui plaife nous continuer ce bien, & céte faueur en laquelle confifte nôtre principale refource & le plus vif de nos efperances.

De V. R.

Governor, to do all in his power to avert the evils which surround us, and to contribute to the furthering of all these fair hopes. I pray God to bless all, and so to order things that France may be in a condition to make a response which shall multiply our prayers and hopes beyond all our expectations.

This, my Reverend Father, is what I had to tell your Reverence, for the present. It remains for me to beseech that, having assisted us thus far by your holy sacrifices and prayers, and by those of the entire Province, it may please you to continue this boon to us, and also that countenance which is our chief resource, and our greatest hope.

Your Reverence's

Most humble and obedient servant in our Lord,

M ONSIEUR, The peace of Our Lord. We have not had, this year, the pleasure of hearing from you. I do not think that, for all that, you have lost consideration or affection for our little Hospital, and our poor, ever-afflicted Savages. Each year has its own cross; and this last has the heaviest, in the ruin of the country of the Hurons by the Hiroquois, who have laid it waste by fire, massacred most of its people, and compelled the remainder to take to flight, and to disperse themselves in all directions. Almost all were Christians. These are they whom our Lord afflicts, and makes of them so many victims for Paradise. All our Fathers-except two, recently martyred - have come down here to Kebec; part of them have crossed over to France. Here are four hundred of these poor Christian Hurons taking refuge in Kebec, and cabined near the gate of our Hospital, to which they come every day for holy Mass. I have never before seen such poverty or such devotion. A little sagamité — that is to say, a soup of peas, or Indian corn - suffices them for a day; and yet they are fortunate to have it, and we fortunate [179] to possess the means to give it to Ie vous refpands mon cœur & nostre petite misere, que ie fçay qui vous touche; au moins vous direz vn bon mot pour nous à l'occasion, puis que desia vous auez tant fait par le passé pour cét ouurage. Our little ward for sick people is full of poor them. French soldiers, wounded in battle with the Hiro-One, in particular, has eleven dangerous auois. wounds from arquebus shots; and I think that, with all these, he will recover, by God's aid. See, if this be not a miracle, to accomplish this with so scanty a supply of medicines and linen; and with all that, we have taken in but a half of what we are accustomed to receive, and I know not, as yet, what will accrue to us in the future. I pour out to you my heart, and our petty misery, since I know who touches you. At the least, you will say a good word for us, as opportunity offers, since you have already done so much for this work in the past. I commend to you, then, this little House. All my very dear Sisters salute you, and subscribe themselves heartily, with me,

MONSIEUR,

Your very humble and obedient servant in Jesus Christ,

N J ON TRÈS-RÉVÉREND PÈRE,

Dieu ayant voulu se servir de nous pour l'établissement de la Compagnie de la Nou-. velle-France, dite Canada, qui n'a eu d'autre dessein que la gloire de Dieu par la conversion des peuples de ce pays, où nous avons contribué de nos soins, et de nos biens plus de douze cents mille livres, depuis vingt-deux ou vingt-trois années que cet établissement a commencé, et quoique les Pères de votre Compagnie n'ont pas seulement employé leurs personnes, mais leurs vies qu'ils ont libéralement sacrifiées pour ce saint œuvre, et à présent que cette colonie se forme et se rend nombreuse, nous avons estimé qu'il étoit nécessaire pour la consolation des habitants François et des Sauvages convertis, d'y avoir un Evêque que nous avons supplié [255] trèsinstamment la Reine de nous l'accorder, ce qu'elle a fait, et même promis d'en écrire à sa Sainteté; et comme l'obligation principale que notre Compagnie

PARIS, June, 1651.

M Y VERY REVEREND FATHER, As God has chosen to make use of us for the establishment of the Company of New France, called Canada, whose only object has been the glory of God through the conversion of the nations of that country,-to which we have contributed our efforts and more than twelve hundred thousand livres of our money during the twenty-two or twenty-three years that have elapsed since that establishment began, and that, although the Fathers of your Society have devoted not only their persons but their lives, which they have freely sacrificed for that holy work; and as, at present, that colony is being formed and is becoming numerous: we have considered that it is necessary for the consolation of the French inhabitants and of the converted Savages to have a Bishop there, and we have [255] very earnestly begged the Queen to grant us that favor. This she has done, and has even promised to write to his Holiness. And, as our Company and those nations are indebted chiefly to your Fathers, we et ces peuples ont à vos Pères, nous avons cru qu'il était à propos d'en avoir un d'entre eux pour être Evêque de ce pays. Ce qu'ayant été proposé au conseil des choses ecclésiastiques établi par Sa Majesté très-chrétienne, en présence du P. Paulin, confesseur du Roi, qui a sa place au conseil, il en a été nommé trois, qui sont les Pères Lallemant, Ragueneau et le Jeune, et renvoyé aux Pères de votre Compagnie, pour le choix de l'un des trois, dont sans doute l'on vous écrira, bien que notre dite Compagnie n'aie nommé à Sa Majesté que le P. Charles Lallemant supérieur de la maison de Paris, lequel avant été l'un des premiers qui s'est exposé dans les périls ordinaires pour la conversion des Sauvages, jusques à trois naufrages qu'il a soufferts en ces voyages, pour lequel M. de Lauzon, gouverneur du pays, et notre Compagnie, avons très-grande inclination, ce qui fait que nous supplions instamment V. P. nous faire la grâce d'agréer le choix de sa personne, dont la naissance, son emploi dans les charges et son mérite le rendent recommandable. V. P. nous pourroit objecter, celui qu'il a présentement de supérieur en la dite maison de [256] Paris; mais quand elle considérera qu'il faut du temps pour achever cette œuvre, avant qu'elle soit parfaitement établie, et que par ce moyen, il pourroit encore accomplir celui de sa supériorité; cela réussissant selon nos souhaits, le pays et notre Compagnie vous aurions très-grande obligation de tout le bien qu'il y pourra faire en cette dignité, priant la divine bonté de répandre ses bénédictions abondantes thought that it would be advisable to have one of them as the Bishop of that country. This matter having been submitted to the council on ecclesiastical affairs, established by His most Christian Majesty,-in the presence of Father Paulin, the King's confessor, who has a seat in the council,-three names were proposed, those of Fathers Lallemant. Ragueneau, and le Jeune, and were referred to the Fathers of your Society, that they might select one of the three. A letter will, no doubt, be written to you about this, although our Company mentioned to His Majesty only the name of Father Charles Lallemant, the superior of the house in Paris, - who was one of the first to expose himself to the usual perils for the conversion of the Savages, even to three shipwrecks which he suffered on those voyages,-for whom Monsieur de Lauzon, the governor of the country, and our Company have very great esteem. Wherefore we earnestly beg Your Paternity to do us the favor of accepting the choice of his person; for his birth, his employment in responsible positions. and his merits, render him worthy to be thus recommended. Your Paternity may object that he at present occupies the office of superior in the said house in [256] Paris; but - when you consider that it takes time to complete that work before it can be perfectly established, and that thereby he may finish his term as superior-if this should succeed in accordance with our wishes, the country and our Company will be under very great obligations to you for all the good that he may do while in that high office; and we beg the divine goodness to shower its

Letter of Father Gabriel Druillettes to John Winthrop, Esquire.

[5] To the Most Illustrious Seigneur John Wintrop, Esquire. At Pequott River.

ISTINGUISHED AND MOST HONORABLE SIR, As in consequence of the deep snows of winter I was debarred from the pleasure of seeing you, and from communicating to you orally and at length the great hopes reposed in your singular kindness by the Most Illustrious Governor of new France in Canada, at Kebec, - who appointed me his Envoy to all [6] the magistrates of your new England,-I now approach you by letter in order to beseech and implore you - by that Spirit of exceeding benevolence toward all, but especially toward our new France, which Sieur Wintrop, whose memory is both happy and grateful to all, bequeathed to you, the heir to all that he possessed - not to refuse your Protection to the cause that has brought me to these shores. That cause is the same as that which your Father of most grateful memory-by the letters which he sent, in the name of your Commonwealth, to Monsieur our Governor in new France, at Kebec - took up as far back as the year 1647, and which he would long since have brought to a happy conclusion had not death prevented him, as I have learned from many responsible persons.³ This, [7] I believe, was wrought by God most good and great, with the design of making us indebted to you for the happy cuius initium et primordia tuo nobis maximé obfervando Parenti debebamus: Totam autem hujufmodi caufam fusiùs postquam explicui coram Bostoniensi et Pleym8thenfi Gubernatore, votis omnibus expetebam meum iter profequi verfus eam quam nūc incolis regionem, nec tàm niues importunæ me prohibuerūt, quàm auctoritas plurium virorū graviū, diffuadentium, quibus obferuantiam debeo, me revocarūt Pleym8tho Bostonem tantum mihi spei affulgebat ex tuâ erga Peregrinos quantūlibet Barbaros humanitate, vt mihi iam ab annis nouem inter Barbaros docendos in fyluis procul ab Europæorum confpectu, [8] verfanti, nihil a meâ barbarie metuendum videretur apud te,-imò nihil non fperandum mihi videbam a tuâ omnibus notâ benignitate et fingulari Pietatis ac Religionis affectu erga Saluagios Catechumenos Fidei et Profeffionis chriftianæ; quippe qui fint præ cæteris omnibus mortalibus Ovis illa Centefima Errans et derelicta in Deferto, quam vnam relictis nonaginta novem, quærit follicité, vt inuentam gaudens in humeros imponat Dominus Jefus Chriftus. issue of that cause, the beginning and origin whereof we owed to your most honorable Father. After having orally explained the whole matter to the Governors of Boston and Pleymouth, I desired with all my heart to travel to the country wherein you now reside; and it was not so much the troublesome snows that prevented me, as the authority of several per-who dissuaded me therefrom, - which recalled me from Pleymouth to Boston. So great was the hope held forth to me by your kindness toward Strangers, however Barbarian they may be, that to me-who have lived for the past nine years among Barbarians, whom it has been my duty to instruct in their forests, far from the sight of Europeans - [8] it seemed that you would have nothing to dread from my barbarism. Nay, more, I saw nothing that I might not hope for from your well-known kindness and your unusually Compassionate and Conscientious feelings toward the Savages who are Catechumens of the Christian Faith and Profession. These are, in truth, beyond all other mortals, that Hundredth Sheep Straying and forsaken in the Desert, which alone the Lord Jesus Christ,-Luke, 15th,-after having left the ninety and nine others, anxiously seeks and, having found it, joyfully places on his shoulders. That is to say, he who burns with the most ardent zeal toward the same Lord Jesus Christ must likewise embrace, with the most tender affection of his heart, that hundredth sheep in which alone that best of Shepherds, the Lord Jesus, seems to place his whole delight. Now this most tender [9] affection of your heart toward your delight, because it is that of Christ our Lord .--I mean toward the Barbarian Catechumens,-easily leads me to believe that the testimony shown by this letter of my gratitude and of my confidence in you, however small it may be, will not be displeasing in your sight. Wherefore suffer that I implore by letter vour Protection - in which, after God, I consider that nearly all my hopes rest — in favor of the cause of the Lord Jesus Christ, - in other words, of the defense of the Christians against the Moaghs.⁴ These not only have long harassed the Christian Cannadians near Kebec, and most cruelly torture them by slow fire, out of hatred of the Christian Faith, but they even intend by a general massacre to destroy my akenebek Catechumens dwelling on the banks of the Kenebec River, [10] because they have been for many years allied to the Cannadian Christians. It is chiefly for this reason that our Most Illustrious Governor of Kebec commanded me to offer you in his name the most ample Commercial advantages, and considerable compensation for the expenses of the war, in order to obtain from new England some Auxiliary troops for the defense of the Christian Cannadians (which he has already begun against the Moaghs), and which through his affection for the Christian Savages he wishes to promote, at the same time and by the same undertaking, in favor of the Akenebek Catechumens, their allies, who are Inhabitants of New England and the special clients of Pleymouth Colony.

He therefore hopes that, in the same manner as your Colony of Kenetigouk [11] subdued the ferocity of the naraganses, in favor of its dependents who live on the Pecot River,—that is to say, the Mohighens,⁵—so likewise the Colony of Pleymouth will undertake to wage war, with the consent of the Assembly called that of the Commissioners, against the Moaghs,—the most cruel enemies of their ratorū, Cannadenfiū fcilicet, Chriftianorum, Kebecū verfus.

Hanc meam duplicem Legationem nomine fcilicet Domini Gubernatoris in Nova Frāciâ Kebecenfi et feorfim nomine Saluagiorum tum Christianorū tum Catechumenorū Akenebekenfiū, in compendium redactam, ex meâ barbarâ Latinitate in Linguam Anglicanam translatam, his meis [12] literis adiunget, opinor, vir mihi amiciffimus, cui eâ mente vnū ad te mittendū exemplar reliqui. Akenebek dependents, as well as of their allies, namely, the Cannadian Christians near Kebec.

name of Monsieur the Governor of New France, at Kebec: and separately in the name of the Savages. both the Christians and the Akenebek Catechumens, - after having been summarized, and translated into the English Tongue from my barbarous Latinity, [12] will be joined to my present letter, I think, by a man who is an excellent friend of mine, and to whom, with that object, I gave a copy to be sent to you. For this reason, I add nothing further; but I implore you to display your kindness toward the Barbarians, and your signal Compassion toward the Poor of the Lord Jesus; not to disdain, in your General Assembly,-which, I hear, is usually held in the month of June in Hartford, - to expose the whole matter at length; to urge it upon your Magistrates; and, finally, to recommend a favorable settlement of the whole affair to the two personages who are called the commissioners of your Colony, when they go to the place where the Assembly of the Commissioners is to be held. Meanwhile, - wheresoever on earth I may be detained by the Lord Jesus, who has called me to devote my life and death [13] to labors among the barbarians, who need instruction.- I shall live and die the most devoted servant, in the Lord Jesus, of your entire Family, and, above all,

Distinguished Sir,

Of yourself,— in the Lord Jesus, for whom, because it is for his brethren, the Christian Barbarians,

I execute this Commission.

FACSIMILE OF HANDWRITING OF GABRIEL DRUILLETTES, S.J.

 [I] Narrative of the Journey made in behalf of the Mission of the Abnaquiois, and of information obtained in New England, and of the disposition of the Magistrates of that Commonwealth in regard to aid against the Iroquois. The whole by me, GABRIEL DREUILLETTE of the Society of JESUS.

LEFT Quebec for this Mission on the first day of September, by order of my Superior,—and with a passport [2] and leave of absence from Monsieur d'Aillebousts, lieutenant-general of the King, and governor on all the river Saint Lawrence, accompanied by Noel Negabamat, Captain of Scillery; also charged with credentials enabling me to speak on behalf of the said Sieur to the governors and magistrates of that country.

I arrived at Narantsouat, which is the settlement of the Abnaquiois Savages farthest up the river of Kenebec,—fifteen or sixteen leagues from the highest settlement of the English on that river, which is sixteen leagues distant from its mouth.⁶

I arrived on Michaelmas eve at this highest settlement of the English — which, alike by the English and Savages, is called Coussinoc; and on the following day, the festival of him whom [3] we took for patron and guide on our journey, Noel and I conversed with the Agent of that settlement, accompanied

Abnaquiois auxquels nous avions parlé en paffant, Noel luy parlant avec fon prefents dun pafquets de Caftorts luy dict Monfieur le Gouverneur du fleuve Sainct Laurent par le pere quy eft icy a ceux de votre nation et moy comme allié je joinct ma parolle a la fienne non point pour te parler a toy feul mais bien pour te dire que tu embarques ma parole cest a dire mon present pour le porter au gouverneur de Plimout. Le dict Commis leur temoigna qu'il feroit aupres du dict gouverneur et des dts magistrats tout ce qu'on pourroit attendre dun bon amy fur quoy Noel et les Abnaquiois [4] demanderent que jallaffe avecq luy pour prefenter moy-mefme les lettres du dict Sieur gouverneur et expliquer fes intentions fuivant la lettre de créance qu'il en avoit et porter la parolle des Chreftiens de Scillery et des Katecumefnes. de la rivière de Kenebec. Le Commis nomme Jehan Winflau bourgeois marchant de la colonie de Plimouth quy eft ung naturel affez bon comme nous dirons cy apres repondit Jaime et respecte le patriarche cest de ce nom quils fe fervent fur cefte riviere et fur toute la cofte de l'Accadie en mon endroit. Je le logerai chez moi et le traitterai comme mon propre frère car je connois affez le bien quil faict parmy vous et la vie quil y mene ce quil dict parcequil a un zelle [5] particulier pour la Conversion des Sauvages auffi bien que fon frere Edouard Winflow agent pour la dte Nouvelle Angleterre vers le parlement de l'ancienne Angleterre, lequel tafche de moienner une confrairée pour eslever et instruire les Sauvage[s] comme il fe pratique aux pauvres de la charite de Lon[dres.] Les aue particularites font dans les lettres que j'escriuis tant au dict Sieur gouverneur a Que-by the Abnaquiois, to whom we had spoken on the way. Noel, speaking with his present of a bundle of Beaver skins, said to him: "Monsieur the Governor of the river Saint Lawrence, through the father who is here, speaks to those of your nation; and I, as an ally, join my word to his, not to speak to thee alone, but rather to tell thee to embark my word,"-that is to say, "my present,"-" in order to convey it to the governor of Plimout." The Agent informed them that he would do with reference to the governor and the magistrates all that could be expected from a good friend; whereupon Noel and the Abnaquiois [4] requested that I go with him, in order to present in person the Sieur governor's letters, - to explain his intentions, according to the letter of credentials that he had; and to convey the message of the Christians of Scillery, and of the Catechumens of the Kenebec river. The Agent, named John Winslau,⁷ a merchant and a citizen of the Plimouth colony, who has a very kindly disposition, as we shall relate hereinafter, answered: "I love and respect the patriarch," this is the name they use on this river, and on all the coast of Acadia, in speaking of me; "I will lodge him at my house, and will treat him as my own brother; for I know very well the good that he does among you, and the life which he there leads." This he said because he has a special zeal [5] for the Conversion of the Savages, as also has his brother Edward Winslow,agent for this New England before the parliament of old England,-who is trying to institute a brotherhood to train and instruct the Savages, just as is practiced with the poor by the charity of London. Other details are in the letters which I wrote both to becq qua mon Superieur le quinzieme de novembre.

Je partys de Couffinoc par terre avecq le dict commis dautant que la fregatte quy nous devoit mener aiant eu quelque fubject de retarder pour attendre les Sauvage[s] et non eftre furprifes des glaces, ceft pourquoy il nous fallut aller à dix lieues pour nous embarquer par [6] mer a Maremiten que les Sauvages appellent Natfouac. Ce chemin fut penible particulierem^t a ce Commis quy eft defja fur laage et quy me temoigna quil ne lauroit jamais entrep[r]is fauve quil avoit donne fa parolle a Noel.

Le vingt cinquiefme nous fifmes voile et en chemin faifant nous trouvafmes a Temerifcau des pefcheurs Anglois dou quelcqungs firent pl[a]inte au dict Commis de ce quil mefnoit ung François le long de cefte cofte quy eftoit un efpion pour fervir aux françois quy devoit ravager leurs habitations.

Les vents contraires furent caufe que nous narivaímes at Kepane qui fait la Cap de la grande baye de Bofton que le cinq^{me} de décembre lequel fut auffi caufe quil nous fallut aller par terre en partie et [7] partie par bafteau pour paffer le trajet de la grande baye a Charlefton ou nous traverfafmes la rivière quy le fepare davec Bofton ou nous arrivafmes le huictiefme. Les prin^{aux} de Charlefton fcachant que je venois de la part du dict Sieur gouverneur prirent le devant pour donner advis au Major General Gebin affin de fe trouver a mon entree en fon logis.

Son commis Jehan Winflow que jappelle au dorefnavant mon pereira a caufe de l'affection quil ma toujours temoigné ayant faict fon raport au dict Sieur Gebin du fubject de mon voyage il me recuft comme vray ambaffadeur de la part du dict Sieur gouverneur the Sieur governor at Quebecq, and to my Superior, on the fifteenth of November.⁸

I left Coussinoc by land, with that agent, since the frigate which was to convey us had had some occasion to delay, in order to await the Savages, and not be surprised by the ice; we were therefore obliged to go ten leagues, to embark by [6] sea at Maremiten, which the Savages call Natsouac. That road was difficult, especially to the Agent, who is already growing old, and who assured me that he would never have undertaken it if he had not given his word to Noel.

On the twenty-fifth, we set sail; and on the way we found at Temeriscau some English fishermen, some of whom complained to the Agent because he was conducting a Frenchman along that coast, who was a spy to serve the french, who were likely to ravage their settlements.

Contrary winds prevented us from reaching Kepane, which forms the Cape of the great bay of Boston,⁹ until the fifth of December; for the same reason, we were compelled to go partly by land and [7] partly by boat, in order to cross over the great bay to Charleston; we there crossed the river which separates it from Boston, where we arrived on the eighth. The principal men of Charleston, knowing that I came on behalf of the Sieur governor, went ahead to give notice to Major-General Gebin, so that he might be present at my entrance into his abode.¹⁰

His agent, John Winslow, — whom I shall henceforth call my pereira, on account of the friendliness which he ever showed me,¹¹ — having made his report to Sieur Gebin regarding the occasion of my journey, he received me as a veritable ambassador on the part et me donna un clef dun departement en fa maifon ou je pouvais avec toute liberte faire ma priere et les [8] exercices de ma religion et me pria de ne point prendre d'autre logis pendant que je fejournerois a Bofton.

Lendemain huictieme le dict Sieur Gebin accompagné de [blank space] me mena a [blank space] de bofton a ung village nomme Rogsbray ou etoit pour lors le Sieur Dudley Gouverneur de Bofton auquel je prefentai ma lettre de creance de la part du dict Sieur gouverneur laquelle ayant ouvert il commande a un interprette de la translater de françois en anglois.

Luy dict quil venoit pour parler de la part de Nouel et des Chreftiens de Scillery comme auffi des Catacumefnes des Abnaquiois, lefquels mavoient faict leur ambaffadeur aupres de luy et me donna jour pour mouir au mardy fuivant [9] treiz^{me} de decembre donnant ordre que les magiftrats fuffent adverty pour fe rendre a Bofton ce jour la.

Le treizieme le dict Sieur Gouverneur de Bofton et les Magiftrats minvitèrent a diner et a liffue me donnerent audience outre les Magiftrats et le Secretaire il fe trouva homme deputé du peuple quils appellent reprefentatif.

Je fife inftance particulier de la part des Abnaquiois quy ont efte tue par l'Irocquois quy eft dans la lettre efcrite au pere Lejeune en larticle huictiemeapres quoy il me fuft dit de me retirer et puis invité au fouper apres lequel ils me donnerent la refponfe quy eft dans lautre lettre en larticle cy devant dict.

A loccafion de la qualite que je prix dambaffadeur de mes Catacumenes [10] du Kenebec ils me dirent of the Sieur governor. He also gave me a key to an apartment in his house, where I could with complete liberty offer my prayer, and perform [8] my religious exercises; and begged me to take no other lodgings while I should sojourn at Boston.

The next day, the eighth, Sieur Gebin, accompanied by [blank space], conducted me [blank space] from boston to a village named Rogsbray, where at that time was Sieur Dudley, Governor of Boston,¹² to whom I presented my credentials on the part of the Sieur governor,—which, having opened, he commanded an interpreter to translate from french into english.

He was told that this man came to speak on behalf of Nouel and the Christians of Scillery, as also of the Abnaquiois Catechumens, who had made me their ambassador to him. He then appointed a day to hear me,—on the following Tuesday, [9] the thirteenth of December,—giving orders that the magistrates should be notified to betake themselves to Boston on that day.

On the thirteenth, the Sieur Governor of Boston and the Magistrates invited me to dine, and, at the close, gave me audience. Besides the Magistrates and the Secretary, there was present a man deputed by the people, whom they call a "representative."

I made a special entreaty on behalf of the Abnaquiois who had been killed by the Irocquois,—this is in the letter written to father Lejeune, in the eighth clause,—after which I was told to withdraw. Later, I was invited to supper, after which they gave me the answer which is in the other letter, in the clause before mentioned.

In regard to the character which I assumed of ambassador for my Catechumens [10] of the Kenebec, que Bofton ny prenoit point dinterest et quil falloit madresser a Plimouth.

Je partys de bofton le vingt-unieme du dict moi de decembre pour plimouth ou jarrivai le lendemain avec mon dict [blank space] lequel me logea chez un des cinq fermiers de Kouffinoc nommé padis. Le gouverneur du lieu nomme Jehan Brentford me recuft avec courtoifie et mindica audience au lendemain et minvita a un feftin de poiffon quil fit a mon occafion fcachant que ceftoit le vendredy. Je trouvais affez de faveur en cette habitation car les fermiers et entre aultres le capitaine Thomas Willets parlerent au gouverneur pour le bien de ma negociation et enfuite nous eufmes les pourparlers [11] quy font contenues dans la lettre dans larticle [blank space]

Le 24. Je partys le vingt quatre et revins par t^{re} a. bofton en compagnie du fils et du nepveu du mon dict [blank space] lefquels payerent pour moy en chemin faifant. J'arrivay a Rofqbray ou le ministre nomme Maistre heliot qui enseignoit quelcq. fauvages me recust chez lui a cause que la nuict me furprenoit et me traita avec respect et affection me pria de passer liver avec luy.

Le lendemain vingt neufviefme jarivay a bofton et me rendift chez le Sieur maj^r gñal guebin.

Le trentiefme du dict mois je parlay au S^r Ebens lun des magiftrats quy me temoigna eftre fort aife que le gouverneur de Plimout voulut pourfuivre le fecours contre [12] les Irocquois difant quil eftoit fort raifonnable de fecourir fes freres Chreftiens quoique dautre religion et particulierement contre un payen perfecuteur des Chreftiens. Il me prefenta la refponfe du Sieur gouverneur de bofton et des they told me that Boston took no interest therein, and that I must address myself to Plimouth.¹³

I left boston on the twenty-first of that month, December, for plimouth, where I arrived on the morrow, with my [blank space] who lodged me with one of the five farmers of Koussinoc, named padis. The governor of the place, named John Brentford, received me with courtesy, and appointed me an audience for the next day; and he invited me to a dinner of fish, which he prepared on my account, knowing that it was Friday. I found considerable favor in this settlement, for the farmers—and among others the captain, Thomas Willets¹⁴—spoke to the governor in advocacy of my negotiation; and afterward we had discussions, [11] which are contained in the letter, in the [blank space] clause.

24th. I left on the twenty-fourth, and returned to boston by land, in company with the son and the nephew of my [blank space], who paid for me during the journey. I arrived at Rosqbray, where the minister, named Master heliot,¹⁵ who was teaching some savages, received me at his house, because night was overtaking me; he treated me with respect and kindness, and begged me to spend the winter with him.

The next day, the twenty-ninth, I arrived at boston, and proceeded to the Sieur major-general guebin's.

On the thirtieth of the said month, I spoke to Sieur Ebens, one of the magistrates,¹⁶ who assured me that he was very glad that the governor of Plimout was willing to grant aid against [12] the Irocquois. He said that it was very reasonable to succor one's Christian brethren, even if of another religion,— and especially against a pagan persecutor of the Chrismagistrats et [sc. à] celles de monsieur le gouverneur.

Le dernier du dict mois je retournay a Rofquebray pour prendre conge du dict Sieur Dudley Gouverneur quon infera dans la lettre daffeurance pour le paffage des françois qui voudroient aller par bofton contre les Irocquois et me ferant la main il me dit Affeurez Monfieur votre gouverneur que nous voulons eftre fes bons amis et ferviteurs quelque guerre quil y aye entre les couronnes. Je fuis fort aife que le gouverneur de [13] plimout veulent pourfuivre le fecours que vous fouhaittez contre les Irocquois: je luy aideray de tout mon pouvoir.

Le premier de janvier jeferivis un franc au pere Le Jeune par un navire anglois quy partaft le huictiefme jour du mefme mois tout leftat des affaires de monfieur Guebins eferivift a Monfieur de Latour et addreffa le tout a [blank space] au Sieur Rofee je priois le pere Lejeune d'envoyer refponfe tant a bofton qua Monfieur noftre gouverneur par les pefcheurs de gafpey dont la teneur eft dans la lettre dans larticle [blank space]

Jefcrivis auffy au Sieur Edouard Winflow a la follicitation de M. fon frere le priant defcrire en faveur de notre affaire aux Magiftrats de la Nouvelle Angleterre.

[14] Quelcque temps apres jefcrivis au Sieur Wintrop fils du feu Sieur Wintrop cy devant gouverneur de bofton lequel eft un des principaux Magiftrats de la colonie de Kenetigout fort bon amy a ce quon dict de Francois et Sauvages.

Le troifiefme du dict mois je parlay avec Sieur gebin quil me dict quil feroit ce quil pouvoit pour le fecours contre les Irocquois mais quil croioit que le tians. He presented to me the answer of the Sieur governor of boston and of the magistrates, to those of monsieur the governor.

On the last of the said month, I returned to Rosquebray to ask permission from Sieur Dudley, the Governor, that safe-conduct might be inserted in the letter for the passage of the french who might wish to go through boston against the Irocquois; and, grasping my hand, he said to me: "Assure Monsieur your governor that we wish to be his good friends and servants, whatever war there may be between the crowns. I am very glad that the governor of [13] plimout is willing to further the assistance that you desire against the Irocquois: I will aid him with all my power."

On the first of January, I wrote a franked letter to father Le Jeune,—by an english ship which was to sail on the eighth day of the same month,—concerning the whole state of affairs; monsieur Guebins wrote to Monsieur de Latour, and addressed the whole to [blank space] to Sieur Rosee.¹⁷ I begged father Lejeune to send an answer, both to boston and to Monsieur our governor, by the fishermen of gaspey, the tenor of which is in the letter, in the [blank space] article.

I wrote also to Sieur Edward Winslow, at the request of Monsieur his brother, begging him to write in favor of our business to the Magistrates of New England.

[14] Some time after, I wrote to Sieur Wintrop, son of the late Sieur Wintrop, the former governor of boston,—who is one of the principal Magistrates of the colony of Kenetigout, a very good friend, as is said, of the French and Savages.¹⁸ peuple de Bofton ne fy portoit pas que neantmoins quil croioit quil y auroit moyen dhumilier l'Irocquois peut etre quil jette fon deffein fur une nouvelle defcouverte quil a commencé vers la nouvelle Suede.

Le cinquiefme le dict Sieur Guebin me conduifit jufque au port et me recommanda fort particulierement a Thomas Yau [15] maistre dun barcq qui partoit pour Kenebec.

Le neufviesme du dict mois le mauvais temps nous arrefta a Morbletz ou il y a quantite de perfonnes le ministre nomme Guillaume Walter me recust avecq grande affection en fa compagnie je me rendis a Salem pour parler au Sieur Indicott quy parle et entend bien le françois et bon amy de la nation et paffioné que fes enfans continuent dans ceste affection voiant que je navois point dargent il me deffraya et traita a la table des Magistrats quy pendant huict jours donnoient audience a tout le monde. Je luy laiffay en forme de lettre une procuration quil me demenda pour agir efficacement pendant la Cour general de bofton quy se devoit tenir le [16] treiziesme de may. Il maffeura quil feroit fon poffible pour y faire confentir la colonie de Bofton qui fervoit de reigle aux autres me difant que le gouverneur de Plimout avoit un juste subject de poursuivre dobtenir cela des colonies. A mon depart il me dict quil avoit fort bien lu ce que javois laisse par escript de la part de Monfieur nostre gouverneur et de mes Catecumeines et quil le poffedait parfaitement, quil despecheroit ung homme pour me porter lettre a Kennebec, quil me diroit ce quil auroit faict en ceste affaire et obtenu des Magistrats le plustoft quil pouvoit.

Le vingtquatriesme de janvier jarrive a Peskatigset

On the third of the same month, I spoke to Sieur gebin, who told me that he would do what he could in favor of aid against the Irocquois, but that he believed that the people of Boston would not take any part therein; that, nevertheless, he believed that there would be means to humble the Irocquois. Perhaps he directs his purpose to a new discovery which he has begun, toward new Sweden.

On the fifth, Sieur Guebin conducted me to the harbor, and very particularly commended me to Thomas Yau, [15] master of a bark which was sailing for Kenebec.

On the ninth of the same month, the bad weather detained us at Morbletz, where there are many persons; the minister, named William Walter, received me with great kindness. In his company I went to Salem, to converse with Sieur Indicott, who speaks and understands french well: he is a good friend to our nation, and desirous that his children should continue in this friendship.¹⁹ Seeing that I had no money, he paid my expenses, and had me eat with the Magistrates, who during eight days gave audience to every one. I left with him, in the form of a letter, a power of attorney which he asked from me, in order to act efficiently during the general Court of boston, which was to be held on the [16] thirteenth of May. He assured me that he would do his utmost to obtain consent from the colony of Boston, which served as a standard for the others, — telling me that the governor of Plimout had good reason for seeking to obtain that from the colonies. At my departure, he told me that he had carefully read what I had left in writing on behalf of Monsieur our governor, and of my Catechumens, and that he perfectly understood

La prife a efté eftimé juíqua fept cents piftolles Monfieur Chapellier Vice Gouverneur d'Agamenticos qui eft a deux lieues des Pefkatig8et maffeura que tout le monde eftoit indigne contre ce capitaine, que bofton lavoit condamne a cent piftolles et chaque matelot a quarante et en un mot quon voioit que le ciel mefme fe declara contre luy ung grand vent de nordest avant fracassé la fregatte dont il s etoit fervi pour furprendre ce pauvre françois huguenot en vertu dune com^{on} que larchiduc leopole luy donna lan quarante fept jufqu'a la concurrence de quatorze mille piftolles.

Pierre Tibaud bon Catholique [18] me confirme toute cefte hiftoire comme temoign oculaire lequel voiant que cefte fregatte dont il eftait matelot eftoit brifée obtient de maiftre Thomas Yau affeurance pour venir en Canada environ le mois de May, ceft un jeune matelot de Sainct Nazaire fur la riviere de Nante bon interprete anglois flamand holandois efpagnol quy peut fervir de pilote pour la cofte de la nouvelle angleterre jufqu'en Virginie.

Je luy donnay parolle quil feroit receu en qualite de matelots a Kebec a feize livres par mois comme il eftoit avec les Anglois.

Le vingtcinquiefme dans Pefkatig&et Thomas Yau maiftre de la barcque qui me ramenoit a Kenebec de fon plein mouvement me demande un fimple certificat de [19] la paix et bonne intelligence entre la Nouvelle France et la Nouvelle Angleterre pour fe it; that he would despatch a man to carry me a letter at Kennebec; and that he would tell me, as soon as he could, what he should have done in this matter, and obtained from the Magistrates.

On the twenty-fourth of January, I arrive at Peskatigwet,²⁰ which is twenty leagues from boston. There I thoroughly learned the story of Captain Ki[ervum ----Ferland MS.], [17] who captured in the vicinity of cap breton, about the month of July, a french fisherman named Eslie Cousturier, from la tremblade. The prize was valued as high as seven hundred pistoles. Monsieur Chapellier, Vice-Governor of Agamenticos,²¹ which is two leagues from Peskatigwet, assured me that every one was indignant at this captain; that boston had sentenced him to a hundred pistoles, and each sailor to forty; and, in a word, that heaven itself had visibly declared against him. For a severe northeast wind had shattered his frigate,---which he had used in order to surprise that poor huguenot frenchman, by virtue of a commission which the archduke leopole gave him in the year forty-seven,-to the extent of fourteen thousand pistoles.

Pierre Tibaud, a good Catholic, [18] confirms this whole story to me, as an eye-witness, — who, seeing that that frigate, on which he was a sailor, was ruined, obtains from master Thomas Yau an engagement for coming to Canada about the month of May. He is a young sailor from Saint Nazaire, on the river of Nante; is a good interpreter of english, flemish, dutch, and spanish; and can serve as pilot for the coast of new england, as far as Virginia.

I gave him a promise that he should be received in the capacity of a sailor at Kebec, for sixteen livres a month, as he was with the English.

On the twenty-fifth, at Peskatigwet, Thomas Yau, master of the bark which conveyed me back to Kenebec, of his own free impulse asks me for a simple certificate of [19] the peace and friendly understanding between New France and New England,—that he might proceed to isle percee, about the month of April or May, with thirty tons of indian corn, besides other commodities.

On the seventh of February, at Tameriskau, where the fishermen show me much friendliness; they were the very ones who had accounted me a spy, on my way to Boston.

On the eighth of February, I depart for the river of Kenebec, where I continue my interrupted mission. All the English who are on this river received me with many demonstrations of friendship.

On the thirteenth of April, Monsieur John Winslau, my true [blank space], arrived from [20] plimout and boston at Koussinoc. He assures me that all the Magistrates and the two Commissioners of plimout have given their word, and resolved that the other colonies should be urged to join them against the Irocquois in favor of the Abnaquiois, who are under the protection of this colony of Pleymout,- which has the proprietorship of Koussinoc, and for its rights of lordship takes the sixth part of what accrues from the trade. He said, moreover, that Monsieur brentford, the governor,-who is one of the five merchants, or farmers, who furnish everything necessary for the trade,-had already despatched, by the twentieth of March, Captain Master Thomas Wilhet,who is greatly attached to the Abnaquiois, with whom he has been acquainted at Koussinoc for [21] several years, - with letters presented in behalf of aux Irocquois et luy parler forttement affin que nonfeulement il ne s'oppofe pas a ceux qui voudroient attacquer l'Irocquois mais mefme quil aida les Anglois a ce deffein en vertu de l'union dans laquelle il eft entré avecq la Nouvelle Angleterre depuis quelques annees.

Ce Capitaine a ordre de trouver a Nieufhaven ou K&inopeia pour folliciter les Commiffionaires ou deputes des quatre colonies quy fy [22] doibvent affembler.

Il ma adjoufte que le commun bruict dans bofton ou il avoit efte dix ou quinze jours eftoit que M. Indicot feroit gouverneur de cefte colonie a la premiere cour generalle quy fe debvoit tenir environ le dix feptiefme may.

Le mefme et les lettres de quelcques particuliers de bofton affeurent que le fentiment commun des par^{1rs} du dict bofton eft que fy la republique ne veult pas fe refoudre a ce fecours contre l'Irocquois par authorité publique les volontaires par^{iers} font prefte a cefte expedition avecq la fimple permiffion de la dite requefte comme en faveur de Monfieur Guebins pour Monfieur latour quelcques troupes allerent contre feu Monfieur daunay.

Le vingtquatriefme dapvril le [23] Sok&ckiois arrive et portant parolle de la part de quatre bourcg a fcavoir des Sok&ckiois, des Pagamptag&e, des Penag&c et des Mahingans fcituée fur la riviere de manate refpond aux propofitions que je luy avois faict luy parlant lauthomne paffe le dixhuictiefme de Novembre. (Les Abnaquiois fe joignant a moy avoient faict prefent aux Sok&ckiois de quinze colliers et de dix ou douze braffelets de pourfelaine quy aid against the Irocquois. He carries these to the governors of Harfort, or Kenetigout, which is on the river of the Sokouckiois, fifty leagues from pleymout; and of Nieufhaven, or Kwinopiers, which is ten leagues from Harfort;²² and even to the governor of Manate, in order to prevent him from further trading arms to the Irocquois, and to urge upon him that he shall not only not oppose those who would attack the Irocquois, but even aid the English in this project, by virtue of the union upon which, some years ago, he entered with New England.

This Captain has orders to be present at Nieufhaven or Kwinopeia, in order to solicit the Commissioners, or deputies, of the four colonies, who [22] are to assemble there.

He also told me that the common rumor in boston, where he had been ten or fifteen days, was, that Monsieur Indicot would be governor of that colony at the first general court, which was to be held about the seventeenth of May.

The same, and the letters of some private citizens of boston, affirm that the general sentiment of the citizens of boston is, that, if the republic will not resolve upon this aid against the Irocquois by public authority, private volunteers are ready for that expedition, upon the mere permission of that request, just as, by favor of Monsieur Guebins in behalf of Monsieur latour, some troops went against the late Monsieur daunay.²³

On the twenty-fourth of April, the [23] Sokouckiois arrives, bringing a message on the part of four villages,—to wit, of the Sokouckiois, of the Pagamptagwe, of the Penagouc, and of the Mahingans, situated on the river of manate;²⁴ he answers the Il offre a Nouel Tak&irimath ou des a prefent deffuier le fang des Algonquins et des Sok&ckiois quy fe font tue par mefgarde et faulte de fe recognoiftre ou bien dattendre apres la mort de lIrocquois pour fe faire la fatiffaction quils ont couftume de fe faire les ungs aux autres en tel cas.

[25] REFLECTION SUR L'ESPERANCE QUE DONNENT LES SAUVAGES.

De plus il eft certain que les Sok&ckiois ont ete fortement alliez aux Algonquains et font bien aifes de fe delivrer du tribut annuel de porcelaine que llrocquois exige, voire de fe vanger de la mort de propositions that I had made to him by word of mouth, last autumn, the eighteenth of November. (The Abnaquiois, joining me, had made a present to the Sokouckiois, of fifteen collars, and ten or twelve porcelain bracelets, which might be valued at seven or eight bundles of Beaver skins,-in order to say to them: " Do what Onontio and tekwirimaeth tell you.") He said that those four villages, having held a Council during three months of the past winter, had resolved to take the risks against the Irocquois with Onontio and Noel, whether the English [24] did or did not undertake the war against the Irocquois; and, when the Irocquois shall be exterminated, they will oppose every other nation whatsoever that may wish to make war toward Ouebecq. 2nd. He adds that several other nations, which are allied to these, will accompany them to war, - especially, one called Noutchihuict, very numerous and dreaded by the Irocquois. It is situated between the Mahingans and Manathe.²⁵

He offers to Nouel Takwirimath either now to wipe away the blood of the Algonquins and of the Sokouckiois who have killed one another inadvertently, or for lack of recognizing one another; or, else, to wait until after the death of the Irocquois, in order to give each other the satisfaction which they are accustomed to render mutually in such a case.

[25] REFLECTION UPON THE HOPE INSPIRED BY THE SAVAGES.

I^T is certain that all the Nations of Savages which are in New England hate the Irocquois, and fear lest, after the Hurons and the Algonquains, he will exterminate them. Indeed, he has broken the quantite de leur compatriotes tue par les dict Irocquois. Outre cela ils efperent la chaffe du caftor [26] vers quebecq après la mort de lIrocquois.

Enfin il est affeure que la feule nation de N&tchihout quy a des armes fuffit pour sy bien divertir a tout le moings lIrocquois quils nayent point le loisir de nous rien faire de notable.

REFLEXIONS TOUCHANT CE QU'ON PEUT ESPERER DE LA NOUVELLE ANGLETERRE CONTRE L'IROCQUOIS.

I EREMT. Je fuppofe comme chofe tres affeuree que les Anglois des quatre colonies unies a fcavoir Bofton, Pleymesth, Kenetigst, Ksinopeia ont fort bonne main pour exterminer les nations fauvages: [27] ils en ont extermine deux ufque ad mingentem ad parietem. Ils font fi puiffants en nombre que quatre mille hommes peuvent eftre mis fur pied dans la feule colonie de Bofton. Ils font quarante mille ames dans ces quatre colonies pour le moins et dailleurs le chemin pour aller aux Irocquois eft fort court et fort facile.

2^e Je fuppofe larticle expreffe de leur union quy porte que fans le confentement des Commiffionaires ou des deputez de ces quatre colonies aulcune de ces colonies ne peult entreprendre aucune guerre offenfive; par tant il fault que les dicts deputez saffemblent pour deliberer la deffus et que trois colonies confentent a ce fecours afin que la pluralité des voix l'emporte.

[28] Or cela fuppofe je penfe que nous avons affez bonne efperance de ce fecours par le moien des Anglois pourceque nous avons une morale affeurance que de quatre colonies trois font pour confentir.

heads of many of their men, finding them hunting Beaver, without making any satisfaction.

Moreover, it is certain that the Sokouckiois have been closely allied to the Algonquains, and are very glad to deliver themselves from the annual tribute of porcelain which the Irocquois exact,—nay, even, to revenge themselves for the death of many of their fellow-countrymen, killed by the Irocquois. Besides that, they hope for the beaver hunt [26] about quebecq, after the destruction of the Irocquois.

Finally, it is certain that the single nation of Noutchihout, which has arms, is enough, at the very least, to divert the Irocquois so well that they shall not have leisure to do us any notable harm.

REFLECTIONS TOUCHING WHAT MAY BE HOPED FROM NEW ENGLAND AGAINST THE IROCQUOIS.

1 ST. I suppose it a thing perfectly assured that the English of the four united colonies—to wit, Boston, Pleymeouth, Kenetigout, and Kwinopeia—are very well equipped for exterminating the savage nations; [27] they have exterminated two of them, usque ad mingentem ad parietem. They are so strong in point of numbers that, in the single colony of Boston, four thousand men can be put in the field. They number, in these four colonies, at least forty thousand souls; and besides, the route by which they can reach the Irocquois is very short and very easy.

2nd. I suppose that the special article of their union, which reads that, without the consent of the Commissioners or of the deputies of these four colonies, no one of these colonies can undertake any offensive war, would therefore require that those deputies assemble to deliberate in that matter; and

2°. Le gouverneur de Pleym8t avecq tous fes magiftrats nonfeulement confente mais preffe cefte affaire en faveur des Abnaquiois quy font foubs la protection de la Colonie de Pleym8tch.

Toute la Colonie y a un interet affez confiderable pourceque par le droict de Seigneurie elle prend chaque annee la fixieme partie de tout ce quy provient de la traicte fur cette riviere de Quinebec.

Et en par^{er} le gouverneur mefme avec autre quatre bourgeois des plus confiderable quy font comme fermiers de cefte traicte perderoient [29] beaucoup perdant tout lefperance du commerce de Kennebec et de Kebec par le moien des Abnaquiois ce quy arrivera bientot infailliblement fi llrocquois continue le tuer et chaffer a mort les dicts Abnaquiois comme il a faict depuis quelcques années.

Le gouverneur a un puiffant prejugé pour obtenir ce fecours toutes les colonies aiant pris guerre en faveur dune nation fauvage quy eft fur la riviere de Pecot nomme Morchigander pourceque la Colonie de Kenetig&et aiant foubs fa protection la dicte nation a demande aux aultres trois colonies quelles entrepriffent cefte guerre.

[30] Ce que ce gouverneur a refpondu est a faict adjoustez que tout le monde affeure que lauthorite de ce gouverneur est tout puissante.

2° Le vicegouverneur de Bofton nomme Mr. Indicott quy fort probablement eft maintenant gouverneur a donne parolle quil fairoit tout fon poffible pour y faire confentir tous les Magiftrats de Bofton eft fe joindre avec le gouverneur de Pleym&t. Tous les that three colonies consent to this aid, so that the majority of votes may carry the question.²⁶

[28] Now that supposes, I think, that we have fairly good prospects of this aid by means of the English, because we have a moral certainty that, of four colonies, three are for consenting.

2nd. The governor of Pleymout, with all his magistrates, not only consents, but urges this affair in favor of the Abnaquiois, who are under the protection of the Pleymoutch Colony.

The whole Colony has a very considerable interest therein, because by the right of Proprietorship it takes, each year, the sixth part of all that accrues from the trade on this river of Quinebec.

And, in particular, the governor himself, with four others of the most important citizens,—who are, as it were, farmers of this trade,—would lose [29] much, by losing all prospect of the trade of Kennebec and of Kebec, by means of the Abnaquiois,—which will soon inevitably happen if the Irocquois continues to kill it, and to hunt to death those Abnaquiois, as he has been doing for some years.

The governor has a strong precedent for obtaining this aid, all the colonies having waged war in favor of a savage nation which is on the river of Pecot, named Morchigander; because the Colony of Kenetigwet, having the said nation under its protection, asked the three other colonies to undertake this war.⁵

See the matter more at length in the copy of the letter written to the Reverend Father le Jeune in the [blank space] article.

[30] As to what this governor has answered and has done, add that every one affirms that this governor's authority is all-powerful.

magiftrats de Bofton efcrivent quils le recommanderont fort aux defputez.

Linteret quy a Bofton eft lefperance d'ung bon commerce avec quebecq furtout celuy quil a vers la Virginie et vers lifle de barbade et Sainct Chrifthopf eftant fur le point deftre rompue par la guerre que fufcitent les parlementaires pour y exterminer lauthorite des [31] gouverneurs quy tiennent encore pour le roy d'angleterre.

Ceft intereft a faict dire par advance aux marchands de Bofton que fy la republique faifait difficulte dy envoyer des troupes les volontaires fe contenteraient dune fimple permiffion pour cefte expedition.

 3° Le principal magiftrat de la colonie de Kenetig 8t nomme Monfieur Wintrop fils du feu Monfieur Wintrop quy le premier a efcript a Quebecq pour le commerce ayme fort les François et probablement fera pour ce fecours ce quil poura enfuite de la lettre que je luy ay efcript le priant dachever ce que fon pere a commence.

Pour le gouverneur de K[§]inopeia tout le monde affeurant quil eft grandement raifonnable il y a [32] apparence que fy il ne pouffe pas cefte affaire a tout le moins ne l'empefchera-t-il pas, furtout voiant que Bofton et Pleym[§]t quy font les deux colonies les plus confiderables et comme la reigle des autres le preffent. Oultre tout cela jay efcript avecq M^r Jehan Winflau a M^r Edouard Winflau agent en Angleterre de la part de ces quatre Colonies affin quil efcrive un mot en faveur des Chreftiens et des Catechumefnes Sauvages quil ayme tendrement ung mot de fa part eft tout puiffant fur lefprit des deputes de ces quatre Colonies. Enfin ce que jay reprefente de la part de

2nd. The vice-governor of Boston, Monsieur Indicott, who very probably is now governor, has given his word that he would do his utmost in order to have all the Magistrates of Boston consent thereto, and unite with the governor of Pleymouct. All the magistrates of Boston write that they will strongly recommend the matter to the deputies.

The interest which Boston has therein is the hope of a good trade with quebecq,—especially as that which it has with Virginia, and with the islands of barbade and Saint Christhopf, is on the point of being broken off by the war which the parliamentarians are agitating, in order to destroy the authority of the [31] governors who still hold for the king of england.²⁷

This interest has caused the merchants of Boston to say, in advance, that, if the commonwealth should hesitate to send troops thither, the volunteers would be satisfied with a simple permission for such an expedition.

3rd. The principal magistrate of the colony of Kenetigout, named Monsieur Wintrop,—son of the late Monsieur Wintrop, who first wrote to Quebecq in behalf of trade,—is very friendly to the French, and will probably do what he can in behalf of this aid, in consequence of the letter which I have written to him, begging him to complete what his father began.

As for the governor of Kwinopeia, since every one declares that he is exceedingly reasonable, there are [32] indications that, if he does not promote this affair, at the very least he will not hinder it,—especially since Boston and Pleymout, which are the two most important colonies, and a sort of standard for the others, urge him on. Besides all that, I have Monfieur le gouverneur de Quebecq et de la part des Chreftiens Sauvages femble eftre fy preffant qua peine pourront ils s'excufer s'ils ne concluent ce fecours.

[33] Voici le tout au long pour le moins cefte difpofition favorable de ces trois Colonies fuffit pour nous faire efperer une permiffion pour les volontaires quy voudront faire le coup ou a tout le moings des lettres de faveur pour la province de Mariland toute compofe dAnglois Catholiques quy font affez pres des Irocquois.

FIN.

written, with Monsieur John Winslau, to Monsieur Edward Winslau,—the agent in England for the affairs of these four Colonies,—in order that he write a word in favor of the Christians and the Savage Catechumens, whom he tenderly loves. A word from him is all-powerful upon the mind of the deputies of these four Colonies. Finally, what I have represented on the part of Monsieur the governor of Quebecq, and in behalf of the Savage Christians, seems to be so urgent that they will hardly be able to excuse themselves unless they decide upon this aid.

[33] I have placed before you the whole matter at length. At least, this favorable disposition of these three Colonies is enough to make us hope for a permission in behalf of the volunteers who shall be willing to deal the blow; or, at the very least, favorable letters for the province of Mariland, wholly composed of English Catholics, who are quite near the Irocquois.²⁸

Captive Annie'ronnon was put to death at Montreal.

18. We leave Three Rivers for Montreal, where we arrive the next day at 8 o'clock in the morning. . . . We learn there: . . . 1st, that on the sixth day of the month, about 50 Iroquois had killed Big Jean and had cut off his head; and that they had taken captive his wife Caterine, whom they had left for dead, having removed the entire scalp from her head.40 A young man of 21 years, named Jean chicot, who [blank space]. These Iroquois robbed the miller's house, and partly the house of the aforesaid Big Jean, within sight and hearing of the fort. . . . 2nd. On the tenth of May, at two o'clock after midnight, about 40 Iroquois attacked and tried to set fire to the brewery; but 4 frenchmen who slept there repelled the enemy. The house of Ste. Susane and the house of la vigne were burned at the same time.41

24. We depart from Montreal, and arrive the next day at Three Rivers about 4 o'clock in the evening. There we find that quite recently ten Iroquois had made their attack, six of them having fired upon a canoe with two frenchmen, who had gone to take up a line,—within sight of the fort, and within a musket's range. These Iroquois had lain in wait at the edge of the wood, and fired two shots, by which the two frenchmen were felled in their canoe,— Noel Godin receiving a number of mortal wounds, from which he Attacks by the Iroquois upon The canadians. dont les deux françois furent abbatus dans leur canot, Noel Godin avant receu quantité de playes mortelles, dont il mourut le neufiesme jour de sa blessure : l'autre nommé La Ieunesse, avant eu vn bras rompu, & vne espaule transpercee de part en part d'une balle. morning, in three canoes, to get hay. The Iroquois, having dealt their blow on the other side of the River, noticed that our french, to the number of about 50, were going by land to bring back the cattle, which were more than a league distant from Three Rivers. They jumped into their canoes; and, having crossed the River, they came to land at a place still farther away, where some oxen and cows were, - our french not yet having arrived They killed five beasts there on the there. spot, the best of which they carried off; but, besides that, there were found missing twelve or thirteen others, both oxen and cows; sive ab Iroquæis occisi sint boves, or else they may have become dispersed and lost.

On the 26th, five Iroquois canoes appeared at Three Rivers, without accomplishing anything, except to kill a heifer there. This they left on the spot, having been constrained to recross the River hastily,—seeing that they were discovered, and that the french were moving toward them, partly by water, partly by land.

AUGUST.

On the 7th, Maturin, Antoine des Rosiers'⁴⁷ man, was killed at Three Rivers by the Iroquois; he had started as early as four o'clock in the morning, to go and shoot crows in his field. 27th. Torata'ti arrives at Quebec, and informs us of the condition of the Hurons.

31st. Noel Tekwerimat returns from Boston, with letters from Father Druillettes.

SEPTEMBER.

On the 1st day of September the St. Joseph returns from Tadoussac, and with it Martin Grouvel's bark, which had gone to assist her.

3rd. La fleur de Paris, Tandoutaionk, and an Algonquinized Abnaquinois, start to go and bring Father Druillettes.

16th. The petit St. Jean sails, commanded by Captain Boutin.

On the 18th, there arrives from Bonaventure the Shallop of Jean Langlois, which brought us some bacon, wines, etc.

The same day, an hour before sunset, Louyse, wife of Chagniau, was killed in her house by the Iroquois. Only 3 Iroquois were seen.

On the 20th of the same month, Madame de Monceaux and Monsieur Dauteuil arrived in a shallop. They had left their Dutch Ship at Tadoussac, where they had arrived on the 16th of the month, having reached Gaspé on the 8th. They had sailed from la Rochelle on the 16th day of July.

On the 22nd, the ste. Anne arrived,—returning from Montreal and 3 Rivers.

On the evening of the same day, there arrived at Sillery a canoe of three Sokoquinois, about 7 o'clock in the evening; one of whom

Le soir du mesme iour, arriua a Sillery vn canot de trois Sokoquinois, sur les 7 heures du soir. desquels celuy qui le printemps estoit venu icy Ambassadeur estoit 1'vn. Lesdits sokoquinois avant dit a Noel Tekserimat, qu'ils estoient venus en Compagnie de cent autres Sokoquinois, lesquels ils auoient laissez faisans la chasse, vers Richelieu; & s'estans coupper en leur narré, de sorte qu'on auoit tout suiet de se douter qu'il n'y eust de la fourbe dans le procedé des dits sokoquinois, & qu'ils ne vinsent, animo poti9 hostili, quàm amico: Noel en ayant donné aduis a quelques canots de Hurons, qui peschoient de l'anguille proche de Sillery; les dits Hurons vinrent de nuit metre icy l'alarme a Quebec, disans qu'il y · auoit 200. Iroquois tout proche de Sillery, qui venoient l'attaquer. Pour secourir tant Sillery que le Cap rouge on depescha sur l heure vne troupe de françois, qui y arriuerent auant Les trois sokoquinois en prirent iour. l'espouuante, & deux d'iceux prirent la fuite, s'estans eschapper par dessus les murailles. Le troisiesme estant demeure, is scilicet qui Legat⁹ huc venerat.

Dans la barque S^{te} Anne estoient vn Huron, nommé Tsa&enhohi, d'Arhetsi. lequel estoit arriué dans le moys d Aoust, a Montreal, auec vn sien nepueu, nommé A_aarenhon_ook. qui venoient d Atra^K&ae; Qui dirent pour nouuelle 1° la prise de Teoto^Andiaton, & la desolation de la Nation Neutre. quàm alio modo narrabant, qu'on ne nous l'auoit fait entendre was he who had come here in the spring as Ambassador. These sokoquinois told Noel Tekwerimat that they had come in Company with a hundred other Sokoquinois, whom they had left engaged in hunting, toward Richelieu; but they contradicted themselves in their story, so that there was every reason to suspect that there might be some trickery in the behavior of these sokoquinois, and that they came animo potius hostili, guàm amico. Noel having given warning to some canoes of Hurons, who were fishing for eels near Sillery, those Hurons came by night to spread the alarm here at Quebec, - saying that there were 200 Iroquois quite near Sillery, who were Ravages wrought by coming to attack it. To aid both Sillery and Cap rouge, a troop of french were despatched at once, who arrived there before day. The three sokoquinois became terrified thereby. and two of them took flight, escaping over the walls. The third one remained, - is scilicet qui Legatus huc venerat.

In the bark Ste. Anne was a Huron named Tsawenhohi, from Arhetsi, who had arrived in the month of August at Montreal, with a nephew of his, named A arenhon ok, who came from Atra'kwae. They told as news: 1st, the capture of Teoto'ndiaton, and the desolation of the Neutral Nation: 49 quàm alio modo narrabant from what we had been given to understand before. 2nd, they told us that those of St. Michel Atahonta enrat, and the Arendae'ronnons, had given themselves freely to the sonnontw'eronnons. 3rd, that those Gentlemen of st. Michel had already held many councils with their new kinsmen, the Sonnontwe'ronnons, de feriendo fædere cum Gallis, Contra the Iroquois Annie'ronnons; and that for this purpose they were about to man a canoe for this place, with 4 Tahonta, enrat and 2 Sonnontwe'ronnons, in order to know the purpose and opinion of onnontio.

On the 23rd, a shallop arrives from 3 Rivers, to give us warning that an Iroquois canoe had been perceived passing by 3 Rivers, coming down here; and that the Iroquois were in the field.

On the 24th of the same month, the Sokoquinois who had stayed behind withdrew incognito, with an Abnaquinois, having stolen a canoe from Thomas Hayot.

On the 25th, Jean Langlois' shallop sails again.

On the 26th, the news arrives at Quebec 36 Canoes of Hurons of 36 Huron canoes, who are coming to swell our Colony. Aenhio, ondhatetaionk, Hoek, Handotonk.

OCTOBER.

On the 12th, the Shallop arrives from the Monsieur de Lauzon. Ships which brought Monsieur de Lauson, etc.; item, the frigate sent back by the Governor of Acadia, which had been taken from us in spring by the people of Madame Daunay. Messieurs Denys, who had been taken prisoners by Madame Daunay, were also sent back in the same frigate.⁵⁰ Madame Daunay, furent aussi renuoyez dans la mesme fregate.

An Italian Cordelier Father, named Father A Cordelier Father Bernardino Sevllon, who was with Monsieur Denvs, was received with us in hospitium, until the 5th of November, when he embarked again for france in the Dutch ship.

On the 13th arrived the fleet of 3 Ships,the st. Joseph, La Vierge, and a third, a Dutch Ship. At evening on the preceding day, the Reverend Father Hierosme Lallemant had come to take the orders, and to know what should be done. The Ships, having remained at anchor behind point de Lauzon, appeared The next morning under sail, and came to port about 7 o'clock in the morning. I went to greet Monsieur de Lauson on his deck; about 8 o'clock he landed. He went straight to the fort, where, having presented his Commission, the keys were given to him, and he entered within the fort. Thence he came to the church, where I received him more ecclesiastico, aspergendo eum aquâ benedictâ, at the entrance to the door, and saying to him some 8 or 10 lines for his reception.⁵¹ Then the Reverend Father Lallemant said the Mass.

On the 18th, Father Chaumonot took his final vows in the Parish church, at a low Mass father chaumonnot at which I said after High Mass. At the conclusion, Monsieur the Governor came to dine in our refectory: Monsieur Du Plessis, Monsieur the Seneschal and Monsieur de la Sitiere, Monsieur de Hautville, Monsieur de Tilly, Monsieur De Repentigny, Monsieur Robineau, Monsieur Dauteuil.52

M Y REVEREND FATHER, Pax Christi.

The assistance that we expected to receive from France in the Spring arrived only on the thirteenth of this month of October, after having wearied our expectations and our hopes. But at last [2] the fleet brought us Monsieur de Lauzon as our new Governor, and in his person the desires, the hopes, and the joy of New France; in an instant the whole country assumed a new aspect; and it seems that, in losing the recollection of our former fears and of the misfortunes that assailed us, we have no other thought than to praise God for a blessing which we cherish as much as life and which promises us the advent of all other blessings. This alone would suffice, and might take the place of an entire Rela-However, I cannot dispense from again writtion. ing to you this year about our losses and our gains, our sorrows and our joys, our hopes and our fears, and, finally, our obscurities rather than our lights. For, to tell the truth, we walk more than ever in [3] à vray dire, nous marchons plus que iamais dans vne [3] nuict obscure: mais nous y marchons auec Dieu qui nous y conduira. Dies diei eructabit verbum, & nox nocti indicabit scientiam. Nous recommandons toujours cette Miffion aux prieres de vostre Reuerence, & de tous ceux qui ont de l'affection pour la conuerfion des Sauuages: puis qu'apres tout, c'est en Dieu feul que nous iettons nos confiances, & qu'il eft vray que le ciel pluftoft que la terre, remplira les attentes de nos defirs.

My Reverend Father,

[4] CHAPITRE I.

ESTAT DES HABITATIONS FRANÇOISES.

A recolte des bleds a efté cette année tres-heu-reule par tout mais si i tette année tres-heureuse par tout, mais principalement à Montreal, où les terres font fort excelletes; ce lieu feroit vn Paradis terrestre pour les Sauuages & pour les François, n'eftoit la terreur des Iroquois, qui y paroiffent quafi continuellement, & qui rendent ce lieu presque inhabitable: c'est pour ce sujet que les Sauuages s'en font retirez, & il n'y refte en tout qu'enuiron cinquante François. C'est merueille qu'ils n'ayent efté exterminez par les frequentes furprifes des troupes Iroquoifes, qui ont efté fortement foustenuës & repoussées diuerses fois. Mõfieur de Maifon-neufue a maintenu [5] cette habitation par fa bonne conduite, la paix y a regné entre les François, & la crainte de Dieu; le plus grand mal-heur qui leur foit arriué a efté en la perfonne d'vne pauure femme Françoife, qui fut prife au mois de May par vne cinquantaine d'Iroquois, tout à la veuë du fort, & qui fut emmenée captiue. Du depuis elle a efté bruflée crue[1]lement par ces barbares, apres qu'ils luy eurent arraché les mammelles, qu'ils luy eurent couppé le nez & les oreilles, & qu'ils eurent déchargé fur cette pauure brebis innocente le poids de leur rage, pour fe vanger de la mort de huict de leurs hommes, qui eftoient demeurez dans vn combat de cét Efté. Dieu donna du courage & de la pieté à cette pauure femme,

[4] CHAPTER I.

CONDITION OF THE FRENCH SETTLEMENTS.

THE wheat crop has been very good everywhere, this year, but consciout this year, but especially at Montreal, where the land is most excellent. That spot would be an earthly Paradise for both the Savages and the French, were it not for the terror of the Iroquois, who make their appearance there almost continually and nearly render the place uninhabitable. On this account, the Savages have withdrawn from it; and only about fifty French remain there. It is a wonder that they have not been exterminated by the frequent surprises of the Iroquois bands, which have many times been stoutly resisted and repelled. Monsieur de Maison-neufve has maintained [5] that settlement by his good management. Peace has reigned among the French, and so has the fear of God. The greatest misfortune that has happened to them was in the person of a poor French woman who was seized in the month of May by about fifty Iroquois, in the very sight of the fort, and was carried away a captive. Afterward, she was cruelly burned by those barbarians, after they had torn off her breasts, cut off her nose and ears, and vented their fury on that poor innocent lamb, in revenge for the death of eight of their men, who had fallen in a battle this Summer. God gave that poor woman courage and piety in the midst of the tortures; she ceased not to implore his aid: her eyes were [6] fixed on heaven, and her heart au milieu des tourmés, fans ceffe elle imploroit fon fecours, fes yeux furent [6] colez au ciel, & fon cœur fut fidele à Dieu iufqu'à la mort, en expirant elle auoit encore à la bouche le nõ de IESVS, qu'elle inuoqua auffi long-temps que durerent fes peines.

Aux trois Riuieres, quelques François & quelques Hurons ont esté tuez cét Esté par des bandes Iroquoifes. Le fecours qui nous est venu cette année de France est absolument necessaire en ce lieu; car à vray dire, il n'a pû fubfifter que par miracle. Les habitans attribuent leur conferuation au recours extraordinaire qu'ils ont eu à la faincte Vierge, dont il y auoit vn petit oratoire en chaque maison; l'vn eftoit dedié à Noftre Dame de Lorette, l'autre à Noftre Dame de Lieffe, les autres à Noftre Dame des Vertus, de bon Secours, de bonne Nouuelle, de la Victoire, & à quantité d'autres titres, fous lesquels [7] on honnore la faincte Vierge en diuers lieux de la Chreftienté. C'eftoit vne deuotion ordinaire à ces pauures habitans, d'aller vifiter ces petits oratoires en diuers iours de la femaine, principalement les Samedis, que le concours y eftoit plus grand, & en chaque maison matin & foir, tout le monde fe raffembloit pour y faire les prieres en commun, & l'examen de leur confcience, & pour y dire les Litanies de la tres-faincte Vierge: le chef de la famille eftant d'ordinaire celuy qui faisoit les prieres, & auquel tous les autres refpondoient, femmes, enfans & feruiteurs.

A Quebec & aux habitations qui en dépendent, cette façon de faire les prieres matin & foir a efté vne deuotion ordinaire, chaque maifon ayant pris vn Sainct pour Patron, & fait vn vœu public, que chacun was faithful to God unto death; on expiring, the name of JESUS still lingered on her lips, and she invoked him as long as her sufferings lasted.

At three Rivers, some French and some Hurons were killed this Summer by Iroquois bands. The assistance that has come to us from France this year is absolutely needed in this place; for, to tell the truth, it has existed only through a miracle. The inhabitants attribute their preservation to the extraordinary recourse that they had to the blessed Virgin, in whose honor a small oratory was established in each house. One was dedicated to Nostre Dame de Lorette, another to Nostre Dame de Liesse, others to Nostre Dame des Vertus, de bon Secours, de bonne Nouvelle, de la Victoire, and many other titles under which [7] the blessed Virgin is honored in various parts of Christendom. The usual devotion of these poor inhabitants was to visit these small oratories on different days in the week, principally on Saturdays when the attendance was more numerous; and in every house, morning and evening, all assembled to say their prayers in common, to examine their consciences, and to recite the Litanies of the most blessed Virgin. The head of the family usually said the prayers, and all the others - women, children, and servants - gave the responses.

At Quebec and in the settlements that are its dependencies, this custom of saying the prayers morning and evening has been a common devotion. Each household took a Saint for its Patron, and made a public vow that each person [8] would confess and receive communion at least once a month. Our Fathers, everywhere, did all in their power to obtain that peace and union of hearts should prevail more fe [8] confefferoit & fe communieroit au moins vne fois le mois. Nos Peres ont fait par tout ce qu'ils ont pû pour y mettre la paix & l'vnion des cœurs, plus que iamais elle n'y auoit efté. Les vifites frequentes qu'on a fait, mefmes aux lieux les plus efloignez, de huict & de dix lieuës, n'ont pas efté fans fruit: la plufpart de ceux qui font en ce païs, aduoüent qu'en aucun lieu du monde ils n'y auoient trouué, ny plus d'inftruction, ny plus d'aides pour leur falut, ny vn foin de leur confcience plus doux & plus facile.

Les Meres Hofpitalieres font plus que iamais neceffaires au païs, car leur maifon eft toujours vn afyle affeuré pour les pauures, tant François que Sauuages; elles y ont rendu tout le cours de l'année, & aux vns & aux autres toutes les charitez poffibles au . deffus de leurs forces, quoy [9] qu'au deffous de leur courage, car vrayement elles fe confient en Dieu & font plus qu'elles ne peuuent. Elles fe paffent de fort peu, aimant mieux tout fouffrir que de fe plaindre, ou de manquer aux pauures, qu'elles preferent à leurs propres befoins.

Les Meres Vrfulines ont efté vifitées de Dieu dans l'incendie de leur maifon, qui arriua le trentiefme iour de Decembre fur les deux heures apres my-nuit. Le feu qui s'eftoit pris par leur boulangerie, auoit quafi gagné le haut de la maifon auant qu'elles s'en fuffent apperceuës. Ce fut beaucoup pour elles qu'elles ayent pû fe tirer du millieu des flammes pour fe ietter au milieu des neiges; & c'eft quafi vn miracle que leurs petites penfionnaires Sauuages & Françoifes n'ayent pas efté bruflées. La charité [10] de quelques-vnes de ces Meres, vrayement toutes than it had ever done. The frequent visits that were made, even to places situated at a distance of eight and ten leagues, were not without fruit. Most of those who are in this country admit that nowhere else in the world have they found more instruction, more assistance for their salvation, or a more tender and more ready care for their consciences.

The Hospital Mothers are more than ever necessary for this country because their house is always an assured asylum for the poor, both French and Savages. Throughout the year, they have extended to one and all every possible charity,—beyond their strength, although [9] not equal to their courage; for, in truth, they trust in God, and perform more than they are able. They do with very little, preferring to suffer everything rather than to complain, or to cause any privation to the poor, whom they regard more than their own needs.

God visited the Ursuline Mothers with the destruction of their house by fire, which occurred on the thirtieth of December, two hours after midnight. The fire, which broke out in their bakery, had almost reached the upper part of the house before they noticed it. They were very fortunate in being able to escape from the midst of the flames, and to throw themselves into the snow; and it was almost a miracle that their little Savage and French boarders were not burned to death. The charity [10] of some of these Mothers, who are indeed all love, was more active than the fire. It was a pleasure worthy of the sight of the Angels to see them pass through the flames, carrying those little innocents on their bosoms to deposit them in a safe place, and at once returning into danger, without fear of remaining there themd'amour, fut plus actiue que le feu. C'eftoit vn plaisir digne des yeux des Anges, de les voir trauerfer ces flammes, portant dedans leur fein ces petites innocentes pour les mettre en lieu de feureté, & retourner incontinent dans le peril, fans crainte d'y demeurer elles-mefmes & d'y brufler, dans ces deuoirs de charité. Tout leur Monastere fut confommé en moins d'vne heure, & iamais on n'en pût rien fauuer que quelques meubles de leur Sacriftie. C'eft à dire, que ces bonnes Meres se trouuerent alors vrayement dans la pratique du vœu de Pauureté, mais d'vne façon qui rauiffoit le cœur de Dieu. Le feu auoit fait vn holocauste tout entier de leurs habits, de leur maisõ, de tous leurs meubles, & des aumônes, dont depuis plus de dix ans on [11] auoit tafché de foulager vne partie de leurs neceffitez. Elles voyoient tout reduit en cendres, & le regardoient auec plaisir, benifsant Dieu de ce que le feu faisoit ses fainctes volontez. Elles fe mirent à genoux tout au milieu des neiges, & firent vne offrande à noftre Seigneur auec vn œil si plein de ioye & d'vn cœur si paisible, d'vn ton de voix si ferme, que les François & les Sauuages qui y vinrent de toutes parts, n'en peurent contenir leurs larmes, foit de compassion, pleurant pour celles qui ne pleuroient pas leur mal-heur; foit de ioye, de voir que Dieu auoit des feruantes fi fainctes & fi détachées d'elles-mesmes, pour ne vouloir que ce qu'il vouloit, & pour l'adorer auec autant d'amour dans vne perte fi fubite de tout ce qu'elles auoient, que s'il les eust comblées en ce mesme temps de toutes ses [12] faueurs. La perte a esté grande, mais ces bonnes Meres n'ont pas perdu leur confiance en Dieu: la crainte qu'elles ont eu qu'on ne selves, or of being burned to death in the performance of this charitable duty. The whole of their Monastery was destroyed by the fire, in less than an hour; and nothing could be saved, except a few articles of furniture in their Sacristy. This means that the good Mothers then truly practiced their vow of Poverty,-but in a manner that delighted the heart of God. The fire had made a complete holocaust of their clothing, their house, all their furniture, and the alms with which, for over ten years, [11] efforts had been made to relieve, in part, their necessities. They saw everything reduced to ashes, but looked upon it with pleasure, praising God because the fire performed his holy will. They knelt in the midst of the snow, and made an offering to our Lord with eyes so beaming with joy, with hearts so filled with peace, and in voices so firm, that the French and the Savages, who hastened there from all sides, could not restrain their tears, -- either through compassion, weeping for those who wept not for their own misfortune; or through joy at seeing that God had servants so holy and so detached from self that they desired only what he willed, and adored him as lovingly, in so sudden a loss of all that they owned, as if he had at the same time heaped upon them all his [12] favors. The loss was great, but the good Mothers did not lose confidence in God. The fear that they felt that thoughts might be entertained of sending them back to France, and of tearing them away from a country which they cherish more than their lives, although they have much to suffer and everything to dread in it; the desire that urges them to put themselves in condition to do in this country what their zeal has come here to seek, for the salvafongeât à leur retour en France, & qu'on ne les rauît d'vn païs qu'elles cheriffent plus que leur vie, quoy qu'elles y ayent beaucoup à fouffrir & tout à craindre. Le desir qui les presse de se mettre en état de pouuoir faire en ce païs ce que leur zele y eft venu chercher, pour le falut des ames; l'esperance qui leur fait croire que voulant tout fouffrir & tout faire pour Dieu, il fera tout pour elles: Ces raifons dis-je. les ont obligées fainctement à rebaftir de nouueaux edifices, s'engageãt dans de nouueaux frais, dans des debtes nouuelles, & n'y épargnant rien de ce qui eft iugé neceffaire aux fonctions de leur inftitut. Dés cét Hyuer nous efperons qu'elles pourront [13] loger dans ce nouueau bastiment, qui est desia bien auacé: nous les y auons affifté de toutes nos forces. Cependant elles fe font logées dans vne petite maifon où il n'y a que deux chambres, qui feruent de dortoir, de refectoir, de cuisine, de sale, d'infirmerie & de tout, à toute leur communauté de treize perfonnes & de quelques penfionnaires, dont leur charité n'a pû fe difpenfer, nonobstant les incommoditez presque intolerables qu'il leur a fallu fouffrir, principalement durant les chaleurs étouffantes de l'Efté, & dans vne pauureté qui les a reduit à auoir befoin de toute chofes. Tout le païs à interest à leur restablissement, principalement à caufe de leur Seminaire : car l'experience nous apprend, que les filles qui ont efté aux Vrfulines s'en reffentent pour toute leur vie, & que dans leur [14] ménage, la crainte de Dieu y regne dauantage, & qu'elles y efleuent bien mieux leurs enfans.

La grande Eglife de Quebec, dont on commença la baftiffe il y a trois ans, n'est pas encore toute tion of souls; the hope that leads them to believe that, as they wish to suffer and to do everything for God, he will do everything for them, - these reasons, I say, compelled them to adopt the holy resolution to erect new buildings; to incur fresh expenses and fresh debts, and to spare nothing that is considered necessary for the performance of the functions of their institute. We hope that as early as next Winter they will be able [13] to take possession of the new building, which is already well advanced.⁵⁴ We have assisted them to the best of our ability. Meanwhile, they are lodged in a small house that has but two rooms, which serve as dormitory, refectory, kitchen, hall, infirmary, and everything, for their community of thirteen persons. Besides these, they have some boarders, whom their charity would not allow them to send away, in spite of the almost unbearable inconveniences that they had to undergo, especially during the stifling heat of Summer and in a state of poverty which reduced them to being in need of everything. The whole country is interested in their reëstablishment, chiefly on account of their Seminary; for experience teaches us that the girls who have been with the Ursulines feel the benefit of their stay there throughout their lives, and that in their [14] households the fear of God reigns more than elsewhere, and they bring up their children much better therein.

The great Church of Quebec, the building whereof was commenced three years ago, is not yet quite finished. Nevertheless, they began on Christmas to celebrate the Sacrifice there, with an order and pomp that increase devotion. There are eight choir-boys, besides Chanters and Officials. acheuée: toutefois on commença à Noël à y faire l'Office, auec vn ordre & vne majefté qui augmente la deuotion: il y a huict enfans de chœur, des Chantres & des Officiers.

On a commencé cette année vn Seminaire, où les enfans font en penfion fous vn honnefte homme qui en a pris le foin, où ils apprennent à lire & à écrire, & où on leur enfeigne le plain-chant, auec la crainte de Dieu. Ce Seminaire eft proche de l'Eglife & du College où ils viennent en claffe, & où ils fe forment au bien. Sans cela nos François deuiendroient Sauuages, & auroient moins d'inftruction que les Sauuages mefmes.

1650 - 51]

This year, we have begun a Seminary, where the children are boarded under the care of an honest man who has assumed charge of them; where they learn to read and write, and are taught plain-chant, with the fear of God. This Seminary is close to the Church and to the College, where their classes are held, and where they are trained to virtue. Without this, our French would become Savages, and have less instruction than the Savages themselves.⁵⁵

[15] CHAPITRE II.

ESTAT DE L'ANCIEN PAÏS DES HURONS, & DE LA NATION NEUTRE.

ES Iroquois ne nous ont pas fait fi rude guerre depuis vn an que nous l'apprehendions, ils ont eu diuerfion de leurs armes du costé de la nation Neutre, où ils ont enuoyé le plus gros de leurs forces. Le fuccez leur en a efté fauorable, ils y ont enleué deux places qui estoient les frontieres, & dans l'vne defquelles il y auoit plus de feize cens hommes: la premiere fut prise fur la fin de l'Automne; la feconde au commencement du Printemps. Le carnage y fut grand, principalement des vieillars & des enfans, qui n'euffent pû fuiure les Iroquois iufques dans leur païs. Le nombre des captifs [16] a efté exceffif, fur tout des ieunes femmes, qu'ils referuent pour peupler leurs bourgades. Cette perte a efté bien grande, & elle a traifné apres foy la ruine & la defolation totale de la nation Neutre; dont les autres places plus efloignées de l'ennemy ayant pris l'épouuante, ont quitté leurs maisons, leurs biens & leur patrie, & fe font condamnez à vn banniffement volontaire, pour fuyr encore plus loin la rage & la cruauté du vainqueur. La famine pourfuit par tout ces pauures fugitifs, & va les contraignant de fe diffiper dans les bois, dans les lacs & dans les riuieres plus écartées, pour y trouuer quelque foulagement aux miferes qui les accompagnent & qui les font mourir.

[15] CHAPTER II.

CONDITION OF THE FORMER COUNTRY OF THE HURONS, AND OF THE NEUTRAL NATION.

THE Iroquois have not waged so pitiless a war against us for a year as we had feared. They turned their arms against the Neutral nation whither they sent the bulk of their forces. They met with success, and captured two villages on the frontier, in one of which there were over sixteen hundred men. The first was taken toward the end of Autumn; the second, at the beginning of Spring. Great was the carnage, especially among the old people and the children, who would not have been able to follow the Iroquois to their country. The number of captives [16] was exceedingly large,—especially of young women, whom they reserve, in order to keep up the population of their own villages. This loss was very great, and entailed the complete ruin and desolation of the Neutral nation; the inhabitants of their other villages, which were more distant from the enemy, took fright; abandoned their houses, their property, and their country; and condemned themselves to voluntary exile, to escape still further from the fury and cruelty of the conquerors. Famine pursues these poor fugitives everywhere, and compels them to scatter through the woods and over the more remote lakes and rivers, to find some relief from the misery that keeps pace with them and causes them to die.

Ceux des Hurons, qui lors que leur païs fut ruiné, auoient pris leur route vers cette nation Neutre, ont [17] efté accueillis du mefme mal-heur; les vns tuez fur le lieu mefme, les autres entraifnez dans la captiuité; ie prie Dieu que leur foy n'y foit point captiue, & que tous les tourmens ne la puiffent arracher de leur cœur, ainfi que ie l'apprens de quelques-vns, qui ont fait paroiftre leur pieté iufqu'à la mort. Quelques-autres qui fe font fauuez plus heureufement de ces ruines, fe font iettez du cofté de la Nouuelle Suede, vers le Midy; d'autres ont tiré vers l'Occident, & quelques-vns font en chemin pour venir icy fe ioindre à noftre Colonie Hurone: vn canot qui a pris le deuant, eft venu nous en donner aduis.

Les anciens habitans reftez des bourgs de fainct Michel & de fainct Iean Baptifte, qui auant nos malheurs faifoient deux de nos Miffions Hurones; ayans veu que leurs [18] maux ne prenoient point de fin, & qu'vne mifere en appelloit vne autre, fe font rendus volontairement à vne Nation des Iroquois nos ennemis, & viuent maintenant parmy eux auec autant de repos, que fi iamais ils n'auoient eu la guerre. Nous ne fçauons pas les deffeins de Dieu fur ces peuples, mais vn tres-bon Chreftien me difoit il y a quelque temps, que peut-eftre c'eftoit pour le bien de la foy, que tant de bons Chreftiens fuffent diffipez de la forte, afin que le nom de Dieu fut annoncé & adoré par tout, mefme au milieu de nos plus cruels ennemis.

Apres que nous eufmes quitté l'an paffé l'isle de faincte Marie, les Hurons qui n'auoient pas fuiui nostre retraite, mais nous auoient donné parole de descendre apres nous, sur la fin de l'Esté furent empeschez [19] de leur dessent par des mal-heurs qui

Those of the Hurons who, when their country was ruined, had turned their steps toward the Neutral nation were [17] assailed by the same misfortune; some were killed on the spot, while others were dragged into captivity. I pray God that their faith may not be made captive, and that all the tortures may not tear it from their hearts, as I learn of some who have manifested their piety even until death. Some others who were more fortunate, and escaped from these ruins, have gone toward New Sweden, to the South; others have gone toward the West, and others are on the way hither, to join our Huron Colony. A canoe that was sent on ahead came and gave us notice of this.

The former inhabitants who remained in the villages of saint Michel and saint Jean Baptiste, which, before our misfortunes, were two of our Huron Missions,— when they saw that [18] there was no end to their evils, and that one misfortune was followed by another, went of their own accord to a Tribe of our enemies, the Iroquois, and now live as peacefully with them as if they had never been at war. We know not what the designs of God are respecting these peoples; but an excellent Christian told me, some time ago, that perhaps it was for the furtherance of the faith that so many good Christians were thus scattered, in order that the name of God might be made known and adored everywhere, even in the midst of our cruelest enemies.

Last year, after we had left the island of sainte Marie, the Hurons who had not followed us in our retreat, but who had given their word that they would come down after us at the end of the Summer, were prevented [19] from carrying out their furuinrent à la foulle les vns apres les autres. La gelée fit mourir vne partie des bleds, ce qui continua la famine. Vne troupe de Hurons que nous eufmes à la rencontre, & qui remontoient dans leur païs, avans hyuerné à Quebec, fut defaite dans le grand lac par vne bande d'enuiron trois cens Iroquois, qui les attendoient au paffage, & qui fans doute nous euffent fait mauuais parti, fi Dieu ne nous euft fait éuiter leurs embusches. Vne escouade d'enuiron cinquante hommes de la Nation du Petun, qui venoient apres nous & qui fuiuoient nos pistes, fut defaite par ce mesme ennemy. Quantité de familles Chreftiennes qui s'eftoient diffipées çà & là pour viure de leur pesche, y trouuerent la captiuité ou la mort. Trente Iroquois eurent [20] bien l'affeurance de descendre dans l'isle de faincte Marie, ils y firent vne fortereffe d'où ils venoient maffacrer & prendre des captifs iufques aux portes du fort que nous y auions laiffé, où s'estoient retirez les Hurons. On voulut affieger ces trente Iroquois, mais ils fe deffendirent auec courage, ils tuerent aux approches des plus vaillans de nos Hurons, & eurent bien l'adreffe auec le bon-heur, de se retirer fans rien perdre.

Sur la fin de l'Automne, vne autre troupe d'Iroquois tirerent vers cette isle à deffein d'enleuer le reste des Hurons qui l'habitoient, ils firent vn fort en terre ferme vis à vis de l'isle, pour prendre ceux qui en sortiroient. En effet quelques Hurons tomberent en ces embusches, entr'autres vn nomé Estienne Annaotaha, homme de consideration [21] & de courage, lequel se voulant mettre en deffense, sur arresté par le cry des ennemis, qui luy dirent qu'ils ne venoient pas à deffein de faire aucun mal, mais design, through a crowd of misfortunes which overtook them, one after another. The frost killed a portion of the corn, and this caused the famine to continue. A party of Hurons whom we met, and who were going back to their own country after wintering at Quebec, were defeated on the great lake by a band of about three hundred Iroquois, who lay in wait for them as they passed, — and who doubtless would have surprised us, had not God enabled us to avoid their ambushes. A band of about fifty men of the Tobacco Nation, who came after us, and followed our trail, were defeated by the same enemy. A great many Christian families who had scattered here and there, to live by fishing, met with captivity Thirty Iroquois had [20] the boldness to or death. land on the island of sainte Marie, where they erected a fortress, from which they sallied out to massacre and take captives at the very gate of the fort which we had left, and in which the Hurons had taken An attempt was made to besiege these refuge. thirty Iroquois, but they defended themselves stoutly; they killed the bravest of our Hurons when they approached, and had the address and good fortune to escape without any loss.

Toward the end of the Autumn, another band of Iroquois proceeded to that island, to carry away the remainder of the Hurons who dwelt on it. They erected a fort on the mainland opposite the island, with the object of capturing all who might go away from it. In fact, some Hurons fell into these ambushes,—among others, one named Estienne Annaotaha, a man of note [21] and courage, who, just as he was about to defend himself, was arrested by the cries of the enemy, who told him that they had not qu'ils n'auoient que des penfées de paix, & qu'ils apportoient de riches prefens pour inuiter le refte des Hurons qui mouroient de faim, à fe refugier parmy eux, pour ne plus faire deformais qu'vn peuple. Cét homme, dont la vie n'est qu'vne suite & de combats & d'auantures, & qui toujours s'eft veu accompagné du bon-heur, mesme dans ses mal-heurs, sans changer de vifage, fit mine de les croire, & fans monftrer aucune deffiance, il va teste leuée dedans leur fort à deffein de les tromper eux-mesmes, se doutant bien que tout leur procedé n'estoit que fourbe. Ils. luy eftalerent leurs prefens: Ce n'eft pas à moy, leur dit-il, que [22] ces prefens fe doiuent faire, c'est à des testes plus chenuës que la mienne, qui font le confeil & l'ame de noftre pays; ce qu'ils en diront fe fera: Tenez moy icy pour oftage, & enuoyez vers eux ceux d'entre vous que vous iugez auoir plus de conduite & de courage: Non pas, luy dirent-ils, c'eft toy-mesme que nous deputerons pour cét effet, & tes camarades nous demeureront pour oftages. Trois Iroquois partirent auec luy pour eftre les Ambaffadeurs. A l'entrée de la bourgade il fait vn cry de iove, qui est comme vn signal pour faire affembler tout le peuple, tout le monde y accourt. Mes freres, leur dit-il, le Ciel nous eft auiourd'huy fauorable; c'eft auiourd'huy que i'ay trouué la vie dedans la mort, non feulement pour moy, mais pour tous ceux qui ne refuseront pas le bon-heur qui vient [23] nous trouuer à nos portes, du costé d'où nous craignions nostre plus grand mal-heur. Les Iroquois ont changé de vifage avans changé de cœur, ils n'ont plus des penfées de fang ny de feu, finon pour les changer en feux de ioye: ce font nos freres, ce font nos peres, ce come to do any harm, but that their thoughts were all of peace; and that they brought rich presents to invite the remnants of the Hurons, who were dying of hunger, to take refuge among them, so that in future they might be but one people. This man,whose life is but one series of combats and adventures, and who has always been accompanied by blessings, even in the midst of his misfortunes,without changing countenance, feigned that he believed them; then, without manifesting any distrust, he walked, with head erect, into their fort, with the object of deceiving them themselves; for he knew very well that all they did meant nothing but treachery. They spread out their presents before him. "It is not to me," he said, "that [22] these presents should be given, but to more hoary heads than mine, which are the counsel and the soul of our country. What they will say shall be done. Keep me here as a hostage, and send to them those of your number whom you consider the most prudent and the most courageous." " Not at all," they said; "we depute thee on that errand, and thy comrades shall remain as hostages." Three Iroquois went with him as Ambassadors. At the entrance of the village he uttered a joyous cry which is, as it were, a signal for calling the people together; they all hastened thither. "My brothers," he said; "Heaven is propitious to us to-day, because to-day I have found life in death, not only for myself, but for all those who will not refuse the happiness that comes [23] to our doors from the side whence we feared our greatest misfortune. The Iroquois have changed countenance, for their hearts have altered; their thoughts are no longer of blood or of fires, except to

Il leur expofe les deffeins de l'Iroquois, fans témoigner quoy que ce foit de fes foupcons, ny des penfées qu'il tenoit fecretes en fon cœur. Les anciens Capitaines font paroiftre la ioye dans leurs yeux & dans leur parole à l'abord de cette nouuelle. Ce ne font qu'acclamations publiques de tout le peuple, des femmes & des enfans qui redoublent leurs cris de ioye, & qui comencent à respirer [24] la liberté. Les trois Iroquois qui estoiet là prefens, ne pouuoient rien esperer de plus auantageux au deffein qui les amenoit. On les mene dans vne cabane, où tandis qu'on les traite de ce qu'il y a dans tout le bourg de plus exquis, trois ou quatre des meilleures teftes tiennent vn confeil fecret auec Eftienne Annaotaha, qui leur avant découuert fes penfées, ils prirent tous vne mefme conclusion, qu'il ne falloit aucunement se fier à cét ennemy, trop infidele par tant de fois, que fon deffein fans doute eftoit de les tromper, mais qu'il falloit le tromper luy-mesme, & trouuer le moyen de faire quelque bon coup en ce rencontre. On en laisse l'execution à celuy qui l'auoit fi heureufement commencé. Au fortir de ce confeil fecret, les Capitaines vont par les ruës encourageant [25] les femmes, qu'elles fe miffent à piler leur bled d'Inde, & à faire leurs prouifions pour fe mettre en chemin dans trois iours, & s'en aller de compagnie auec les Iroquois, dans vn païs qu'elles ne deuoient plus enuifager comme ennemy, mais comme vne terre de promiffion & vne nouuelle patrie, où ils perdroient le fouuenir de tous leurs maux passez, dans les resfenti-change them into bonfires. They are our brothers: they are our fathers; they are the deliverers of our country, who now give us life, after having almost led us to the grave. Let us not refuse it." He explains to them the designs of the Iroquois, without in any way betraying his suspicions, or the thoughts that he keeps hidden in his heart. The old Captains manifest in their eyes and in their speech the joy that they feel in receiving this news. There is nothing but public acclamations from all the people, from the women and the children, who redouble their joyful cries and commence to breathe [24] liberty. The three Iroquois who were present could not hope for anything more favorable to the design that brought them there. They were taken into a cabin, and while they were treated to everything that was most delicious in the village, three or four of the wisest heads held a secret council with Estienne Annaotaha. who told them his suspicions. They all came to the same conclusion, - that they should in no wise trust this enemy, who had so often been treacherous; that their design was no doubt to deceive them, but that they themselves should be deceived, and that means should be taken to turn this opportunity to advantage. The execution of the plan was left to him who had so happily commenced it. On leaving the secret council, the Captains went through the streets, urging [25] the women to begin pounding their Indian corn, and collecting their provisions,-to be ready to start in three days, and go in company with the Iroquois to a country which they should no longer look upon as hostile, but as a land of promise; and as a new country, wherein they would forget their past evils in undisturbed feelings of joy, which would mens de ioye qui n'auroient point de trouble, & qui les conduiroient doucement au tombeau. Cela fe dit si fortement que pas vn n'en pouuoit douter: les femmes fe mettent en deuoir de faire ce qu'on leur commande, les hommes preparent de leur costé ce qui est necessaire pour ce voyage, tout le monde y eft occupé petits & grands. On va porter cette nouuelle dans le fort, où les Iroquois en attendoient l'iffuë, [26] & pour ne pas laisser de soupçon d'aucune fourbe, Estienne est le premier qui y retourne. Il fe fit quantité d'ambaffades de part & d'autre, auec autant de confiance que fi iamais on n'eust esté en guerre, iusqu'à ce que nos Hurons avans attiré dans leur fort plus de trente Iroquois, on fit main baffe fur cét ennemy infidele, qui n'attendoit rien que son teps pour faire le mesme coup, mais il fut preuenu. Vn d'entr'eux l'auoüa ingenuëment, & dit que pour ce coup le Demon de la guerre ne leur auoit pas efté fauorable. Ces trente Iroquois eftoiet l'élite de leur bande & les meilleurs courages; trois d'entr'eux fe fauuerent heureusement, ayans eu aduis du coup qui s'alloit faire: Eftienne ayant voulu en cela leur rendre le remerciment du bienfait qu'il auoit receu d'eux, lors qu'ayant esté pris [27] captif ils auoient procuré qu'on luy donnât la vie, en mesme temps que le Pere Iean de Brebeuf & le Pere Gabriel Lallemant, d'heureuse memoire, furet mis à mort par ces barbares. Les Iroquois qui eftoiet dans leur fort avans appris le maffacre de leurs gens, prirent incontinent la fuite, l'épouuante les ayant faisis.

Dés le Printemps nos Hurons fe doutans bien qu'vne puiffante armée viendroit fondre fur eux pour vanger cét affront, precipiterent leur retraite, les vns lead them gently to the grave. This was said so boldly that no one could doubt it. The women set to work to do what they were commanded; on their side, the men prepared what was necessary for the journey; all, both great and small, were busily occupied at this. The news of this was carried to the fort where the Iroquois awaited the result; [26] and, to remove all suspicion of deceit, Estienne was the first to return thither. There were many embassies on both sides, with as much confidence as if there never had been war between them, until our Hurons had attracted into their fort over thirty Iroquois,when they seized and killed the treacherous enemies. who were biding their time to carry out the same plan, but were forestalled. One of them candidly admitted it, and said that on this occasion the Demon of war had not been propitious to them. These thirty Iroquois were the choicest and the bravest of their band. Three of them succeeded in effecting their escape, as they had been warned of what was to be done; Estienne wished, in doing so, to return the kindness that he had received from them when he was taken [27] captive, and they spared his life, at the same time that Father Jean de Brebeuf and Father Gabriel Lallemant, of blessed memory, were put to death by those barbarians. When the Iroquois who remained in the fort heard of the massacre of their people, they were seized with fear, and at once took to flight.

In the Spring, our Hurons, who were sure that a powerful army would swoop down upon them to avenge this injury, hastened their retreat,—some over the ice; others in canoes, as soon as it was possible to embark in them. They fled, and retreated deffus les glaces, les autres par canot, auffi-toft qu'on eut moyen de s'embarquer, ils prennent leur fuite & leur retraite dans vne autre ifle nommée Ekaentoton, à foixante lieuës de là. En effet il eftoit temps de defloger, les ennemis defchargerent leur rage fur quelques familles de Chreftiens, fur des vieillars & des enfans, qui [28] manque de canot n'auoient pû eftre embarquez. Le feu ne perd iamais fes ardeurs ny fon actiuité, & les cœurs des Iroquois tandis qu'ils feront infideles, ne perdront iamais leur cruauté.

En mesme temps quantité d'Algonquins qui s'eftoient affemblez dans le lac des Nipiffiriniens, où ils faifoient la pefche de l'efturgeon, dans le deffein de descendre aux trois Riuieres, furent furpris & maffacrez par vne troupe d'Iroquois: les pauures femmes & les enfans furent traisnez à l'ordinaire dans la captiuité, toutefois quelques-vnes fe font eschappées heureusement, & ont fait les cent & les deux cents lieuës de chemin pour nous venir trouuer. Les conduites de Dieu font toujours adorables fur fes efluz, autant qu'elles font aimables: les infideles qui blafphement fon nom [29] & qui s'oppofent à fa gloire, profperent dans leurs voyes; & les Chreftiens en mefme temps qu'ils commencent à l'adorer & à eftre fon peuple ne trouuent par tout que des croix, & les miferes font leur partage, qu'il en foit beny à iamais.

Vne flotte toute de Chreftiens d'enuiron quarante canots de Hurons partis de Ekaentoton, eft arriuée heureufement pour groffir icy bas noftre colonie Hurone: Dieu a conduit leurs pas, & les a protegez des embufches des Iroquois. La faim eftoit vn autre ennemy qui les preffoit & qui marchoit auec eux de to another island called Ekaentoton, sixty leagues from there. Indeed, it was time to leave. The enemy vented their fury on some families of Christians, and on some old people and children who [28] were unable to embark, because there were not enough canoes. Fire never loses its heat or its activity; and the hearts of the Iroquois will never cease to be cruel, as long as they remain pagans.

At the same time, a number of Algonquins, who had gathered together on the lake of the Nipissiriniens,-where they were fishing for sturgeon, intending to go down to three Rivers,-were surprised and massacred by a band of Iroquois. The poor women and children were, as usual, dragged away into captivity. Some, however, fortunately succeeded in escaping; they journeyed over the hundred and two hundred leagues of road, to come and join us. God's guidance of his elect is ever as adorable as it is loving; the infidels who blaspheme his name [29] and oppose his glory prosper in their ways, while the Christians, as soon as they begin to adore him and to become his people, find everywhere only crosses, and misfortunes are their lot. Praise be to him forever for this.

A fleet of about forty Huron canoes, all Christians, which left Ekaentoton arrived safely to increase our Huron colony down here. God guided their steps, and protected them from the ambushes of the Iroquois. Hunger was another enemy that tormented them and kept them company,—for they brought no provisions with them from a country which, as it was no longer an abode of the living, but of the dead, was sterile this year,—and compelled the poor wanderers to throw themselves in our arms, to receive compagnie, n'ayans apporté aucunes prouifions d'vn païs, qui n'eftant plus pour les viuans, mais pour les morts, a esté sterile cette année, & a contraint ces pauures vagabons de venir fe ietter entre nos bras, pour y receuoir en meime temps la [30] vie du corps auec celle de l'ame. Ce font de nouueaux foins & des dépenfes toutes nouuelles qui nous font agreables, Dieu eftendra fur eux & fur nous fes tout-aimables prouidences, puis qu'il est à tous nostre Pere. Vbi fuerit corpus, illuc congregabuntur & aquilæ. Ie veux dire que ces pauures Chreftiens viendront fondre à nous de tous coftez, & qu'ils ne trouuerront point leur repos en aucun lieu du monde, finon proche de ceux qui les ont appellez à la foy. Dieu nous vueille enuoyer dequoy les fuftenter, iufqu'à ce qu'ils ayent fait des champs capables de les nourrir.

Toutes les Nations Algonquines qui habitent vers l'occident de l'ancien païs des Hurons, & où la foy n'a pû encore trouuer paffage, font des peuples pour lefquels nous ne pouuons auoir affez de compaffion; [31] fi faut-il que le nom de Dieu y foit adoré & que la Croix y foit plantée, malgré toute la rage des Enfers & la cruauté des Iroquois, qui font pires que les Demons de l'Enfer.

at the same time the [30] life of the body and that of the soul. These are so many fresh cares and entirely new expenses, which are agreeable to us. God will extend his most loving providence to them and to us, since he is the Father of us all. Ubi fuerit corpus, illuc congregabuntur et aquilæ. I mean to say that these poor Christians will flock to us from all sides, and that they will find no rest anywhere in the world except near those who have called them to the faith. May God be pleased to send us what is needed to support them until such time as they have rendered the fields capable of feeding them.

All the Algonquin Tribes that dwell toward the west of the former country of the Hurons, where the faith has not yet penetrated, are people for whom we cannot have sufficient compassion. [31] Nevertheless, the name of God must be adored and the Cross must be planted there, in spite of all the fury of Hell and the cruelty of the Iroquois, who are worse than the Devils of Hell.

ESTAT DES MISSIONS POUR LA CONUERSION DES SAUUAGES.

DE LA RESIDENCE DE SILLERY.

A Refidence de faince Iofeph à Sillery, peut maintenant plus que iamais feruir de refuge aux Sauuages Chreftiens dans leurs neceffitez, & d'azile dans la crainte de l'ennemy, comme elle a feruy dés le commencement de matrice pour les former à la foy de l'Euangile. Ils s'y retirent dautant plus volontiers qu'ils s'y voyent depuis cette année à couuert d'vne bonne & forte muraille, [32] qui est flanquée aux quatre coins, & qui est en état de foustenir l'affaut des Iroquois; les Sauuages fcauent affez que ce n'est point vn lieu qui foit ouuert pour les Apostats de la Foy, ny pour ceux qui viuent auec fcandale dans le peché. Noël Tekouerimat leur Capitaine, leur a bien fait entendre que les murs qu'on y auoit basty n'estoient pas pour enfermer le vice, mais pour empefcher qu'il n'y entraft. Vne ieune Algonquine baptizée depuis quelques mois aux trois Riuieres, n'y auoit pas mené vne vie affez conforme aux promesses de son baptesme, elle estoit descenduë à Sillery auec ce mauuais bruit: Ma fille, luy dit le Capitaine dés fon arriuée, il faut ou bien changer de vie, ou bien changer de lieu: au bout de quelques iours ayant fait parler d'elle, il luy parla plus nettement: [33] Sors d'icy, luy dit-il, le fort de Sillery n'est pas fait pour des chiens, mais pour ceux

CHAPTER III.

CONDITION OF THE MISSIONS FOR THE CONVERSION OF THE SAVAGES.

OF THE RESIDENCE OF SILLERY.

THE Residence of saint Joseph at Sillery can now serve, more than ever, as a refuge for the Christian Savages in their necessities, and as an asylum in their fear of the enemy, as it served in the beginning for matrix in which to mould them to the faith of the Gospel. They go there all the more willingly, because they find themselves protected this year by a good and strong wall, [32] which is flanked at the four corners and can withstand the assaults of the Iroquois.⁵⁶ The Savages know very well that it is not a place that is open to Apostates from the Faith, or to those who live scandalously in sin. Noël Tekouerimat, their Captain, gave them clearly to understand that the walls which had been built there were not for the purpose of sheltering vice, but of preventing it from entering. A young Algonquin woman, who had been baptized some months before at three Rivers, and who had not led there a life in conformity with the promises of her baptism, came down to Sillery with that bad reputation. " Mv daughter," the Captain said to her on her arrival, "you must either alter your mode of living, or you must change your residence." Some days afterward, as she had been a cause of gossip, he spoke more plainly to her: [33] "Go away from here," he qui font paroiftre leur foy par la pureté de leur vie, il fallut obeyr fans delay: le vice, graces à Dieu, ne trouue point d'appuy parmy les Chreftiens. Il y a eu cette année quatre de nos Peres en cette refidence, mais d'ordinaire il n'en eft demeuré qu'vn ou deux fur le lieu, les autres eftans en campagne tant l'Hyuer que l'Efté, pour des Miffions volantes dont ie parleray cy-apres.

DE LA RESIDENCE DES TROIS RIUIERES.

L^A refidence de la Conception aux trois Riuieres eft plus frontiere à l'ennemy, & plus expofée aux incursions des Iroquois; mais ie puis dire auec verité, que iamais on n'y remarqua plus de paix, plus de [34] repos & de pieté parmy le bruit des armes & dans les frayeurs de la guerre. La pluspart des Neophytes qui y font en bon nombre, y ont fait leur demeure par vn motif qu'on n'attendroit pas des barbares conuertis à la foy depuis peu de temps. C'eft, difoient-ils, pour combattre les ennemis de la priere que volontiers nous expofons nos vies, fi nous mourons en combatant, nous croirons mourir pour la defense de la foy. Ils auoient vn sentiment tout pareil lors qu'ils alloient à la chaffe, apres s'eftre confesse: la charité, difoient-ils, nous oblige de pouruoir aux neceffitez des enfãs & des femmes opprimées de la famine: nous ne pouuons le faire, finon en nous mettant das le danger d'eftre pris & bruflez par les Iroquois, mais Dieu qui est témoin de nostre cœur en fera noftre recompenfe, c'est pour luy [35] obeyr pluftoft que pour nous mesmes que nous nous iettons au peril. Le Dieu d'amour pour lequel ils s'expofoient fi gayement aux dangers de la mort & du feu, said. "The fort of Sillery is not for dogs, but for those who manifest their faith by the purity of their lives." She had to obey at once. Thanks be to God, vice finds no support among the Christians. This year, there were four of our Fathers in this residence, but as a rule only one or two were on the spct. The others were in the field, both Winter and Summer, attending to the flying Missions of which I will speak later on.

OF THE RESIDENCE OF THREE RIVERS.

THE residence of la Conception, at three Rivers, is nearest the enemy's frontier, and most exposed to the incursions of the Iroquois; but I may truly say that never has greater peace been remarked, or more [34] calm and piety amid the noise of battle and the terrors of war. Most of the Neophytes, of whom there are many, have taken up their residence there through a motive which would not be expected from barbarians but recently converted to the faith. " It is," they said, " to fight the enemies of the prayer that we willingly expose our lives; if we die fighting, we consider that we die in defense of the faith." They were animated by the same spirit when they went out hunting. After having made their confession, they said: " Charity compels us to provide for the necessities of the women and children, who are oppressed by hunger. We cannot do so without exposing ourselves to the danger of being taken and burned by the Iroquois; but God, who sees what is in our hearts, will be our reward. It is to [35] obey him, rather than for ourselves, that we put ourselves in peril." The God of love, for whose sake they so cheerfully exposed themselves to the danger of femble auoir pris vn foin d'eux tout particulier: pas vn n'a efté pris ny pourfuiuy de l'ennemy, & pour les viures, quoy que la neige n'ait pas efté fauorable en ces quartiers là durant l'Hyuer, ils n'ont pas neantmoins manqué de chaffe, ny d'Orignac, ny de Caftors. Ils n'ont pas efté mefconnoiffans enuers celuy qui les a fecourus, car retournans de la chaffe ils entroient dans la Chapelle, & pour l'ordinaire auec vne des meilleures pieces de la befte, qu'ils offroient à Dieu, & qu'ils laiffoient proche de l'Autel.

Vne ieune femme Catechumene fe fentant incommodée dans le temps de fa groffeffe, craignant de [36] mourir fans baptefme & fon enfant auffi, quitta fa compagnie dans les bois au temps que la chaffe y eftoit plus heureufe, & nonobftant les grands dangers de tomber viue entre les mains de l'ennemy & d'y eftre bruflée; elle vint fe rendre proche des Peres, pour leur demander l'inftruction & le baptefme: c'eft, leur dit-elle, le plus grand bien que ie fouhaite au monde, la vie du corps ne me fera plus rien fi ie puis eftre baptizée. On l'interroge fur les prieres & fur les myfteres de noftre foy, elle eftoit toute difpofée; elle receut le fainct Baptefme, & peu de iours apres fon enfant nouueau né, qui vint quafi mourant au monde.

Vne autre femme chargée de fix enfans, ayant perdu fon mary dans les bois qui y mourut de maladie, retourna toute defolée ne pouuant [37] tarir fes larmes. Vn de nos Peres voyãt fon affliction & croyant que la charge de tant d'enfans à vne pauure vefue fût ce qui l'attriftoit, tafcha de luy donner quelque confolation. Ce n'eft pas là mon mal, ditelle, mes miferes ne me touchent pas, ny celles de death and fire, seems to have taken special care of them,—not one had been taken or pursued by the enemy; and, as for food, although the snow was not favorable in that quarter during the Winter, nevertheless they never lacked game, either Moose or Beaver. They were not ungrateful to him who had assisted them; for, whenever they returned from hunting, they entered the Chapel,—generally with one of the best parts of the animal, which they offered to God, and left near the Altar.

A young woman, a Catechumen, feeling ill during her pregnancy, feared that she might [36] die without baptism, as well as her child. She left her company in the woods, at the time when the hunt was most successful; and, notwithstanding the great danger of falling alive into the hands of the enemy and of being burned by them, she came to be near the Fathers, to ask them to instruct and baptize her. "It is," said she, "the greatest blessing that I desire in the world; the life of the body will be nothing more to me if I can be baptized." She was questioned on the prayers, and on the mysteries of our faith; she was fully prepared; she received holy Baptism, and so did her new-born child some days afterward, when it came into the world almost in a dying condition.

Another woman, burdened with six children, lost her husband, who died of sickness in the woods; she came back quite disconsolate, and could not [37] restrain her tears. One of our Fathers observed her affliction, and, as he thought that the number of her children — who were a burden on a poor widow was what caused her sorrow, he endeavored to give her some consolation. "That is not my trouble," mes enfans; ie fçay bien & ie croy fermement, que Dieu nous en recompenfera dans le Ciel: pourquoy cela m'abbatroit-il le courage? mais ce que tu ne fçay pas, & qui me rend inconfolable, c'eft que mon mary est damné: il a démenty auant que de mourir les promeffes de fon baptefme, il auoit trop d'amour pour la vie, il s'eft laiffé perfuader à quelques infideles d'auoir recours à ces Iongleurs qui luy promettoient la fanté, par leurs fuperstitions qui nous font defenduës. C'eft fon peché pour lequel ie verfe ces larmes, [38] & la penfée qu'à toute eternité il fera malheureux, pour vn moment de vie qu'il esperoit trop vainemet, & qu'il pouuoit offrir à Dieu auec vn grand merite. Mais depuis fon peché ne l'as-tu point veu prier Dieu? ouy bien, dit-elle, il le pria iufqu'au dernier foufpir. Espere donc, luy dit le Pere, que Dieu luv aura fait mifericorde, & luv aura mis dans le cœur vn vray regret de son peché, car c'est vn Dieu tout de bonté. Tu confole mon cœur, repliqua cette pauure femme affligée, ie ne cefferay donc pas de prier Dieu pour luy, ie le recommande à tes prieres qui font meilleures que les miennes; prie Dieu auffi pour moy qu'il me faffe mifericorde. Cette pauure femme tomba bien-toft malade d'vne groffe fievre: le Pere y court en ayant eu aduis, il la trouue en priere difant fon chapelet, le [39] Pere luy defendit, & luy dit qu'elle fe cotentât d'esleuer de fois à autre fon cœur à Dieu par des oraifons iaculatoires. C'eft ce que ie fais auec plaifir, refpondit-elle, & c'eft la ma confolation. Demande à Dieu qu'il te gueriffe pour le bien de tes enfans s'il le iuge à fa gloire, luy adiousta le Pere, elle le fit, & dans deux iours elle fe trouua dans vne parfaite fanté.

she said; "my misfortunes and those of my children do not affect me. I know well and I firmly believe that God will reward us for them in Heaven; why should that overcome my courage? But what thou knowest not, and what makes me inconsolable, is that my husband is damned. Before his death, he belied the promises of his baptism; he had too much love for life; he allowed himself to be persuaded by some infidels to have recourse to the Jugglers, who promised to restore his health through their superstitions, which are forbidden to us. It is for his sin that I shed these tears, [38] and because of the thought that he will be miserable throughout eternity, for a moment of life for which he too vainly hoped, and which he might have offered to God, obtaining thereby great merit." "But didst thou not see him pray after his sin?" "Yes indeed," she said, "he prayed up to his last breath." "Hope then," the Father said to her, "that God had mercy on him, and inspired his heart with sincere regret for his sin; for he is a God who is all goodness." "Thou consolest my heart," replied the poor afflicted woman; "I will not cease to pray to God for him. I commend him to thy prayers, which are better than mine; pray to God also for me, that he may have mercy upon me." This poor woman shortly afterward fell ill of a violent fever. The Father hastened to her as soon as he heard of it; he found her praying and reciting her rosary. The [39] Father forbade her doing so, and told her to content herself with lifting her heart to God, from time to time, by ejaculatory prayers. "That is what I do with pleasure," she replied, "and that is my consolation." "Ask God to cure thee for the sake of thy children, if he Vne Catechumene eftant venuë fe faire instruire, auoit laiffé fes enfans à la maifon, craignant qu'ils ne la destournassent de son attention: vn de ses pauures enfans eftant proche du feu, vne chaudiere d'eau boüillante tomba fur luy & luy brûla tout le corps. On vient querir la mere en hafte, elle demande fans fe troubler congé au Pere d'aller fecourir fon enfant: le Pere l'ayant fuiuie quelque temps apres, & [40] ayant veu ce pauure enfant en tres-mauuais eftat, demanda à la mere quel fentiment elle auoit eu dans cette rencontre? I'ay creu que les Diables taschoient de me faire haïr l'instruction & la priere, mais iamais ils n'y gagneront rien; la mort de tous mes enfans les vns apres les autres ne m'empefchera pas de prier ny d'estre baptizée, i'ayme & i'aymeray toujours la priere, & toy ne te lasse pas de m'instruire. Cette femme est maintenant excellente Chrestienne, & fa ferueur a toujours efté croiffant depuis fon baptefme.

DE LA RESIDENCE DE MONTREAL.

L A Refidence de Montreal, tandis que la guerre durera auec les Incorreit. Sauuages d'vne retraite paffagere [41] que d'vn lieu de demeure: c'est vne place tres-auantageuse pour toutes les Nations fuperieures qui veulent auoir commerce auec nous; car trouuans là ce qu'ils viennent chercher, ils ne fe voyent point obligez de defcendre plus bas & de s'expofer à de nouueaux perils des Iroquois, qui font plus à craindre au deffous de Montreal qu'au deffus. Deux de nos Peres, l'vn de la langue Algonquine, l'autre de langue Huronne, y ont instruit en diuers temps plusieurs Sauuages qui les y font venus trouuer. Vne grande partie de l'Hyuer deem it to his glory," the Father said to her. She did so, and in two days she was completely restored to health.

A Catechumen, who came to be instructed, left her children at home, because she feared that they might distract her attention. One of her poor children went near the fire, and a kettle of boiling water fell on it and scalded the whole of its body. They hastened to summon the mother, who, without showing agitation, asked the Father's leave to go and succor her child. The Father followed her, shortly afterward; and [40] finding the poor child in a very bad state, he asked the mother what she had felt on that occasion. "I thought that the Devils were trying to make me hate instruction and prayer; but they will never gain anything. The death of all my children, one after another, will not prevent me from praying or from being baptized. I love and will always love prayer, and thou do not weary of instructing me." That woman is now an excellent Christian, and her fervor has continued to increase since her baptism.

OF THE RESIDENCE OF MONTREAL.

THE Residence of Montreal will, so long as the war with the Iroquois shall last, serve rather as a temporary shelter for the Savages [41] than as a permanent abode. It is a very advantageous place for all the upper Nations who wish to trade with us; for, as they find there what they seek, they are not obliged to come further down and to expose themselves to new dangers from the Iroquois, who are more to be dreaded below than above Montreal. Two of our Fathers, one of whom speaks the Algonquin and quelques-vns y ont fait leur demeure; on les affembloit à l'Hofpital pour leur donner l'inftruction, vn iour les femmes, vn autre les enfans, & vn autre les hommes; celle qui a foin de l'Hofpital leur faifoit feftin. Le iour de Pafques ils firent vne Communion [42] generale auec des fentimens de pieté qui donnoient de la deuotion, & qui font auoüer que Dieu eft autant le Dieu des Sauuages, que celuy des François, des Grecs & des Romains.

DE LA COLONIE HURONNE.

A colonie des Chreftiens Hurons a fon departement dans l'ifle d'Orleans, qu'ils appellent d'vn nom facré l'isle de faincte Marie; ils y ont fait des champs, ils y ont bafty des cabanes, & ils pretendent d'y trouuer leur feconde patrie. Deux de nos Peres s'y employent auec des peines & des ferueurs, qui meritent que Dieu ayt pitié de ces pauures peuples, & qu'il en faffe pour vn iamais vn peuple tout Chreftien. Il a fallu les nourrir à nos frais cette premiere année, [43] pour cela feul nous n'en auons pas esté quittes à huict mille liures, donnans auec plaifir ce qu'on nous enuoye de France; mais c'est vne charité bien employée, puis qu'elle n'a d'autre but que le falut des ames. l'ay defia écrit cy-deuant que cette colonie fe va groffir, & que des Hurons difperfez çà & là s'y doiuent rendre, elle ira croiffant chaque année, fi Dieu nous continuë ses benedictions comme il a fait par le paffé. En tout il n'y est mort que trois hommes & deux femmes, mais auec des fentimens de Dieu si tendres, que cela feul meriteroit de confommer nos vies en vn fi fainct employ.

the other the Huron language, have instructed, at various times, a number of Savages who came to them. During a great part of the Winter, some of them took up their abode there. They were gathered together at the Hospital for the purpose of being instructed, — on one day the women, on another the children, and on another the men. The person in charge of the Hospital feasted them. On Easter Sunday they received Communion, [42] all together, with sentiments of piety that inspired devotion, and compel one to acknowledge that God is as much the God of the Savages as of the French, of the Greeks, or of the Romans.

OF THE HURON COLONY.

THE colony of Huron Christians has its settlement on the island of Orleans, which they call by a sacred name, "the island of saint Mary." They have cleared fields, have erected cabins, and claim to have found there their second country. Two of our Fathers are employed there, with labors and a fervor which deserve that God have pity on these poor people, and make them an entirely Christian people forever. We have had to feed them at our own expense, this first year. [43] This alone has cost us eight thousand livres. We give with pleasure what is sent to us from France; but it is welldirected charity, since it has no other object than the salvation of souls. I have already written that this colony is destined to increase in numbers, and that the Hurons scattered here and there intend to join it.⁵⁷ It will grow every year, if God continue to pour his blessings upon us as he has done in the past. All together, only three men and two women maladie & à la mort d'vn ieune homme de vingt & deux ans, nommé Michel Ekouaendaé, dont autresfois nous auons parlé [44] dans quelques Relations. comme d'vne conuerfion miraculeufe & d'vne vertu à l'espreuue. Durant sa maladie iamais il ne se plaignit des douleurs violentes qu'il fentoit, il n'euft pas pris melme vne goutte d'eau pour rinffer fa bouche qu'il n'euft inuqué Dieu & fait le figne de la Croix. Lors que le Chirurgien faifoit fur luy des operations douloureuses qui furent affez frequentes, il les offroit à Dieu: fi les Demons, nous difoit-il, ou des Iroquois infideles tourmentoient mon corps de fuplices, ie me confolerois dans la penfée que Dieu prendroit plaisir à voir ma patience, quoy que leurs cruautez & leurs pechez luy fuffent en horreur. Maintenant que celuy qui fait fon operation deffus moy ne la fait que pour, l'amour de Dieu, qui prend plaifir à le voir faire; i'ay bien fujet de prendre patience, [45] afin que Dieu prenne plaifir à me voir fouffrir fans y eftre offenfé, ny de moy ny de qui que ce foit. Vn de nos Peres luy demandant s'il n'apprehendoit point la mort: tant s'en faut, respondit-il d'vn visage ioyeux, ie la souhaite auec amour, car il me tarde que ie ne fois au Ciel, où mon cœur me donne affeurance que Dieu me recompeníera de ma foy & des confiances que i'ay en luy; ce que ie crains c'est le peché, mais i'aymerois mieux eftre bruslé des Iroquois que d'offenser vn Dieu fi bon.

Vn autre nommé Quentin, qui n'auoit pas efté d'vne femblable vie, eut quafi vne femblable mort. Il auoit efté vn homme de defbauches, tout corrompu de vices, qui luy pourriffoient tout le corps, auec de cuifantes douleurs. Les Meres Hofpitalieres en have died there, but with such tender affection for God that this alone would deserve that we wear out our lives in such holy employment.

The Hospital Mothers were enraptured during the illness and at the death of a young man, twenty-two years of age, named Michel Ekouaendaé, whom we have already mentioned [44] in some of the Relations as a case of miraculous conversion, and as being of tried virtue. During his illness he never complained of the violent pains that he felt; he did not even take a drop of water to rinse his mouth, without invoking God and making the sign of the Cross. When the Surgeon performed painful operations on him, as he frequently had to do, he offered them to God. "If the Demons," he said to us, "or the pagan Iroquois were to harass my body by torture, I would console myself with the thought that God took pleasure in seeing my patience, although he would have a horror of their cruelties and of their sins. Now he who performs this operation on me does so only through love of God, who takes pleasure in seeing him do so; and I have every reason to be patient, [45] so that God may take pleasure in seeing me suffer, without being offended either by me or by any one." One of our Fathers asked him if he did not fear death. " Not at all," he replied with a joyful countenance; "I desire it with love, for I am anxious to be in Heaven where my heart assures me that God will reward me for my faith, and for the confidence that I have in him. What I dread is sin: but I would rather be burned by the Iroquois, than offend so good a God."

Another named Quentin who had not led a similar life, died almost a similar death. He had been a eurent vn foin [46] comme fi c'euft efté vn Ange defcendu du Ciel: leur charité fit vn miracle, car elle toucha fi viuement le cœur de ce pauure homme, qu'il nous difoit, ouy ie commence à conceuoir les bontez infinies de Dieu voyant la bonté de ces Meres: c'eft Dieu qui leur a donné ces tendreffes pour moy afin de m'obliger à les aymer, & à l'aymer luy-mefme, puis que luy feul eft la fource de cette bonté: il continua iufqu'au dernier foufpir, de dire, IESVS ayez pitié de moy.

Quelques Dames Françoifes, tres-vertueufes & tres-deuotes, m'ayans auerty qu'vne Chreftienne Huronne leur donnoit de la deuotion, priant Dieu tous les jours deuant le fainct Sacrement auec vne douceur qui paroiffoit fur fon vifage, & qui leur donnoit des fentimens de Dieu plus esleuez qu'ils [47] n'en auoient pour l'ordinaire : le demanday à cette femme Huronne quel eftoit l'entretien de fon cœur durant le temps de fa priere: ie ne fçay pas que te refpondre, dit-elle, quand i'ay dit ce que ie fçay de mes prieres, ie fonge à la bonté de Dieu fur moy, ie luy demande qu'il me preferue du peché, & mon cœur luy dit fans aucune parole, qu'il voit bien que c'est tout de bon que ie croy & que i'espere en luy, & que ie veux l'aimer. Mon efprit repose doucement dans cette pensée, ou plustoft dans le plaisir que fent mon ame à demeurer fans dire mot dans la iouyffance d'vn bien que ie ne te puis exprimer: cela fait que i'ay de la peine à guitter la priere, autant & plus qu'auroit vn famelique de quitter vne viande excellente auant que d'en estre rassafié.

Ie puis affeurer auec verité, que [48] ie connois quelques-vns de ces bons Sauuages, qui ont Dieu debauched man, all corrupt with vices, which caused his entire body to rot with intense pain. The Hospital Mothers took care of him [46] as if he had been an Angel come down from Heaven; their charity worked a miracle, for it so deeply touched the heart of this poor man that he said to us: "Yes, I begin to understand the infinite goodness of God, when I see the kindness of these Mothers. It is God who has inspired them with this tenderness for me, so as to compel me to love them, and to love him also, since he alone is the source of that goodness." He continued, until his last breath, to repeat, "JESUS, have pity on me."

Some highly virtuous and devout French Ladies informed me that a Christian Huron woman inspired them with devotion, for she prayed to God every day before the blessed Sacrament, with a tenderness that showed itself on her countenance, and inspired them with higher sentiments toward God than they [47] usually had. I asked that Huron woman what passed in her heart while she was at prayer. "I know not what to answer," she said. "When I have said what I know of my prayers, I think of God's kindness to me; I beg him to preserve me from sin; and my heart says to him, without any words, that he sees very well that I truly believe and hope in him, and that I wish to love him. My mind feels sweet repose in that thought, or, rather, in the pleasure that my soul experiences while remaining in speechless enjoyment of a blessing that I cannot When I have done that, I find it as express. difficult to abandon prayer as a starving man would to give up excellent meat before he has eaten his fill of it, and even more so."

auffi prefent à leur efprit depuis le matin iufqu'au foir, que s'ils le voyoient de leurs yeux, & dont le cœur eft dans des defirs continuels de fe voir tout à luy, à caufe qu'il leur fait bien fentir qu'il fe veut donner tout à eux. D'autres ont leur deuotion à la tres-faincte Vierge, & vn bon Chreftien me difoit il n'y a pas long-temps, que quoy qu'il luy euft demandé depuis plus de dix ans quantité de faueurs & de chofes bien difficiles, il ne fe reffouuenoit pas d'auoir eu iamais fon refus. C'est elle, adioustoit-il, qui m'a deliuré d'entre les mains des Iroquois, qui me tenoient captif auec le Pere Ifaac Iogues, qui enfin y eft mort. C'eft elle qui m'a rendu autant d'enfans que la mort m'en auoit enleué, c'est elle qui depuis le temps des miferes [49] qui nous ont accueilly, a conferué tous ceux de ma famille, & pour la fanté de . leurs corps & pour celle de l'ame. C'eft elle qui me donne la patience dans des douleurs continuelles que ie reffens; c'eft elle qui m'obtient cette grace que ie me mets fort peu en peine des biens de cette vie prefente, & que ie n'en redoute pas les maux: Elle a guery tous ceux pour lefquels ie l'ay inuoquée, & elle fait ce que ie veux, autant que ie desire ne rien faire & ne rien vouloir que ce qu'elle voudra.

Pendant l'incendie des Meres Vrfulines, vne petite fille Huronne qui y demeuroit penfionnaire, n'ayant pû fe trouuer, nous creufmes pour vn temps qu'elle y eftoit bruflée. Le Pere & la mere de cét enfant, tous les parens, quantité de François, & moy-mefme l'ayant cherchée par tout, il ne nous reftoit [50] aucun doute qu'elle ne fut confommée auec la maifon. La refignation à la volonté de Dieu eftoit en cette rencontre vn acte bien heroïque à vn pere & à

I can truly say that [48] I know some of these good Savages who have God as present in their minds, from morning to night, as if they saw him with their eves: and whose hearts live in constant desire of belonging wholly to him, because he has made them feel that he wishes to give himself entirely to them. Others have a devotion for the most blessed Virgin; and a good Christian told me, not long ago, that although he had been asking, for over ten years, for many favors and many things difficult to obtain, he did not remember having ever been refused. "She it is," he added, "who delivered me from the hands of the Iroquois when they held me captive with Father Isaac Jogues, who finally died there; she it is who has given back to me as many children as death had ravished from me: she it is who, ever since misfortunes [49] have assailed us, has preserved all the members of my family, as regards both the health of their bodies and that of their souls. She it is who gives me patience in the sufferings that I constantly endure; she it is who obtains for me grace to pay little heed to the good things of this life, and to fear not its evils; she has cured all those on whose behalf I have invoked her aid: and she does all that I wish, as I desire to do nothing and to wish for nothing except what she wishes."

During the fire at the Ursuline Mothers', a little Huron girl who was a boarder there could not be found; and we thought, for a time, that she was burned. The Father and mother of the child, all the relatives, a number of the French, and myself, sought her everywhere; and we had not [50] the slightest doubt that she was consumed with the vne mere, qui aymoient cette fille comme la prunelle de leurs yeux; ils verserent quantité de larmes, mais auec vne paix & dans vn calme d'efprit qui tefmoignoiet bien que leur cœur trouuoit fon repos en Dieu. Ils fe mirent à genoux, ils luy offrirent leur enfant, & ils s'offroient eux-mesmes à brusler dans vn mefme feu, s'il le vouloit permettre; iamais ils ne dirent aucune parole d'impatience ny de murmure contre qui que ce foit, durant l'espace de deux heures, qu'ils creurent que leur fille eftoit brûlée. La plus rude parole que dit le pere aux premiers fentimens de fa douleur, fut celle-cy, Dieu nous esprouue bien rudement, mais ce [51] nous eft affez qu'il nous ayt fait mifericorde, de nous auoir appellez à la foy. Ma fille est maintenant au Ciel puis qu'elle a esté baptizée, & nous la fuiurons, puis que nous voulons mourir bons Chreftiens. C'eft leur famille qui la premiere dans les Hurons a receu le don de la foy. Cette petite fille nommée Geneuieue ayant efté heureusement retrouué, vn de nos Peres en alla porter la nouuelle aux parens, & fçachant bien la portée de leur foy, pour les éprouuer dauantage il les interrogea des fentimens où ils eftoient. Ce qui m'a touché, dit la mere, ç'a esté l'horreur que i'ay eu des frayeurs & de la douleur qu'a fenty ma pauure fille mourant dans les flammes. Ie n'ay pû empefcher mes larmes à la tendreffe de mon cœur, mais l'efperance qui nous reste de son falut ne nous permet plus [52] de nous plaindre, ny de la plaindre dauantage: elle eft retrouuée, dit le Pere, elle est pleine de vie. Ce fut pour lors que toute la cabane & les parens qui s'y eftoient affemblez ne peurent contenir leurs larmes, mais des larmes de ioye, qui leur fit benir Dieu & de house. Resignation to the will of God was on this occasion a very heroic act for a father and a mother who loved their daughter as the apple of their eve; they shed many tears, but with a peacefulness and calmness of mind that showed very well that their hearts found rest in God. They knelt down and offered him their child, and offered themselves to be burned in the same fire, if he would permit it; they never uttered an impatient word, or murmured against any one, during the space of two hours, while they thought that their child was burned. The harshest word that the father said, on the first outburst of his grief, was this: "God sends us a severe trial, but it is [51] enough for us that he has had mercy on us and has called us to the faith. My daughter is now in Heaven, since she has been baptized; and we will follow her, because we wish to die good Christians." Their family is the first among the Hurons that received the gift of faith. Their little girl, named Genevieve, was fortunately found. One of our Fathers went to take the news to the parents; and, knowing well the depth of their faith, he questioned them as to their sentiments, in order to try them still further. "What touched me most," said the mother, " was the horror that I felt for the fright and pain that my poor daughter must have experienced in dying amid the flames. I could not restrain my tears, through the tenderness of my heart; but the hope that remains to us of her salvation does not allow us [52] to complain, or to pity her any longer." "She is found," said the Father; "she is full of life." Thereupon all in the cabin, and all the relatives who had gathered together there, could not restrain their tears; but they were la vie de cét enfant comme refufcitée, & de fa mort qu'ils luy auoient offerte auec vn cœur vrayement Chreftien. Cette fille est maintenant dans la maison des meres Hospitalieres; il semble que Dieu la vueille pour la Religion.

Vne ieune vefue Chreftienne nommée Cecile Arenhatsi âgée de 23. ans, s'estoit mise comme seruante chez les Meres Vrfulines à deffein de iouyr le plustoft qu'elle pourroit du bon-heur entier de la Religion, elle y auoit amené auec foy vne fille de fix à fept ans, nommée [53] Marie, qui estoit son vnique, mais elles fe voyoient auffi peu que fi la nature n'euft point eu de part en leur amour, la fille estant au Seminaire, & la mere auec les Religieufes. C'eft vn efprit tresbon, vn naturel tres-doux, vne volonté bien meilleure, qui depuis fon bas âge a toujours creu en deuotion, & qui eftant dans les Hurons entendant parler des fainctes filles (c'eft ainfi que les Hurons appellent les Religieufes) tout fon cœur s'y portoit, & le plus pur de ses amours. Elle n'a esté que quatre mois en mariage, toujours elle s'est conferuée innocente au milieu de la corruption, toujours dans la ferueur & dans vne humble fimplicité. Les Meres eftoient rauies de la voir parmy elles, elle contentoit tout le monde & y viuoit contente, voulant contenter Dieu. Elle fust le [54] plus en danger d'estre brussée lors que cette maison brusla: elle se vit inuestie de flammes de tous coftez, elle eftoit au plus haut eftage; fe voyant dans le defefpoir de fe fauuer par aucun autre endroit, elle se ietta par la fenestre & tomba affez heureusement. Ie luy demanday apres les penfées qu'elle auoit eu dans ces flammes: i'auois, refponditelle, offert ma vie à Dieu, ie fusse morte bien contente, tears of joy, which made them praise God both for the life of the child,—whom they looked upon as one risen from the dead,—and for her death, which they had offered to him with truly Christian hearts. This girl is now in the house of the Hospital mothers; it seems as if God has chosen her for Religion.

A young Christian widow, named Cecile Arenhatsi, aged 23 years, had engaged herself as a servant with the Ursuline Mothers in order to enjoy the complete happiness of Religion as soon as she could. She had brought with her a daughter, six or seven years old, named [53] Marie, who was her only child; but they saw each other as seldom as if nature had no share in their love,-the daughter being at the Seminary, and the mother with the Nuns. She has an excellent mind, a very gentle disposition, and a much better will; and from infancy she has always been a devout believer. While she was in the Huron country, she heard of "the holy virgins" (thus the Hurons call the Nuns), and her whole heart and her purest love turned toward them. She had been married only four months, and always preserved her innocence in the midst of corruption,-remaining ever fervent, and in humble simplicity. The Mothers were delighted to see her among them; she gave satisfaction to all, and lived there content because she wished to satisfy God. She ran the [54] greatest danger of being burned, when the house was destroved by fire. She found herself surrounded by flames on all sides, for she was on the highest story; despairing of escape in any other way, she threw herself out of the window, and fell without injury. I afterward asked her what her thoughts were while she was amid the flames. "I had offered my life to mais ie creu que Dieu m'obligeoit de me fauuer le pouuant faire, ie ne fongeois qu'à luy, & ie craignois auffi que mes pechez n'euffent efté caufe que ce malheur ne fuft arriué à des filles fi fainctes, de la compagnie defquelles ie fuis fi indigne. Elle attend auec patience & amour que ces bonnes Meres foient rebafties, & elle efpere bien ne mourir iamais qu'auec elles. Outre cela elle ne [55] peut rien goufter, & cette penfée la confole, & va toujours de plus en plus animant les ferueurs de fa deuotion.

Cét incendie me fait fouuenir des reffentimens que tefmoignerent les Hurons, & des compaffions qu'ils eurent pour les Meres Vrfulines en cette occafion. La façon des Sauuages eft de porter quelques prefens publics pour confoler les perfonnes d'vn plus grand merite dans les mal-heurs qui les ont accueilly. Nos Chreftiens Hurons s'affemblerent pour cét effet, & n'ayans point de plus grandes richeffes que deux coliers de porcelene, chacun de douze cent grains, (ce font les perles du païs) ils vont trouuer les Meres, qui pour lors s'eftoient retirées à l'Hofpital & leur portent ces deux coliers pour leur en faire deux prefens. Vn Capitaine nommé [56] Louys Taiaeronk parla au nom de tous fes compatriotes en ces termes.

Vous voyez fainctes filles, de pauures carcaffes, les reftes d'vn païs qui a efté floriffant, & qui n'eft plus: du païs des Hurons, nous auons efté deuorez & rongez iufques aux os par la guerre & par la famine: ces carcaffes ne fe tiennent debout qu'à caufe que vous les fouftenez, vous l'auiez apris par des lettres, & maintenant vous le voyez de vos yeux, à quelle extremité de miferes nous fommes venus. Regardez nous de tous coftez, & confiderez s'il y a rien en nous qui God," she replied; "I would have been content to die, but I thought that God obliged me to save myself, if I could. I thought of him alone; and I feared also that my sins had caused this misfortune to happen to virgins so holy, of whose company I am so unworthy." She waits, patiently and lovingly, until the good Mothers have rebuilt their house; and hopes that she will not die elsewhere than with them. Beyond that, she [55] takes pleasure in nothing; that thought consoles her, and ever increases the fervor of her devotion.

That fire reminds me of the sentiments manifested by the Hurons, and of the compassion that they felt for the Ursuline Mothers, on that occasion. It is a custom among the Savages to carry public presents to console persons of higher position in the misfortunes that assail them. Our Christian Hurons met together for that purpose; and, as they had no other riches than two porcelain collars, each consisting of twelve hundred beads (these are the pearls of the country), they went to the Mothers, who were then living at the Hospital and carried these two collars to them as two presents. A Captain, named [56] Louys Taiaeronk, spoke as follows, in the name of all his countrymen:

"Holy virgins, you see before you miserable carcasses, the remnant of a country that once was flourishing and that is no more, the country of the Hurons. We have been devoured and gnawed to the very bones, by war and famine. These carcasses are able to stand only because you support them. You have learned from letters, and now you see with your own eyes, to what extreme misery we are reduced. Look at us on all sides, and consider ne nous oblige de pleurer fur nous-mefmes, & de verfer fans ceffe des torrens de larmes. Helas ce funeste accident qui vous est arriué, va rengregeant nos maux & renouuelant nos larmes, qui commençoient à tarir! Auoir veu reduite [57] en cendre en vn moment cette belle maifon de IESVS, cette maifon de charité, y auoir veu regner le feu fans refpecter vos perfonnes toutes fainctes qui y habitiez; c'est ce qui nous fait reffouuenir de l'incendie vniuersel de toutes nos maifons, de toutes nos bourgades, & de toute nostre patrie. Faut-il donc que le feu nous fuiue ainfi par tout? Pleurons, pleurons, mes chers compatriotes, ouy pleurons nos miferes, qui de particulieres font deuenuës communes auec ces innocentes filles. Sainctes filles, vous voila donc reduites à la mefme mifere, que vos pauures Hurons, pour qui vous auez eu des compaffions fi tendres. Vous voila fans patrie, fans maifon, fans prouifion, & fans fecours, finon du Ciel, que iamais vous ne perdez de veuë: Nous fommes entrez icy dans le deffein de vous y cofoler, & [58] auant que d'y venir, nous fommes entrez dans vos cœurs, pour y reconnoistre ce qui pourroit dauantage les affliger depuis voftre incendie: afin d'y apporter quelque remede. Si nous auions affaire à des perfonnes femblables à nous, la couftume de noftre païs euft efté de vous faire vn prefent pour effuyer vos larmes: & vn fecond pour affermir voftre courage: mais nous auons bien veu que vos courages n'ont iamais efté abbatus fous les ruines de cette maifon, & pas vn de nous n'a pû voir mefme vne demy larme qui ait paru deffus vos yeux, pour pleurer fur vous mesme à la veuë de cette infortune. Vos cœurs ne s'attristent pas dans la perte des biens de la terre, whether there is anything in us that does not compel us to weep for ourselves, and to shed unceasing torrents of tears. Alas! this sad accident that has happened to you increases our woes and renews our tears, which had commenced to dry. The sight [57] of that beautiful house of JESUS, that house of charity, reduced to ashes in an instant; the sight of the flames raging there without respecting your holy persons who dwelt there,-all this has brought back to our minds the universal destruction by fire of all our houses, of all our villages, and of the whole of our country. Must fire follow us everywhere? Let us weep, let us weep, my beloved countrymen; yes, let us weep for our misfortunes which were solely ours before, but which we now share in common with these innocent maids. Holy virgins, you are now reduced to the same state of misery as your poor Hurons, for whom you have had such tender compassion. You are now without a country, without a house, without provisions, and without succor except from Heaven, of which you never lose sight. We have come here for the purpose of consoling you; and, [58] before coming here, we have entered into your hearts, to see what might afflict you still more since your fire, so as to apply some remedy to it. If we had to deal with persons like ourselves, the custom of our country would have been to make you a present to dry your tears, and another to strengthen your courage; but we have observed that your courage has never been cast down under the ruins of that house, and not one of us has seen even half a tear in your eyes in lamentation over yourselves at the sight of that misfortune. Your hearts do not sorrow for the loss of earthly goods: we see that they are raised nous les voyons trop efleuez dans les defirs des biens du ciel: & ainfi de ce costé là nous ny cherchons aucun remede. Nous ne [59] craignons rien qu'vne chofe, qui feroit vn mal-heur pour nous; nous craignons que la nouuelle de l'accident qui vous eft arriué, eftant portée en France, ne foit fenfible à vos parens plus qu'à vous-mefme; nous craignons qu'ils ne vous rappellent, & que vous ne foyez attendries de leurs larmes. Le moyen qu'vne mere puisse lire fans pleurer, les lettres qui luy feront sçauoir que fa fille est demeurée fans vestemens, fans viures, fans lict, & fans les douceurs de la vie, dans lesquelles vous auez efté efleuées dés voftre ieuneffe? les premieres penfées que la nature fournira à ces meres toutes defolées, c'eft de vous rappeler aupres d'elles, & de fe procurer à elles-mefmes la plus grande confolation qu'elles puiffent receuoir au monde, procurant auffi voftre bien. Vn frere fera le mesme pour sa sœur, [60] vn oncle & vne tante pour fa niece, & en fuite nous ferons en danger de vous perdre, & de perdre en vos perfonnes le fecours que nous auions esperé pour l'instruction de nos filles à la foy, dont nous auons commencé auec tant de douceur de gouster les fruits. Courage, fainctes filles, ne vous laiffez pas vaincre par l'amour des parens, & faites paroiftre auiourd'huy que la charité que vous auez pour nous, est plus forte que les liens de la nature. Pour affermir en cela vos refolutions, voicy vn prefent de douze cens grains de pourcelene, qui enfoncera vos pieds fi auant dans la terre de ce païs, qu'aucun amour de vos parés, ny de voftre patrie ne les en puiffe retirer. Le fecond prefent que nous vous prions d'agreer, c'eft d'vn colier femblable de douze cens grains de too high in the desire of heavenly blessings; and therefore we seek for no remedy in that respect. We [50] fear but one thing which would be a misfortune for us: we fear that, when the news of the accident. that has happened to you reaches France, it will affect your relatives more than it does yourselves: we fear that they will recall you and that you will be moved by their tears. How can a mother read, without weeping, letters telling her that her daughter is without clothes, without food, without a bed, and without the comforts of life in which you have been brought up from youth? The first thought that nature will inspire in those disconsolate mothers will be to recall you to them, and to procure for themselves the greatest consolation that they can have in the world, thereby procuring also your good. A brother would do the same for his sister; [60] an uncle and an aunt for their niece; and afterward we would be in danger of losing you, and of losing in your persons the assistance for which we had hoped in the instruction of our daughters in the faith, the fruits whereof we have begun to taste with such enjoyment. Courage, holy virgins! do not allow yourselves to be persuaded by love of kindred; and show now that the charity that you have for us is stronger than the ties of nature. To strengthen you in these resolutions, here is a present of twelve hundred porcelain beads which will root your feet so deeply in the soil of this country that no love for your kindred or for your own country can withdraw them from it. The second present, which we beg you to accept, is a similar collar of twelve hundred porcelain beads, to lay [61] the foundation of an entirely new building wherein shall be the house of pourcelene, pour ietter de nouueaux [61] fondemens à vn baftiment tout nouueau, où fera la maifon de IESVS, la maifon de prieres, & où feront vos claffes, dans lefquelles vous puiffiez inftruire nos petites filles Huronnes. Ce font là nos defirs, ce font les voftres, car fans doute vous ne pourriez mourir contentes, fi en mourant on vous pouuoit faire ce reproche, que pour l'amour trop tendre de vos parens, vous n'euffiez pas aidé au falut de tant d'ames que vous auez aimées pour Dieu, & qui feront voftre couronne dans le Ciel.

Voila la harangue que fit ce Capitaine Huron, ie n'y adjoufte rien, & mefme ie n'y puis ioindre la grace que luy donnoit le ton de fa voix, & les regards de fon vifage. La nature à fon eloquence, & quoy qu'ils foient Barbares, ils n'ont pas dépouillé ny l'eftre d'homme, ny la [62] raifon, ny vne ame de . mefme extraction que les noftres.

DE LA MISSION DE TADOUSSAC.

L Pere Charles Albanel a paffé tout l'Hyuer, c'eft à dire, fix mois entiers auec les Chreftiens Montagnets, qui n'ont point en tout ce temps-là de demeure affeurée: ils vont errans dedans les bois, grimpans au fommet des montagnes d'vne prodigieufe hauteur, pour y chercher les Orignaux, les Caribous, & les beftes fauuages. Dans ces fatigues il y a beaucoup à fouffrir de la faim, de la foif, & des froids exceffifs, des laffitudes & des dégouts, de la fumée qui vous aueugle, qui vous caufe des douleurs cuifantes, & tout cela fans confolation, fans douceurs, & fans aucun appuy pour la nature. JESUS, the house of prayer; wherein your classes will be held, in which you may teach our little Huron girls. Such are our desires; they are likewise yours, for doubtless you could not die happy if, when dying, this reproach could be cast at you that, through too tender a love for your relatives, you had not contributed to the salvation of so many souls which you have loved for the sake of God, and which will be your crown in Heaven."

Such was the harangue delivered by that Huron Captain. I have added nothing to it; and, in fact, I cannot add the charm imparted to it by the tone of his voice and the expression of his countenance. Nature has its own eloquence; and, though they be Barbarians, they have not been stripped either of man's being or [62] of reason, or of a soul of the same origin as ours.

OF THE TADOUSSAC MISSION.

FATHER Charles Albanel passed the entire Winter—that is, six whole months—with the Christian Montagnais, who during the whole of that time have no fixed abode. They wander through the woods, and climb the summits of mountains of prodigious height, hunting for Moose, Caribou, and other wild animals. In these fatiguing journeys, one suffers much from hunger, from thirst, from excessive cold, from weariness and loathing, and from the smoke, which blinds one and causes intense pain; and this without consolation, without comforts, and without any support for nature. One must [63] be sustained by grace alone; it is true that God's presence often brings much delight in the midst of this abandonment and this renouncement of de cét abandon, & de ce dépoüillement des creatures, auffi grand quafi qu'il puiffe eftre; mais fouuent auffi il fe cache, & laiffe vne ame dans l'épreuue: quoy qu'il en foit, c'eft vn employ toujours heureux pour ceux que Noftre Seigneur y appelle, & neceffaire pour nos pauures Sauuages, qui en tout temps & en tout lieu ont befoin de noftre fecours, puis que par tout les tentations peuuent les fuiure, & que toujours Dieu eft preft de refpandre fur eux fes graces.

Dés le commencement de l'Efté, le mesme Pere, à peine avant pris dix iours de repos, est retourné en la Miffion de Tadouffac, pour tout l'Efté, où n'ayant pû fuffire feul, vn autre s'eft ioint de compagnie. I1 [64] s'y est trouué cette année plus de huict cens perfonnes, le nombre des Chreftiens s'eftant notablement accreu, comme auffi leur ferueur & leur innocence. Ils ont efté pour la pluspart accueillis d'vn rheume fort fascheux, qui a regné tout le mois de Iuillet en ces quartiers-là, & qui en quelques-vns eftoit accompagné d'vne fievre maligne & continuë. C'eftoit vne ioye à nos Peres, qui n'en furent pas exempts eux-mefmes, entrant dans ces pauures cabanes, d'y trouuer fouuent ces bons Neophytes dãs le plus fort de leurs douleurs, le Chapelet en main, les yeux tournez au Ciel, ou vers vne image de Noftre Dame, attachée à vne efcorce à cofté de leur lict: c'eftoit vne confolation les furprenant d'entendre leurs prieres. Ouy, mon Dieu, difoit l'vn, mes pechez ont merité ce [65] chastiment. Que mes douleurs augmentent, pourueu que mon peché foit pardonné: faites-moy, mon Dieu, mifericorde. O mon Dieu, difoit l'autre, que le feu d'Enfer est bien plus ardent que celuy de ma fievre, fortifiez mon cœur, mon bon creatures, which is almost as complete as possible; but frequently also he hides himself, and leaves a soul in the midst of trials. In any case it is an employment that is always agreeable to those whom Our Lord calls to it; and a necessary one for our poor Savages, who at all times and in all places need our help, because temptations can follow them everywhere, and God is ever ready to pour forth his graces on them.

In the very beginning of the Summer, the same Father, who had hardly taken ten days of rest, returned to the Tadoussac Mission for the whole Summer. As he could not attend to it alone, another became his companion. There [64] were over eight hundred persons there this year, for the number of Christians has increased to a remarkable degree, and so have their fervor and their innocence. Most of them were attacked by very bad colds, which prevailed throughout the month of July in that quarter, and were accompanied in some cases by a malignant and continuous fever. It was a joy for our Fathers, who were not exempt from it themselves, when they entered the wretched cabins, frequently to find these good Neophytes, in the midst of their keenest sufferings, with their Rosaries in their hands, their eyes turned toward Heaven, or toward a picture of Our Lady attached to a piece of bark beside their beds. It was a consolation, on surprising them, to hear their prayers. "Yes, oh my God!" one would say, "my sins have deserved this [65] punishment. Let my pains increase provided my sin be forgiven. Have mercy, my God, on me." "Oh, my God," another would say, " how much more ardent is the fire of Hell than that of my fever! Strengthen my heart. IESVS, afin que ie fouffre courageusement celuy-cy, & ne permettez pas que ie tombe dans l'autre.

DE LA MISSION DES OUMAMIOÜEK.

DNUIRON quatre-vingts lieuës plus bas que Tadouf-C fac, ayant apris que quelques Sauuages plus efloignez s'y deuoient affembler, le Pere Iean Dequen fe ietta dans vn petit canot d'efcorce pour y aller prescher l'Euangile, & faire vne Mission volante: malgré les vagues & les tempestes il y arriua dans fa petite gondole, mais vn peu tard, [66] plusieurs s'eftans defia retirez dans les bois, & n'y reftant qu'vn petit nombre fur le bord du grand fleuue de fainct Laurens. Le Pere dans le peu de temps qu'il fut là. baptiza les enfans que les parens luy prefentoient tres-volontiers; il y confessa quelques Chreftiens, qui depuis fix & fept ans auoient receu le fainct Baptefme à Tadouffac, mais n'auoient pû y retourner depuis ce temps-là. Il inftruisit les autres des fondemens de noftre foy, leur promettant vne nouuelle visite pour le Printemps prochain. Ce font peuples d'vne simplicité fort innocente, qui écoutent tresvolontiers la parole de Dieu, qui font aifez à gagner à la foy, mais auffi il est difficile à nous de les chercher, & à eux de venir iufques à nous.

[67] DE LA MISSION DES ABNAQUIOIS.

S^{VR} la fin du mois d'Aouft de l'an paffé 1650. deux canots Abnaquiois eftans venus exprés de la part de toute la Nation pour querir le Pere Gabriel Drueillettes, qui les auoit defia inftruits, afin qu'il continuât à leur rendre cette charité: le Pere y retourna auec vn de nos domeftiques. A vray dire, my good JESUS, that I may endure this one patiently, and permit not that I fall into the other."

 $\mathbf{224}$

OF THE OUMAMIOUEK MISSION.

TAVING learned that some of the more remote Savages were to meet at a place about eighty leagues below Tadoussac, Father Jean Dequen embarked in a small bark canoe, to preach the Gospel and to hold a flying Mission. In spite of the waves and tempests, he reached that place in his little gondola; but was somewhat late, [66] for many had already retired into the woods, and only a small number remained on the bank of the great river saint Lawrence. During his short stay there, the Father baptized the children, whom the parents brought to him very willingly. He heard the confessions of several Christians who had received holv Baptism, six or seven years previously, at Tadoussac, but had not been able to return there since that time. He instructed the others in the principles of our faith, promising to visit them again in the following Spring. These are people of most innocent simplicity who listen very willingly to the word of God, and who are easily won over to the faith: but it is also difficult for us to seek them, or for them to come to us.

[67] OF THE ABNAQUIOIS MISSION.

A BOUT the end of August of last year, 1650, two Abnaquiois canoes came expressly, on the part of that entire Nation, to get Father Gabriel Drueillettes, who had already instructed them, in order that he might continue to render them that charitable service. The Father returned to them with one of ce district là n'estoit pas de nostre reffort, finon autant que le zele nous obligeoit de ne pas abandonner des gens de bonne volonté, disposez à la foy, mais qui n'auoient presentement que nous pour les instruire. Vne lettre d'vn R. P. Capucin, nommé le P. Cofme de Mante, Superieur en l'Acadie des Miffions des Reuerends Peres Capucins, dattée de l'année 1648. nous y encouragea [68] beaucoup; les paroles de la lettre eftoient: Nous coniurons vos Reuerences par la facrée dilection de Iefus & de Marie, pour le falut de ces pauures ames qui vous demandent vers le Sud, &c. de leur donner toutes les affiftances que voftre charité courageuse & infatigable leur pourra donner, & mefme fi en paffant à la riuiere de Kinibequi vous y rencontriez des nostres, vous nous ferez plaisir de leur manifester vos besoins, que si vous n'en rencontriez point vous continuerez, s'il vous plaift, vos fainctes instructions enuers ces pauures Barbares, & abandonnez, autant que vostre charité le pourra permettre, &c.

Le P. Gabriel Drueilletes partit donc de Quebec pour cette Miffion le premier de Septembre 1650 accompagné de Noël Tekoüerimat, [69] chef des Chreftiens de Sillery, qui faifoit ce voyage pour l'entretien de la paix auec ces peuples qui font dans les terres, & auec d'autres plus efloignez qui font dans la nouuelle Angleterre, à deffein de folliciter les vns & les autres à faire enfemble la guerre aux Iroquois. Le Pere ne retourna de ce voyage qu'au commencement de Iuin, & enuiron quinze iours apres il y fut renuoyé pour le mefme deffein, dont il n'eft pas encore de retour. Ainfi ie ne puis dire, ny le fuccés de fon voyage, ny ce que Dieu y a fait par fon moyen, our donnés. To tell the truth, this district was not within our jurisdiction, except in so far as zeal compelled us not to abandon people of good will, who were inclined toward the faith, but who at that time had no one but us to instruct them. A letter from a Reverend Capuchin Father, named Father Cosme de Mante, Superior of the Acadian Missions of the Reverend Capuchin Fathers, dated in the year 1648, greatly encouraged us thereto.58 [68] The words of the letter were: "We entreat your Reverences, through the holy love of Jesus and Mary, for the salvation of those poor souls, who beg for you toward the South, etc., to give them every assistance that your courageous and indefatigable charity can give them: and even if, in crossing the river Kinibequi, you should meet any of ours, you will please us by mentioning your needs to them; and, if you meet none, you will please continue your holy instructions to these poor abandoned Barbarians, as much as your charity will permit," etc.

Father Gabriel Drueilletes started, therefore, from Quebec for that Mission on the first of September, 1650, accompanied by Noël Tekouerimat, [69] the chief of the Sillery Christians. This last undertook the journey for the purpose of maintaining peace with these tribes who live inland, and with others, still more distant, who are in new England, with the view of soliciting them to join in war against the Iroquois. The Father did not return from that journey until the beginning of June; and, about a fortnight afterward, he was sent back on the same errand, from which he has not yet returned. Thus I can tell neither what has been the success of his journey, nor what God has done by his means; but mais ce que ie fçay bien, c'est qu'il a eu beaucoup à fouffrir. In itineribus sape, periculis sluminum, periculis latronum, periculis ex genere, periculis ex gentibus, periculis in ciuitate, periculis in solitudine, periculis in mari, periculis in falsis fratribus, in labore & arumna, in vigiliis multis, in [70] same & siti, in iciuniis multis, in frigore & nuditate. Le meilleur est quoy qu'il arriue, que Dieu en sera à iamais sa trop grande recompense.

DE LA MISSION DES ATTIKAMEGUES.

L^A plus laborieufe, mais auffi comme ie crois, vne des plus aimables de nos Miffions a efté celle qu'on a fait aux Attikamegues, que nous auons nommé la Miffion de fainct Pierre. Il y a defia quelques années que ces peuples là ont commencé à fe faire instruire, & qu'ils ont embrassé la foy auec vne ferueur, vne douceur, vne fimplicité, & vne fermeté fi grande, qu'il femble qu'elle leur foit comme naturelle, & que leur cœur n'ait point d'autres inclinations que pour le Christianisme, mais depuis ce teps-là il n'y auoit eu que ceux qui nous [71] eftoient venus trouuer aux trois Riuieres, à Sillery, ou bien à Tadouffac, qui euffent receu le baptefme, & qui fuffent Chreftiens. Nos Peres n'ayans pû encore les aller voir dans leur païs pour y porter la lumiere de l'Euangile. C'eft ce qu'ils ont demandé cette année auec des pourfuites fi fainctes, & des impatiences fi aimables, qu'enfin leur deffein a efté accomply. Le Pere Iaques Buteux ayant efté celuy qui iufqu'à maintenant leur a donné les instructions, & ensemble le veritable efprit du Chriftianifme, y fut enuoyé. Le peu de fanté qu'il a eu de tout temps, ou plustoft fa what I know well is, that he has had much to suffer. In itineribus sæpe, periculis fluminum, periculis latronum, periculis ex genere, periculis ex gentibus, periculis in civitate, periculis in solitudine, periculis in mari, periculis in falsis fratribus, in labore et ærumna, in vigiliis multis, in [70] fame et siti, in jejuniis multis, in frigore et nuditate. The best of it is that, whatever may happen, God will forever be his too great recompense.

OF THE ATTIKAMEGUES MISSION.

THE most laborious but also, as I believe, one of the most agreeable of our Missions, has been that among the Attikamegues, which we have named "the Mission of saint Peter." It is now some years ago since those people began to have themselves instructed; and since then they have embraced the faith with a fervor, a gentleness, a simplicity, and a firmness so great that it seems as if it were natural to them, and that their hearts had no inclination for anything but Christianity. However, since that time, only those who [71] have come to us at three Rivers, at Sillery, or at Tadoussac, have received baptism and become Christians, because our Fathers could not go to their country to carry the light of the Gospel thither. That is what they asked this year,with such holy importunities and such lovable impatience, that finally their desires have been fulfilled. Father Jaques Buteux, who had hitherto instructed them and taught them the true spirit of Christianity, was sent there. His health which has always been delicate,-or, rather, his great weakness when he came to these countries, seventeen years ago, and which continual fatigues and age have greatly increased, --- caused us to doubt whether it would not be grande foibleffe, auec laquelle il vint en ces païs il y a dix-fept ans, & que les fatigues continuelles & l'âge ont accru de beaucoup, nous auoient fait douter fi ce ne feroit point imprudence de l'expofer dans vn voyage [72] fi penible, & en vn temps le plus fascheux de toute l'année. Mais enfin nous nous fommes confiez en Dieu, & la grace l'a emporté au deffus du raisonnement naturel, s'agiffant d'vne affaire ou la grace peut tout, & où la nature ne peut rien. Le Pere fut donc auerty pour ce voyage, qui a esté de trois mois entiers, où les croix ne luy ont pas manqué, mais auffi en a il cueilly les fruits de la Croix, felon qu'il paroistra dans fon iournal, que ie l'ay prié de m'écrire, & qu'il a fait auec la fimplicité que ie defi-L'ayant leu auec fatisfaction, i'ay creu ne rois. pouuoir rien faire de mieux, que de le ioindre icy tel qu'il me l'a donné.

 $\mathbf{230}$

imprudent to expose him on so laborious a journey, [72] and at the most disagreeable season of the entire year. But, in the end, we placed our trust in God; and grace supported him beyond what could reasonably be expected, as this was a matter in which grace can do everything, and nature can do nothing. The Father was therefore given notice for that expedition, which lasted three whole months, - wherein crosses did not fail him, but wherein he has also gathered the fruits of the Cross, as will be seen by his journal, which I begged him to write for me, which he has done, with the simplicity that I desired. Having read it with satisfaction, I thought that I could not do better than insert it here, just as he has given it to me.

The original MS. of this letter of the Associates of the Company of New France to the father general (under date of June, 1651), rests in the archives of the Society, where it was copied by Father Martin. His copy was used in the publication of Carayon's Première Mission, where it appears on pp. 254-256. We follow Carayon.

The original of Druillettes' brief letter in Latin, to Governor John Winthrop (without place or date, but written early in 1651, as we see from a reference thereto in the Narré), was, in 1864, found in the family archives of the Winthrop family, of Boston. It was published in September of that year, by John Gilmary Shea, in his so-called Cramoisy series; in the Lenox catalogue, it is, for convenience, styled No. 24 of that series, therefore is known to bibliographers by that number. Shea acknowledges aid from Charles Deane in procuring the letter, and says that Charles Folsom transcribed it from the original and corrected the proofs. A second edition was issued in 1869. We follow the first Shea publication (1864), having been unable to locate the original, which seems to have been either lost or mislaid in the Winthrop archives. Our translation is by l'Abbé Lionel Lindsay, chaplain of the Ursuline convent, Quebec.

Druillettes' Narré du Voyage was first published by James Lenox, at the Albany press of Weed, Parsons & Co., 1855. He stated that this publication was pour la première fois from the original manuscript deposited in the Bureau of the Jesuits' Estates, in Quebec. In pursuance of our policy of resorting to the originals whenever these are obtainable, our representative applied at the bureau, in September, 1897, for permission to copy the Narré. He was informed that all the documents of the bureau had been transferred to the Crown Lands Department, in the Parliament Buildings; but application to the custodian of the latter revealed the fact that nothing was there known of the Narré—it had disappeared. This obliges us to reprint from the Lenox issue.

In reprinting Ragueneau's Relation of 1650-51 (Paris, 1652), we follow the original Cramoisy edition from a copy in the possession of The Burrows Brothers Company, Cleveland; it is identical with the Lamoignon copy in the Lenox library. The "Permifsion" from Charles Lalemant, as vice-provincial, was '' Faict à Paris ce 3. iour de Fevrier 1652.'' This annual is generally referred to as '' H. 97,'' because described in Harrisse's Notes, no. 97.

Collation: Title, with verso blank, I leaf; "Table des Chapitres," with "Priuilege" on the verso, I leaf; prefatory letter from Ragueneau to the provincial, Claude de Lingendes, pp. I-3; text, pp. 4-146; "Permifsion," with verso blank, I leaf. The "Journal du Pere Iacques Buteux" covers pp. 73-126; his "Lettre," etc. from Three Rivers covers pp. 126-138; and the epistle of Martin Lyonne, dated "A la Rochelle ce 27. de Decembre 1651," covers pp. 139-146. The volume has two preliminary leaves, not marked with signatures, consisting of title, and leaf with contents and privilege; sig. A–H in eights, I and K in fours, and L in two. The pagination of p. 32 has been omitted by the printer. There is no mispaging.

This Relation may be found in the following libraries: Lenox, Harvard, New York State Library, Brown (private), Ayer (private), Laval University (Quebec), Library of Parliament (Ottawa), Public Library of Toronto, British Museum, and Bibliothèque Nationale (Paris). Copies have been sold or priced as follows: Harrassowitz (1882), priced at 120 marks; O'Callaghan (1882), no. 1229, sold for $25; Barlow (1890), nos. 1300 and 1301, sold for $32.50 and $5, respectively; Dufossé (1891–1896), priced at 225, 175, and 300 francs, at various times.

NOTES TO VOL. XXXVI

(Figures in parentheses, following number of note, refer to pages of English text.)

1 (p. 53) .-- For sketch of Druillettes, see vol. xxiii., note 11.

2 (p. 73).-Regarding the history and policy of the Hundred Associates, see vol. iv., note 21; vol. vii., note 18; vol. viii., note 4. From the outset, this company favored the Jesuits,-at first, probably in consequence of Richelieu's preference for this order; later, for various financial reasons. One of these was the fact that the Jesuits were not-like the Récollets, their predecessors-a mendicant order; having funds of their own, they entailed upon the company much less expense for their support. Moreover, their missionary labors opened up many tribes of the West and North to French influence, and thus extended the range of the fur trade; and the ascendancy they had gained over the savages was one of the chief influences in preserving peace between these and the French. All these considerations very naturally explain the preference of the Hundred Associates for a Jesuit bishop in Canada. Their request, however, was refused by the general of the order (Goswin Nickel), its rule debarring members from accepting ecclesiastical dignities. No further steps were taken at this time in the establishment of a Canadian bishopric, owing to political disorders in France, which engrossed the attention of the government .- See Rochemonteix's Jésuites, t. ii., pp. 162-202.

3 (p. 75).— This letter is addressed to John Winthrop, junior (son of the John Winthrop who was governor of Massachusetts during most of the time from 1629 until his death, Mar. 26, 1649); he had come from England in 1635, commissioned as governor of Connecticut, and was long one of the most influential and public-spirited members of that colony. Through his efforts were established various settlements therein, that on Pequot (now Thames) River being commenced in 1646; in 1658, this was named New London. Winthrop was repeatedly elected governor of Connecticut, and was, at various times, the representative of that colony in the Congress of the Confederation, and its agent in England. He died Apr. 2, 1676.

The proposals made to the governor of Canada in 1647, referred to in our text, were made by Governor Winthrop of Massachusetts, in regard to the improvement and extension of commercial relations between the English and French colonies in North America; but his death prevented the execution of this project.—See Hazard's Historical Collections (Phila., 1794), vol. ii., p. 182.

4 (p. 79).—Moaghs: Mohawks, called Maquas by the Dutch, and Agniers by the French (vol. viii., p. 300). Forty-four variants of these appellations are given in index to N. Y. Colon. Docs.

5 (p. 79).— Druillettes here refers to the part taken by the English in a war between Indian tribes in 1645. A large force of Narragansetts attacked the Mohicans (vol. xxvi., note 4) living along Pequot River, who were allies of the English; a body of troops was forthwith sent against the former tribe, who were thus compelled to make a treaty of peace with both English and Mohicans.

6 (p. 83).— Narantsouat (Nanrantsouak) is an Indian name, afterward corrupted to Norridgewock; according to the definition given by Sabatis, a Kennebec Indian, to Rev. Paul Coffin in 1797 (Maine Hist. Colls., vol. iv., p. 379) it means "still water." Maurault, however, says (Abénakis, p. 5) that Nurhântsuaks, the name of the local tribe, means "those who travel by water." These are the Abenakis known earlier as Canibas, a variant of Kennebec (vol. ii., note 2); but, when driven up the river by the coming of white men, they made their principal residence at Nanrantsouak or Norridgewock, a name applied also to the tribe.

The first English settlement below this Indian village was Koussinok (Coussinoc, Cushnoc), where now stands Augusta, the capital of Maine; it was founded in 1629, as a trading post, by William Bradford and other Plymouth colonists. For a considerable time, the establishment carried on an extensive trade in peltries with the Indians; but troubles with the latter frequently arose, diminishing and finally destroying the trade, and this settlement, with most others in Maine, was abandoned,—probably before the beginning of King Philip's war (1675).

7 (p. 85).— John Winslow, brother of Edward, came to America in November, 1621, at the age of twenty-four. He became one of the leading members of the Plymouth colony, his name frequently appearing in its records from 1640 to 1651. In 1656, he removed with his family to Boston, where he was a prominent merchant and ship-owner; he died there in 1674.

8 (p. 87).—Edward Winslow, born Oct. 20, 1595, was one of the leaders of the Plymouth colony (1620); and one of the "assistants" in its government, from 1624 to 1647 (except 1633, 1636, and 1644, when he served as governor). He appears to have had the principal oversight of the commercial affairs of the colony, and often undertook trading expeditions to the Penobscot, Kennebec, and Connecticut rivers. He also acted as agent in England for both Plymouth and Massachusetts, in which capacity he remained abroad after 1646, until his death in 1655. In this connection may be mentioned his labors in behalf of the civilization and conversion of the Indians; the "brotherhood" mentioned by Druillettes was the "Society for Propagating the Gospel among the Indians" (chartered July 27, 1649), a corporation established mainly through Winslow's efforts. This society, in connection with the commissioners of the United Colonies, supported missions among the Indians, printed Bibles and other books in their language, and maintained schools for their instruction.

9 (p. 87).—Maremiten: a phonetic rendering of "Merrymeeting," a bay thus named by the English because it was a place of rendezvous for the Indian tribes located on the five rivers (chief among these the Kennebec) discharging their waters therein; here they held their councils and feasts. This bay was called by the Indians Quabacook.—Maine Hist. Colls., vol. iii., pp. 312, 313.

Temeriscau: Damariscove, an island at the mouth of Boothbay Harbor, and, at that early time, an important fishing-station.

Kepane: a phonetic rendering of "Cape Ann."

10 (p. 87).— Gebin (Guebin, Quebin): the imperfectly phonetized surname of Edward Gibbons, a Boston merchant; he was also commander at this time of the Boston militia, and at various times occupied positions of responsibility in the Massachusetts colony. See sketch of his career in Palfrey's History of New England (Boston, 1858-90), vol. ii., pp. 225, 226.

II (p. 87).—My pereira: this epithet is thus explained by Shea, whose translation of this document appears in N. Y. Hist. Colls., and series, vol. iii., part I (N. Y., 1857), pp. 303-320: "An allusion to Pereira, a Portuguese merchant, the devoted friend of St. Francis Xavier, the Apostle of the Indies. It may be that Winslow had called Druillettes his Xavier; and that the Missionary, in turn, gave him that of Pereira."

This document (as explained in Bibliographical Data for the present volume) we reprint from the Lenox issue of 1855; but it was again published by Shea in 1866, in Recueil de Pièces sur la Negociation entre la Nouvelle France et la Nouvelle Angleterre (Cramoisy series, no. 19). He therein states that "the late Abbé Ferland possessed another copy [of the Narré], which exhibits some variations," a list of which Shea gives, at the end of the Recueil. In the Ferland copy, the word pereira is replaced by parein, "godfather." The following list embraces the more important of these variations, reference being made to original pagination of Lenox issue (bracketed in our text): P. 8, line 5; for second [blank space], read demie lieue. Shea also reprints in the same volume a letter from Druillettes, in Ferland's possession, - published by the latter in his Notes sur les Registres de Nôtre-Dame de Quebec (2nd ed., Quebec, 1863), pp. 95-97,-wherein the Jesuit envoy gives these interesting particulars about the English colonies: "All New England is one commonwealth, composed of four colonies. The chief and most important of these is Boston, which has, it is said, 40 towns or villages within its jurisdiction or district. The second is that of Pleymoutch, 14 leagues from here; it has 20 towns or villages, of which Pleymoutch is the principal,- but much smaller than Boston, although it is the oldest of all the towns; it is situated toward Cape Malebarre [Cod]. The third is that of Kenetigouc [Connecticut], 30 or 40 leagues from the second; this has about 10 towns, of which one alone has, they say, 500 men. Kenetigouc is the river of the Sokokiois. The fourth is that of Kouinopeia [Quinnipiac, or New Haven], 10 leagues from the 3rd. This last has only 4 or 6 villages, upon the coast in the direction of Manathé [Manhattan, or New York], from which it is distant some 30 leagues. From Manathé to the largest English settlement, the distance is 20 leagues. All these 4 colonies are united by articles of confederation, one of which requires that no individual colony may take any measures for any war whatever, without the knowledge and decision of the assembly of states for the whole country; this is called the council or court of commissioners, who are 8 in number. . . . Besides this council of states for the whole country, each separate colony has its own council, - composed of its governor and vice-governor, and a certain number of councilors, whom they call 'magistrates.' This separate council gives hearing to causes, according as they arise during the year. All the officers of this special court are appointed and confirmed in the month of May, which is the time at which the general court for the entire colony is held,-that is, the upper chamber, composed of the more important men of the colony; and the lower chamber, composed of deputies from the people. This court assembles in the principal village of the colony. It was the special court of Boston which gave me audience, after having invited me to dine, on the 13th of December." This letter is probably one of those mentioned in the Journ. des Jésuites as received at Quebec, May 29, 1651.

Winslow's friendly treatment of Druillettes is rendered more conspicuous by the act passed in 1647 by the Massachusetts colony, expelling Jesuits from its territory (Hazard's Hist. Colls., vol. i., p. 550).

12 (p. 89).— Thomas Dudley was at this time the governor of Massachusetts; he was deputy-governor at the inception of the colony (1629), and filled that office thirteen times; he was also, in other years, major-general of the militia. He died July 31, 1653. Rogsbray: Roxbury.

13 (p. 91).— Druillettes was referred to the authorities of Plymouth, regarding the interests of his Abenaki converts, because of that colony's proprietorship in lands on the Kennebec. The grant of these lands was originally made (1628) to Bradford, Winslow, and other Plymouth colonists; it was held by them until 1640, and then surrendered to the colony at large. The deed therefor is known as "the Kennebec Patent," and is the original source of land-titles for the tract extending from the towns of Woolwich and Topsham to the Wesserunsett River. This patent was owned by the Plymouth colony until Oct. 27, 1661, when it was sold to John Winslow and others, for £400 sterling. The above-named tract was occupied chiefly by the Canibas or Norridgewock Indians (note 6, ante).

14 (p. 91).—By "Jehan Brentford" is meant William Bradford, long the governor of Plymouth colony. The "five farmers of Koussinoc" are the merchants to whom the Kennebec trade was, in 1649, leased by the colony for a term of three years; these were, according to Williamson (Maine, p. 366), Bradford, Winslow, Thomas Prince, Thomas Willett, and William Paddy (Padis, as phonetically rendered by Druillettes).

15 (p. 91).—John Eliot, the noted apostle to the Indians; he was one of those supported by the society mentioned in note 8, ante.

16 (p. 91).—This was William Hibbins; in 1641, he was one of three deputies sent to England in the interests of the colony; and, during 1644-54, was one of the Board of Assistants.

17 (p. 93).—Gibbons was a friend of Charles de la Tour (vol. xxviii., note 30), and aided him with large sums of money, for which La Tour mortgaged his fort and plantation on St. John River (Hazard's Hist. Colls., pp. 541-544); but, this property being seized by D'Aulnay, Gibbons and other Boston merchants lost heavily thereby.

In the Ferland copy of the Narré, the blank space in line 21, p. 93 of this volume is occupied by the word Rouen. Garneau (Canada, t. i., p. 164) thus speaks of La Tour's occupation at this time: "Aided by some friends whom he had in New England, he undertook furtrading at Hudson Bay. The news of the death of Charnisay recalled him to Acadia in 1651."

18 (p. 93).—This letter to Winthrop is given on pp. 75-81 of the . present volume.

19 (p. 95).— Morbletz: Marblehead. The town was first settled in 1629, and incorporated May 2, 1649. The minister mentioned in our text was William Walton, whose preaching probably began in 1638; although not regularly ordained, he acted as pastor of the little church in Marblehead until his death, October, 1668. In 1648, the number of families in the town was forty-four.

In 1623, an English settlement was formed at Cape Ann, but removed, three years later, to Naumkeag. In June, 1628, John Endicott—who, with others, had obtained a grant of this territory, known, soon after, as Massachusetts Bay—conducted other settlers to Naumkeag, which name was then changed to Salem.

20 (p. 97).— Peskatigwet: Piscataqua (Pascataqua, as spelled by some authorities). Reference is here made to the settlement at the mouth of Piscataqua River, established in 1623 by David Thomson, in the grant made to Ferdinando Gorges and John Mason (Aug. 10, 1622; replaced by a new patent in 1630) of lands between the Merrimac and Kennebec, afterward New Hampshire. This plantation was relinquished (about 1641), and the inhabitants of this and neighboring settlements sought the protection of the Massachusetts colony, which gradually extended its jurisdiction over all this region, although the heirs of Mason were its nominal proprietors.

The province of New Hampshire was not organized by the English government until Sept. 18, 1679. The Piscataqua settlement was the beginning of the present city of Portsmouth, N. H.

21 (p. 97).—Gorges and Mason (see preceding note) divided their grant in 1634, Gorges taking the lands east of the Piscataqua. In the same year, Edward Godfrey was granted 12,000 acres on the north side of the Agamenticus (York) River, where he had, five years previously, begun a settlement. This place was called Agamenticus (or Accomenticus — an Indian name, said to mean "on the other side of the river"), until Mar. I, 1641; Gorges then conferred upon it a charter which erected the former borough into a city, and named it "Gorgeana." He had obtained a royal charter (Apr. 3, 1639), incorporating his territory into the "Province of Maine." After his death in 1647, Massachusetts laid claim to this province, a claim which was sustained; and, in November, 1652, these settlements came under the authority of Massachusetts, Gorgeana being named York.

Chapellier: this was Nicholas Shapleigh. long a prominent citizen of York.

22 (p. 101).— The first settlement of Connecticut was made in October, 1633, a trading post being then established by a few persons from Plymouth, where is now the town of Windsor. In 1636, Hartford was founded by Thomas Hooker and Thomas Shepard. The first governor of Connecticut was John Winthrop (note 3, ante).

Colonists from England, recently arrived in Massachusetts, headed by Theophilus Eaton and John Davenport, formed a settlement (April, 1638) at Quinnipiack (or Quinnepiac—the "Kwinopeia" of Druillettes), on Long Island Sound. They named their town New Haven, Sept. 1, 1640. Other plantations united with this one, and (October, 1643) the colony of New Haven was duly constituted, its first governor being Eaton. At this time, the population of the town of New Haven was 122 persons.

23 (p. 101).—La Tour, in his contest with D'Aulnay, applied to Massachusetts for aid (June, 1643); this was refused, but he was allowed to hire vessels and enlist volunteers within the colony, at his own expense.

24 (p. 101).—Concerning the Sokoki tribe, see vol. xxiv., note 15. Drake, Maurault, and others regard them as Abenakis; but Ruttenber (Hudson R. Tribes, pp. 59, 85) claims that they were one of the Mahican (Mohegan) tribes.

Pagamptagwe (Pocomptuk): the Indian name of the site of Deerfield, Conn.

Penagouc: the Penacook tribe (also called Nipmuck) of New Hampshire; located on the Merrimac River and near Concord.

25 (p. 103).— Noutchihuict: this tribe cannot be positively identified, but may possibly have been the Wappinger clan of Nochpeems, located at Canopus, Putnam county, N. Y. (Ruttenber, utsupra, p. 80).

26 (p. 107).—This confederation of the four colonies (Massachusetts, Plymouth, New Haven, and Connecticut) was formed May 19, 1643,—largely in consequence of disputes with the Dutch colonies on the Hudson, by which the welfare of the English settlements in the Connecticut valley was menaced. The union lasted until 1684, the last meeting of its commissioners occurring on September 5 of that year. For particulars of its organization, see Palfrey's New England (ed. 1858), vol. i., pp. 623-634.

27 (p. 109).—Reference is here made to an act of the English Parliament (dated Oct. 3, 1650), "prohibiting trade with Barbadoes, Virginia, Bermudas, and Antego." In accordance therewith, the general court of Massachusetts passed an act of similar tenor, May 7, 1651,—which, however, was substantially repealed, October 14 following (Hazard's Hist. Colls., vol. i., pp. 553, 558).—See Channing's "Navigation Laws," Amer. Antiq. Soc. Proc., new series, vol. vi. (Worcester, 1890), pp. 160-179.

28 (p. 111).—Maryland was colonized by Cecil Calvert, Lord Baltimore,—son of George Calvert, who had earlier attempted a settlement in Newfoundland (vol. v., note 11),—in 1634. The Baltimore family were Roman Catholic in faith, and took with them to the colony two English Jesuit priests, Andrew White and John Altham. Their first settlement was at St. Mary's, near the mouth of the Potomac,—the capital of the colony for sixty years, until the removal of the government to Annapolis (1694); this step eventually caused the abandonment of St. Mary's.

29 (p. 113).— This work of Drexel's (vol. xxviii., note 12) was Avrifodina Artium et scientiarum omnium (Munich and Antwerp, 1638).

30 (p. 115).—The reorganization of the colonial government of Canada in 1647-48 (vol. viii., p. 309) involved considerable reductions in salaries and other expenses. "The 19,000 francs thus saved were to be employed in forming, without delay, a 'flying camp' of forty soldiers,—taken from the garrisons already existing, if that number of available men were to be found therein; if not, a levy for them was made, as soon as possible. This camp guarded the roads by land and water; in winter, they returned to the garrisons, and scouted through the country" (Sulte's Canad.-Français, t. iii., p. 14). Its commander was Charles d'Ailleboust (vol. xxxv., note 17).

31 (p. 115).— Mathieu Chourel (Choret) was in the service of the Jesuits in 1645, the time of his arrival from France. In 1647, at Quebec, he married Sébastienne Veillon, and three years later was living at Beauport (Sulte's Canad.-Français, t. ii., p. 144). He died in March, 1664, at Quebec.

32 (p. 117).—This was Eléonore de Grandmaison (vol. xi., note 12), widow of François de Chavigny (vol. xxvii., note 6).

33 (p. 117).—Buteux's journal of his missionary voyage is given at the end of the Relation of 1651, post.

34 (p. 117).— Eustache Lambert was born in 1618. He is first mentioned in Canadian affairs as returning from the Huron country in 1646. He was, at least until 1651, in the service of the Jesuits. In 1656, he married Marie Laurence, at Quebec, and became a merchant, dying there in July, 1673.

35 (p. 119).—One of the Huron clans, located at Scanonaenrat, or St. Michel (vol. viii., note 38).

36 (p. 119).—Ahwendoe, or Christian Island (vol. xxxiv., note 13, and p. 252). Martin mentions (Bressani, p. 36, note 4) the relics found there in 1848,—"fragments of Indian collars, made of real wampum, white and red; rings and a medal of copper; human bones; and a mould for shaping the consecrated wafers." A. F. Hunter says of this mould: "It bore three letters, I. H. S. Dr. E. W. Bawtree (vol. v., p. 295) secured it for his collection of relics."

Hunter sends us the following additional list of relics found in the Huron country, in which he includes "only such as may be reasonably believed to have been actually those of the missionaries."

"At Ste. Marie-on-the-Wye were found several iron tools and other articles, which are in the Ontario Archæological Museum (nos. 11702-11712); also a small pair of brass compasses (no. 5672). At Ste. Marie on Christian Island, brass utensils bearing French inscriptions, and several French coins of that period; the melted remains of the chapel bell were also found, some years ago, in a corner of the ruins, by Peter York, an Indian. The other stone fort near this appears to have been an outpost tor the protection of the surrounding Huron settlements. On Beausoleil (or Prince William Henry,— probably Du Creux's Ondiotana) Island, a fragment of a sash, now in Dr. Bawtree's collection; also (in 1889) several articles, which are in the Ontario Museum,— three double-barred crosses (nos. 5650-5652), two white metal brooches (nos. 5659, 5666), a brass knife-handle (no. 5665), and a piece of cloth with bangles (no. 5671). Among various articles presented (1887) to the Canadian Institute by Rev. T. F. Laboreau (vol. v., p. 297), are a photograph of a letter written on birch-bark, and a seal ring engraved with the letters I. H. S. (no. 5705, Ontario Museum); this ring was found in a bonepit at the supposed site of Ossossané. Four rings, similarly inscribed, were found in the Bowman ossuary, Flos township,—a place supposed to be at or near the site of the St. Michel mission. The rings seem to indicate that some baptized Indians had been interred with others. Another ring of this sort was found at the village site on the Crawford farm, Tiny township."—See Boyle's Archæological Reports—2nd, p. 11; 3rd, p. 49; 4th, pp. 64, 67; 8th, p. 42; also, Hunter's article "Ahoendoe," in Indian (Hagersville, Ont.), 1886, p. 217.

37 (p. 121).—Nicolas Pinel came with his family from La Rochelle; Tanguay says that he died at the hospital, on the day here mentioned, from a wound received in this attack. His son Gilles, born in 1635, married Anne Ledet in 1657; he died in January, 1700.

Charles Gauthier (Gaultier), surnamed Boisverdun, came from Paris; in 1646, he was at Three Rivers. Ten years later, he married Catherine le Camus; they resided, at various times, at Quebec and other neighboring settlements. Gauthier died in February, 1703.

38 (p. 121).— This was Claire Françoise, daughter of Madame de Monceaux (vol. xxxv., note 3); she married Denis Joseph d'Auteuil, an official in the French court. At the time here referred to, her husband and mother were both in France. Courville's name is apparently mentioned only in the Journal.

39 (p. 123).— Nicolas Peltier (Pelletier), a native of Beauce, came to Canada at least as early as 1636, with his wife, Jeanne Roussy; they had eight children. He died before 1675.

40 (p. 125).—"Big Jean" was the nickname given to Jean Boudart. His wife was Catherine Mercier; they had one child, who died in infancy (1649).

41 (p. 125).—Michel Chauvin, born 1617, was surnamed Ste. Suzanne (Susane), from his birthplace in Maine, France. He married Anne Archambault; they had three children.

Urbain Tessier, surnamed Lavigne, a native (1624) of Angers, probably came to Canada in 1647 or 1648. In the latter year, he married Marie Archambault, then twelve years old, and settled in Montreal; they had seventeen children. He died there in March, 1689.

42 (p. 127).—Druillettes and Godefroy were duly commissioned by the Council of Quebec as its ambassadors to the authorities of New England. Their letter of credentials, and a letter from that

Council to the Commissioners of New England, are preserved in the Government Archives of Quebec; these documents were published by Charlevoix (Nouv. France, t. i., pp. 287-289), and by Shea in his Cramoisy series (no. 19). A translation by Shea is given in N. Y. Hist. Colls., 2nd series, vol. iii., part 1, pp. 322-325. They propose commercial relations between the French and the English colonies; and an alliance, offensive and defensive, against the Iroquois. Hazard (Hist. Colls., vol. ii., pp. 183-185) gives the answer of the New England commissioners to these proposals from the French, which were declined.

43 (p. 131).— The widow of the late governor of Acadia (vol. xxx., note 19); his enemy for many years, Charles de la Tour, returned to Acadia in this year (1651), and afterward married Madame d'Aulnay.— See note regarding D'Aulnay in Mass. Hist. Colls., 4th series, vol. iv., pp. 462-470; also Parkman's "Feudal Chiefs of Acadia," Atlantic Mo., vol. lxxi., pp. 25-31, 201-213. Cf. document regarding these two families, in Quebec Lit. and Hist. Soc. Journ., vol. iii., no. 3 (1835).

44 (p. 131).— The Relation of 1645-46 mentions this people (vol. xxx., p. 87) as a group of both Algonkin and Huron refugees. Their retreat, at that time considered "inaccessible to the enemy," cannot be definitely located; but it was probably on the north side of Severn River, in Baxter (or possibly Wood) township.

45 (p. 133).— Étienne Racine, born in Normandy (1607), came to Canada in 1636 or 1637; in May, 1638, he married Marguerite, daughter of Abraham Martin, by whom he had nine children. This family lived at Beaupré, and were among its earliest settlers. Racine died in 1689.

46 (p. 133).—Leonard Lucot (also called Barbot) married, at Montreal (1643), Barbe Poisson.

47 (p. 135).— Antoine Desrosiers, a native of Lyons, born 1619, came to Three Rivers in 1641. He married (1649) Anne du Hérisson,— niece of Jacques de la Poterie (vol. viii., note 58),— by whom he had eight children. Desrosiers was judge of the seigniory of Champlain; he died there in August, 1691.

48 (p. 137).—" Here the marginal note does not agree with the text; but it should be observed that this note is not from the hand ot Father Ragueneau, and that it must have been written at least over fifteen years later,— for it is from the same hand which apparently went over the entire Journal, in order to complete the marginal notes or to supply the lack of them, as here at the time of Father Ragueneau" (Quebec ed. of Journal, p. 159, note 1).

49 (p. 141).— Atra'kwae: the Andastes (vol. viii., p. 301), as we are informed by the Journal, under date of July 5, 1652. Laverdière (in index to Journal) regards this as a variant of Akrakwaé; he probably has in mind the Akhrakuaeronons mentioned in Relation of 1640 (vol. xviii., p. 233).

Teot'ondiaton (Teotongniaton): the Neutral village where was located the mission of St. Guillaume (vol. xxi., note 18). As we have now reached, in this series, the time of the destruction of the Neutral tribes, we may here add to the information already given in our Notes the following letter received from Mr. James H. Coyne (dated Apr. 22, 1898), regarding the sites of Neutral villages. Referring to Sanson's map (1656), - which is doubtless based upon reports made by the Jesuit missionaries sent to that tribe, and upon Ragueneau's map (mentioned in vol. xviii., p. 235),-and its general accuracy, Mr. Coyne says: "The location of the Indian villages near the north shore of Lake Erie, and the absence of any indication of the Thames River, coupled with its fairly accurate knowledge of the Lake Erie tributaries, would seem to point to a highway of Indian travel, nearly coinciding with the present Talbot Road,-which latter, as we are told by early settlers, followed an Indian trail. (Cf. Mitchell's map of 1756 or 1757, and Galinée's Journal.) N.-D. des Anges, Alexis, St. Joseph, and St. Michel would be all on or near this main trail, except the first, which would be on the trail from Brantford to Port Dover. According to Sanson's map, Alexis coincides with the Southwold Earthwork; it is the only village on the map answering the description of Tsohahissen's village" (vol. xxi., note 17).

50 (p. 143).—Reference is here made to a Denis (Denys) family of whom Sulte gives a sketch (Canad.-Français, t. iii., pp. 56-57). Its head was Simon Denis, sieur de Vitré, born (1599) at St. Vincent de Tours, France—probably a brother of Nicolas Denys, governor of Acadia; he had recently come to Canada with two sons of manly years, and a second wife, by whom he had a numerous family. In 1650, he obtained from the Jesuits a tract of land on which was constructed, within this (nineteenth) century, the present citadel of Quebec. His eldest son, Pierre, married (1655) a daughter of Jacques de la Poterie, and was prominent in military affairs. The second son, Charles, was a member of the Supreme Council of New France.

51 (p. 145).—For sketch of De Lauson, see vol. vi., note 2. The marriage with Anne Després, there noted, was not his, but that of his son Jean (see following note).

52 (p. 145).—M. le Senechal: Jean de Lauson the younger, eldest son of the governor. A new office had been recently created in Canada, that of grand seneschal (first mentioned in an act dated Mar. 13, 1651); and it was nominally filled by the younger De Lauson, although his youth and lack of experience made it necessary to appoint a more suitable man to administer the functions of the office. This was Nicolas le Vieux, sieur de Hauteville, who was named lieutenant-general in both civil and criminal cases. De Lauson married, a few days after his arrival (as mentioned above), Anne Després, by whom he had six children; his daughters became Ursuline nuns. He was slain by the Iroquois, June 22, 1661.

Another son of the governor was Louis, sieur de la Citière. He married (Oct. 5, 1655) Catherine Nau; and his death must have occurred before July, 1659, as Catherine's second marriage is then recorded.

René Robineau, sieur de Bécancour (son of Pierre, an early member of the Hundred Associates), born at Paris (1629), came to Canada in 1645; he is mentioned in Journ. des Jésuites as siding with the habitants in their complaints against the public officials, in January, 1646 (vol. xxviii., p. 157). He obtained (April, 1647) from the company a grant of the lands comprising the seigniory of Bécancour; and in October, 1652, married Marie, daughter of Jacques de la Poterie, by whom he had nine children. In 1657, he secured a grant, within the present limits of Quebec, from the Hundred Associates, of which company he was a member (apparently from 1651 to 1663). In 1671, he became, through his wife, proprietor of the seigniory of Portneuf, and established there his residence. He is mentioned as one of the commanders of the Canadian militia in 1684, and died at Quebec, in December, 1699.

53 (p. 147).—For sketch of Godefroy, see vol. ix., note 4; concerning his embassy with Druillettes, see note 42, ante.

54 (p. 173).—The house to which the Ursulines removed, soon after the destruction of their convent (p. 113 of this volume), was one belonging to Madame de la Peltrie, as appears from a letter written by Marie de l'Incarnation to her son, dated Sept. 3, 1651, see Richardeau's (new) edition of her Lettres (Tournai, 1876), pp. 445-447. The superioress gives therein a circumstantial account of the burning of the old convent, the charity manifested toward its destitute inmates, and the erection of their new home, then in progress. To commence this building, she says, the Jesuit Fathers lent them 8,000 livres,—" but, at the time of this writing, we owe them certainly 15,000; and before our building is finished, we shall be indebted more than 20,000, without mentioning conveniences and furniture inside."

55 (p. 175) .- Instruction for the boys of the French families in Quebec was early undertaken by the Jesuits. The Relation of 1636 states (vol. viii., p. 227) that these boys were taught by Lalemant in 1635, and De Quen in 1636. The Catalogues of the order show that Davost was officially designated as their teacher during 1637-42. After the burning of the Jesuit residence and church in 1640 (vol. xix., p. 65), the Fathers maintained at least elementary instruction, until their house was rebuilt (1650). The instructor mentioned in our text was probably Martin Boutet (vol. xxvii., note 20).—See Rochemonteix's Jésuites, t. ii., pp. 156, 157.

The college at Quebec, founded by the liberality of Marquis de Gamache (vol. ix., note 32), had also been conducted by the Jesuits up to this time. Ragueneau thus mentions it, in a letter to the general dated October, 1651 (a French translation of which, by Martin, is in the archives of St. Mary's College, Montreal): "The College of Quebec has supported 10 Fathers and 6 brethren, . . . but 2 of these Fathers were occupied with the Hurons, and a 3rd has gone to the Abnaquiois; 3 are at the parish church; 2 give instruction in grammar and mathematics; the 9th is director and minister. Sixteen boys have attended the classes." Another letter of the same Father, dated Oct. 8, 1650, assigns to the college a larger staff,—"ten Fathers, seven brethren, twelve donnés, and six servants (to whom alone wages are paid)."—Rochemonteix, ut supra. p. 158, note.

56 (p. 193).— The defensive wall at Sillery, here mentioned, was begun in 1649, "with the Community's funds,— that is, the 19,000 livres appropriated by the king for the affairs of the country" (vol. xxxiv., p. 63). Moreover, the lands at Sillery were granted to the Indian colony there resident (by act dated Mar. 13, 1651), but "under the management and direction of the Jesuit Fathers."

57 (p. 203).—Ragueneau wrote to the general, Oct. 8, 1650 (the letter cited in note 55, ante): "The Hurons number 300 souls; and as many more will come before winter." A year later, he writes: "Father Gareau and Father Chaumonot are in charge of the Hurons, who have cost us this year more than 5,000 livres for their support. . . War and pestilence have destroyed over 10,000 Hurons. . . We are expecting a new colony of 36 Huron cances. In order to provide for this expense, we shall use the peltries brought for them last year from their own country, which are worth 20,000 livres."

In their labors for the savages, the Jesuits received aid from the French government, as well as from private persons. The king granted to the Canadian mission (July, 1651) letters patent, "giving them rights of fishery in all lands acquired by them in both North and South America, and permission to establish themselves in all Islands, or places on the mainland, wherever it shall seem good to them, in America." The patent also confirms and continues — even binding upon the king's successors — the annual grant of 5,000 livres which had been made by a royal decree of Mar. 27, 1647. The above document is in the Dominion Archives at Ottawa, Ont.

58 (p. 227).—Concerning these Capuchin missions, see vol. xxx., note 22. Shea, as there cited, states, on Tanguay's authority, that the Capuchin De Mante personally visited the Sillery mission in 1648.
